Berrien Springs Man Facing Arms Counts

By JOHN EYE
 Staff Berrien Bureau
 BERRIEN SPRINGS — A man who allegedly asked a

Berrien Springs machinist to make him a silencer for a rifle was arrested yesterday on state and federal charges by police who said they confiscated the silencer mounted on a rifle and a pistol from him and a submachine gun from another man.

Arrested was Jerry Banks, 26, 698 Kephart lane, Berrien Springs, according to Patrolman Fred Foster of the Berrien Springs village-Oronoko township police department.

Banks was arrested on a federal charge of possession of a silencing device and on a state charge of carrying a concealed weapon, Foster said.

Banks was scheduled to be arraigned today in Berrien Fifth District court on the state charge and then transported to Grand Rapids for arraignment in U.S. District court on the federal charge, Foster said.

The officer said Banks was arrested about 3:30 p.m. yesterday when police stopped a car on US-31-53 just north of Berrien Springs.

Police officers and federal agent John Gates reported they took a silencing device attached to the barrel of a .22 caliber semi-automatic rifle from the car and a loaded .23 caliber automatic pistol from the driver.

Subsequent questioning led to the confiscation of the M-3 .45 caliber submachine gun from another Berrien Springs area man who will not be charged, said Gates, an agent for the federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms. He declined to identify the man who had the submachine gun.

Gates and Foster said the investigation leading to the arrest began about two years ago when they learned a Berrien Springs machinist had been asked to make a silencer for a weapon.

The officers declined to iden-

DOUBTS SHOULD BE EXAMINED

Nuclear Expert Says Plants Safe

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A professor at Massachusetts Institute of Technology says nuclear plants are extremely safe, but that doubts expressed by three nuclear engineers who resigned their jobs should be carefully examined. Prof. Norman Rasmussen, chairman of MIT's department of nuclear engineering, told a forum Friday night that nuclear accidents are 10,000 times less likely to happen than other accidents such as dam failures and plane crashes.

Rasmussen said it is more likely an airliner will crash into a crowded stadium than that a nuclear accident will occur.

Others at MIT's forum on nuclear reactor safety called for conservation of present energy sources and the development of alternative power sources such as solar, wind and hydroelectric production.

Three middle-level executives with General Electric's nuclear division resigned their jobs recently to warn the public of what they said is a nuclear power plant peril.

One of the three, Dale Bridenbaugh, told a news conference in Brattleboro, Vt., Friday that problems at the Vermont Yankee nuclear plant make a major accident a definite possibility.

Bridenbaugh said the design of Vermont Yankee's safety pressure chamber is similar to that in 18 other reactors built by General Electric.

The Vermont Yankee plant reopened this week after being closed briefly for corrective work.

Asked about Bridenbaugh's claim, Rasmussen said, "I am told all the other plants have different mechanisms, but we must consider that Bridenbaugh did work on those calculations."

Prof. Henry Kendall of MIT's physics department said, "If three people who devoted their professional careers give up and tell me they are worried, I want to listen."

Rasmussen, director of an Atomic Energy Commission study on nuclear reactor safety, warned: "Historical sources of energy are being dried up. Nuclear opponents drop all the comparisons and say only that it is too dangerous. I can show you many other things that are more dangerous such as riding in elevators."

Rasmussen said the likelihood of a nuclear core melt down is one in 20,000 per plant per year, and the possibility of a major release of radioactivity is about one in 100,000 reactor years.

Prof. Barry Commoner, professor of environmental science at Washington University in St. Louis, claimed nuclear plants do have risks and said, "The benefits of nuclear power are zero."

MIT professor George Rathjens, chairman of the Massachusetts Governor's Commission on Nuclear Safety, said, "I see no move to clean up sulfur coal. I see no real move to conservation in this country."

"In view of this, I fear we are stuck with nuclear energy and I'm prepared to go along with it. It's probably safer than coal," he said.

Berrien Action Spokesman Denies Shoddy Work Charge

By MIKE WYNGARDEN
 Staff Writer

Silas Legg, program planner for Berrien County Action's home winterizing program, said yesterday that there was no basis for complaints by Hubert Gabbard that BCA's work on his home was "shoddy."

"We did all we were allowed to do," Legg said. "It is unfortunate that many people try to browbeat us into rehabilitating their homes which is against the guidelines."

Gabbard charged in a story in The Herald-Palladium Thursday that insulation and weatherproofing work done by BCA on his home at 1322 East Napier avenue, Benton township, was "shoddy."

His complaints included charges that windows have been covered with sheet plastic instead of repaired, that low-grade lumber was used for both interior and exterior work, that fiberglass insulation has been installed poorly and that a hole was left open in a bedroom ceiling for three days while insulation was being installed in the attic.

Legg said that Gabbard wanted the workers to install windows and window frames in an uncompleted addition. He said this was not allowed under the guidelines set by the state funding agency of the program. Instead, Legg said, the workers covered the addition with plastic.

"The sole function of the program is to conserve energy," Legg said. "This project is not a crutch to lean on and that must be understood. We work to keep the cold out and the heat in."

Legg said the hole in the ceiling was made to install insulation in the attic and will be repaired after the insulation is completed. He said the BCA workers are continuing to work on the home and expect to complete it within the next few days.

He also said that uneven glazing of a window shown in a photograph with the article Thursday was "not there when the workers left the project."

Gabbard said the job was a Report Heroin Seized

NILES — State police from the Niles post said they arrested a Brownsville, Texas, man near here yesterday afternoon and confiscated what they believe to be an ounce of uncut heroin worth an estimated $2,500.

Troopers said Salvador Villarreal, 24, demanded examination when arraigned yesterday in Berrien Fifth District court in Niles on two counts of delivery (sale) of heroin.

Police said he failed to post a bond of $100,000 ($50,000 on each count) and was remanded to the Berrien county jail in St. Joseph.

The arrest was made by an undercover state police narcotics investigator about 12:30 p.m. yesterday at the corner of Fifth and Broadway streets in Niles, troopers said.

Police declined to release other details of the investigation which led to the arrest.

Trial For Stealing $5.99 Shirt Has $750 Price Tag In Berrien

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
 Staff Writer

A trial costing about $750 was held Friday in Berrien Circuit court for a man accused of stealing a $5.99 shirt. Convicted of larceny in a building during the one-day trial was Charles Ray McKay, 27, of 1183 Beverly court, Benton township, who remained jailed in lieu of $2,500 bond to await sentencing of up to four years in prison. Jurors in Judge Julian E. Hughes' court deliberated only 20 minutes before convicting McKay of stealing the shirt from Woolworth's in Fairplain Plaza on Nov. 8. County Administrator William Evans said the trial cost the county about $750, computed by prorating salaries of court personnel and the attorneys plus jury and witness fees and mileage.

Assistant Prosecutor Quentin Fulcher, who tried the case, said he had offered to let McKay plead guilty to a reduced charge of petty larceny to avoid trial, but when McKay refused, the case went to trial. Defense attorney Richard Globensky stated his client offered to plead guilty to the charge immediately before trial, but Fulcher would not accept the plea. Fulcher said witnesses had already arrived at court, including one from the state police crime laboratory in Holland, so he refused the plea offer. The crime lab technician testified as a fingerprint expert.

Catholic Students Burned In Science Class Project

Six eighth grade students at Lake Michigan Catholic middle school, Benton Harbor, sustained burns Friday morning when alcohol ignited during a science class laboratory project, according to Principal Robert Schmid.

Five of the students were treated and released at Mercy hospital. Patrick McRae, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. McRae, 1955 Elm terrace, Fairplain, was admitted to Memorial hospital. He was reported in "good" condition Saturday morning with first and second degree burns on the face, upper arms and shoulders.

Treated and released at Mercy were Barry Bublik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bublik; Kurt Wolak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wolak; Tom Hughes, son of Judge and Mrs. Julian Hughes; Dave Robinson, son of Atty. and Mrs. Thomas Robinson; and Nancy Conrad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Conrad.

Schmid said the accident occurred in a class taught by Richard Shields.

U-M Scientists Find Zinc Allays Sickle Cell Anemia

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — University of Michigan researchers have reported successful results in treating sickle cell anemia patients with high doses of zinc, a non-toxic metal.

George E. Brewer, professor of human genetics, says the new medication has been effective in easing painful symptoms of the disease and in decreasing the number of abnormal blood cells in the patient's system.

The hereditary anemia affects persons of African or Mediterranean descent, and one in 400 American blacks has the severe, crippling form of the disease.

Brewer says close observation of the blood of sickle cell anemia patients who have taken zinc, a common trace metal found in the body, shows that the drug actually seems to decrease the number of abnormal red cells in these patients.

muscles, kidneys and other organs. Brewer says the zinc may work by preventing abnormal hemoglobin from clumping on the inside of the red cell membrane and causing permanent deformation of the cell's normal round shape.

Brewer, in connection with researchers at Michigan and Wayne State University, based his findings on the clinical use of zinc in 20 patients over the last two years.

But Brewer cautions the results are tentative and tests on a larger group of patients are under way.

Upper Peninsula Land Lease Delayed

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The lease of thousands of acres of Upper Peninsula land is being delayed as state officials try to compromise with mining companies eyeing possible uranium caches in the U.P. "We don't want to have a lease sale and have nobody bid," said Robert Wood, head of the state Department of Natural Resources' lands division. "Yet we still want to protect environmental interests." Mining companies are objecting to proposed tough new wording of the DNR's all-minerals lease, which could bar companies from searching for minerals on land they already leased. Meanwhile, approval to lease 244,000 acres and the actual bidding on over 17,000 acres have been delayed, says Wood. At least three companies want the land, most of it in the western U.P., because they think soaring uranium prices may make mining the rocky area profitable.

Berrien Springs Man Facing Arms Counts

South Berrien Bureau
BERRIEN SPRINGS — A man who allegedly asked a

Berrien Springs machinist to make him a silencer for a rifle was arrested yesterday on state and federal charges by police who said they confiscated the silencer mounted on a rifle and a pistol from him and a submachine gun from another man. Arrested was Jerry Banks, 26, 888 Kephart lane, Berrien Springs, according to Patrolman Fred Foster of the Berrien Springs village-Oronoko township police department.

Banks was arrested on a federal charge of possession of a silencing device and on a state charge of carrying a concealed weapon, Foster said.

Banks was scheduled to be arraigned today in Berrien Fifth District court on the state charge and then transported to Grand Rapids for arraignment in U.S. District court on the federal charge, Foster said.

The officer said Banks was arrested about 3:30 p.m. yesterday when police stopped a car on US-31-33 just north of Berrien Springs.

Police officers and federal agent John Gates reported they took a silencing device attached to the barrel of a .22 caliber semi-automatic rifle from the car and a loaded .25 caliber automatic pistol from the driver.

Subsequent questioning led to the confiscation of the M-3 .45 caliber submachine gun from another Berrien Springs area man who will not be charged, said Gates, an agent for the federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms. He declined to identify the man who had the submachine gun.

Gates and Foster said the investigation leading to the arrest began about two years ago when they learned a Berrien Springs machinist had been asked to make a silencer for a weapon.

The officers declined to identify the shop but said the shop owner will not be charged. Foster said police have not been able to establish why the silencer had been sought.

Ford Upheld On Make-Work Plan

By a squeaky three-vote margin the U.S. Senate sustained President Ford's veto of a public works bill which his Democratic opposition claimed would move 600,000 persons off the unemployment rolls.

The day before the Senate acted, the House balloted 319-98 to override the veto. The override lost in the Senate 63-35. The winning margin in that 98 total would have had to be 66-32.

The voting followed pretty much as its sponsors intended it should, particularly in the House, all of whose 435 members, less a few exceptions, not seeking a return to its halls, came up for re-election this November.

This reminder from the calendar of Armageddon being less than six months distant prompted 56 of the Republican minority to jump into the Democratic pasture.

The Senate reaction followed closely but not quite enough for the reason that only a third of its membership is up for re-election this year. Twelve nervous G.O.P. members parted company with the White House on the question. The other 28 stood with Ford.

Helping to save the veto to a degree was a counterproposal by Michigan's Robert Griffin. He introduced a bill to authorize spending $780 million for an immediate 60,000 jobs.

The price tag on the Democrats' plans was $6.2 billion. This would have been split between a variety of public works projects, loans to business, and aid to cities and states laboring under recession shrunken local revenue.

Griffin's bill specifies immediate job creation in high unemployment pockets.

The Senate's decision probably closes the door against further

Congressional action this year. Griffin's bill has not even been examined by his colleagues, probably as he intended it to be, and the more influential House Democrats told reporters they shot their bolt on the public works proposition.

Finding a job in the past two years has not been all that easy. There are all manner of openings going begging for lack of qualified applicants, and as many or more applicants looking for situations in slow demand. Recently this imbalance is showing signs of lessening as a national trend, but it does hang on stubbornly from one sector to another. The Labor Department puts the nationwide unemployment rate at 7.8 per cent. Michigan's, however, is 13 per cent and in some localities such as Benton Harbor the ratio could be twice the statewide average.

The appeal in any make-work plan to alleviate this uneven stress is great and in 1933 the New Deal applied it to meet a national 25 per cent unemployment condition through the WPA which FDR's critics instantly labelled leaf raking projects.

The WPA was better than nothing, but it did not get at the basic causes of unemployment. This depressant did not start to lift significantly until private business began to recover its second wind, followed in a few years by the shift to rearmament as the prelude to the U.S. entering World War II.

Ford's recollection of that period evoked the proper criticism of the 1976 model as being even more vaguely designed and as being introduced at a time when the real need for it is disappearing.

Something Clicked At The Winter Olympics

Perhaps it was the natural beauty of the Tyrolean Alps, or the heavy security provided by Austrian police, but something clicked to make the XII Winter Olympics far more than just another sports spectacular.

There were surprises and upsets, disappointments and spectacular achievements at Innsbruck. But there was no terrorist violence, as some had feared there would be, and very little in the way of even minor disputes.

It was sportsmanship at its best and a credit to the spirit of the events. The final results were something of a surprise, with nations which traditionally have done poorly in the winter games (the United States among them) upsetting some of the long-time ice and snow champions.

Scandinavia, which dominated many of the contests for years, this time placed only Norway among the top five medal winners. The Soviet Union, with 13 gold medals and a total of 27 awards, ran away with first place. But from that point on down the line the contests were more evenly divided.

Win or lose, none of the teams which participated at Innsbruck need feel their efforts were in vain. The total effect was a boost for the winter games, and they all contributed to it.

That social conditions have undergone far-reaching changes in the last decade is not an overstatement. One place those changes are showing up is in population projections.

The Census Bureau found in 1975, for the second consecutive year, young American women want no more than two children. A trend is being established with lasting implications. Ten years ago similar surveys found fewer than half the young women wanting to limit their families to two children.

Many reasons are offered by the Census Bureau for the change, from economic conditions to the women's movement and an increasing awareness of population problems. One census official said a more subtle reason could be the rebelliousness of youth in the 1960s.

Smaller families in itself produces changes in lifestyles. More free time, lowered family consumption of some goods and services and quite possibly better family cohesiveness could be among them.

Reader Gives Support And Hints To Local Building Inspectors

Editor, The Twin City public is getting to know its inspection team in a way that causes resentment and confusion. When someone comes to your home unexpected and then proceeds to check every corner of your home one can't help but feel his privacy has been invaded. A police officer must have a search warrant to do this yet our inspectors come and go as they please.

The need for greater emphasis on safety and fire prevention in the home is essential. Approximately 8000 Americans die annually in building fires, 9 out of 10 being in the home. The year round program of inspections with special emphasis on rental property will surely prove to be a method of decreasing safety and fire hazards, but the success of this program hinges on the cooperation of the (taxpayer) homeowner and resident, so the public must have cause to respect the inspector because he is there to improve life safely condition of his dwelling place, and not there to usurp authority.

I believe it is of utmost importance that the owner be given the opportunity to be known to me until the renter called to find out what was happening.

There is no argument on my part with the citations, they were fair and in order and I intend to do more than their minimal requirements, but to make this program less offensive I offer the following suggestions:

— Notify property owner in advance so that he can contact the tenant.

— Select hours of visits carefully to avoid interruption of meals, etc.

— No inspection should be made during severe inclement weather to avoid mud or slush being dragged into the home.

— Allow more than 30 days to get into compliance.

— Owners of rental property that have brought their place into full compliance at the time of new occupancy should not be cited for poor housekeeping. This citation should be given to the resident.

— Leave a folder with the resident, one that would say thank you, and contain suggestions on home, fire and health safety.

— Self inspection forms should be made available for all concerned so they know what to look for. This would also ease the load for the city.

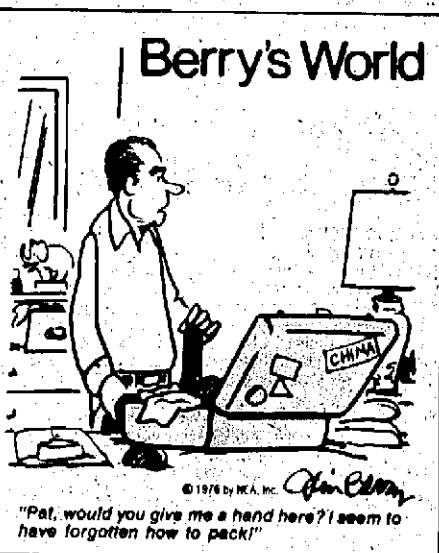

The only intent of this letter is to create better working relations. The resident must be sold on the idea that the inspection will be beneficial to his health and safety. Let's all do our part to make our community a great place to live.

Mao Survivors; His Man Is In WASHINGTON (NEA) — In the end, it appears, Chairman Mao Tse-tung may have won his 25-year struggle with Premier Chou En-lai for control of China — by outliving his rival.

Over the years, Chou and his associates twice managed to put Mao on the shelf — in an honorary and revered position, of course, but one which Mao himself has described as being on a marble pedestal in a museum.

On one such occasion, in the process of making a comeback, Mao created the Cultural Revolution, turning the ruling Communist party inside out and gripping China in a frenzy of terror and housecleaning for years — only to have Chou weather the storm and out-politic Mao. He gradually rebuilt the party structure in his image — and sandbagged Lin Biao, Mao's chosen successor and loyal lieutenant over more than three decades. While most anything is possible in China's faction-ridden politics, the Chou story — that Lin was conspiring to assassinate Mao — does not hold water. When one knows the principals involved and their past loyalties — not of a few years but of lifetimes.

Mao, on this comeback, as before, appointed a man intensely loyal to his own belief in radical action. From all that is known to date, Hua Kuo-feng, the new acting premier, is a man who zigs when Mao zigs and zags when Mao zags.

Apparently he believes, with Mao, that at this stage and for a long time to come, China's future lies in emphasis on agriculture, with industrial gains coming only through investment of those resources remaining after farmers get what they must have to meet Mao's goals.

Industrial gains, under this planning would be achieved as agriculture provided the capital to make the step-by-step improvements wanted. Or if foreign know-how could be brought in with no strings of no-political price — and without hampering agricultural progress.

If Mao is able to hold on to his initial victory certain matters seem clear.

First, there will be no quick end to China's deep suspicion of the Soviet Union — and no let-down in China's attempts to keep some sort of a relationship with the United States as a counter-balance to the USSR.

I know first hand of Mao's hatred and distrust of Moscow and all its works, and his conviction, based on his early experiences, that aggression — economic, political and military — are in the forefront of the Kremlin's thinking.

And Mao believes, as he has so forcefully expressed — once notably through an announcement by Lin Biao — that China can afford to have only one principal major enemy at a time if it is to survive in this uncertain world.

Mao also is an admirer of U.S. science and technology and industrial know-how. There is some evidence that he would like to tie in with this technology, but probably not under conditions profitable to American private companies.

Veep Candidate Has An Issue

Though you have not heard much about him from the media so far, an extremely interesting and intelligent little time-bomb is ticking away in the New Hampshire primary.

But just wait until those first returns come in on February 24 from Dixville Notch and all or most of them record a choice for vice president: Wallace Johnson.

Who? Wallace Johnson. He is a formidable individual and he has come up with a formidable issue. Last July, members of Congress voted themselves guaranteed protection against inflation — something very few ordinary Americans can possess.

As the summer recess approached, this Inflation Protection rider was tacked onto an obscure bill affecting safety rules for postal employees. The measure raised congressional pay to $44,625 per year, and, more important, guaranteed periodic pay raises to keep congressional salaries and those of 17,000 other Federal officials abreast of inflation.

By thus indexing their own salaries into the inflationary spiral, congressmen insulated themselves against the effects of their own inflationary votes. Because of huge Federal deficits, the direct result of congressional spending, the value of the dollar declines every year, Congressmen have now made sure that, as the phrase goes, they are all right, Jack.

The way in which the measure was enacted last summer strongly resembles a second-story job. Not only was it slipped into the postal workers' safety legislation, but it was voted on and signed into law by President Gerald Ford within five days, all of this taking place just before Congress went on vacation.

During its first year, the measure will cost the taxpayers $4 million; the amount escalating thereafter as the Inflation Protection costs ever larger numbers of cheapening dollars. Wallace Johnson seized upon this issue the way a mongoose grabs a cobra. Johnson is a small, bright, highly articulate man, and an impeccable dresser in gray suit and dark loafers. He is a successful businessman and rancher who occupied the unelectable post of mayor of Berkeley, Calif., from 1963 to 1971, the period when Berkeley was the Khe Sahn East.

Outraged by this piece of congressional gall, he first filed a taxpayer's suit in San Francisco Federal Court challenging the constitutionality of the measure. Doing some research, he also found that it is possible to run for the vice presidential nomination in the New Hampshire primary.

In New Hampshire, Wallace Johnson and his message seem to be catching on. "I am in this primary to make the American people aware of an incredible situation," he declares. "The politicians who are supposed to be trying to control inflation don't have to worry personally about our number one national problem any more. By enacting this pay-raise legislation, they have completely insulated themselves from the inflation we citizens have to face every day."

Wallace Johnson jumps out of bed early and campaigns all day. He has visited local editors all over the state and received widespread editorial support. He appears on radio talk shows, and in local coffee klatches. And he has thrown some of the "Major" politicians into a panicky flap.

Both Jimmy Carter and Ronald Reagan have come out for repeal of the Inflation Protection. Carter himself scrawled off a friendly note to Johnson signed "Jimmy" and characterizing the Inflation Protection as "ridiculous legislation."

Newly elected N.H. Sen. John Durkin has returned his pay raise to the U.S. Treasury, and exhibits at every opportunity a Xerox copy of his check.

N.H. Congressman James Cleveland is the coauthor of House Resolution 9308, which would repeal the Inflation Protection. But Cleveland is also President Ford's campaign manager, and the Ford Administration supports and indeed helped to engineer the Inflation Protection measure.

As an advocate of repeal, Wallace Johnson in New Hampshire is giving the voters a chance for a referendum on blue-sky Federal spending.

Ford Upheld On Make-Work Plan

By a squeaky three-vote margin the U.S. Senate sustained President Ford's veto of a public works bill which his Democratic opposition claimed would move 600,000 persons off the unemployment rolls.

The day before the Senate acted, the House balloted 319-98 to override the veto. The override lost in the Senate 63-35. The winning margin in that 98 total would have had to be 66-32.

The voting followed pretty much as its sponsors intended it should, particularly in the House, all of whose 435 members, less a few exceptions not seeking a return to its halls, come up for re-election this November.

This reminder from the calendar of Armageddon being less than six months distant prompted 56 of the Republican minority to jump into the Democratic pasture.

The Senate reaction followed closely but not quite enough for the reason that only a third of its membership is up for re-election this year. Twelve nervous G.O.P. members parted company with the White House on the question. The other 26 stood with Ford.

Helping to save the veto to a degree was a counterproposal by Michigan's Robert Griffin. He introduced a bill to authorize spending $780 million for an immediate 60,000 jobs.

The price tag on the Democrats' plans was $6.2 billion. This would have been split between a variety of public works projects, loans to business, and aid to cities and states laboring under recession shrunken local revenue.

Griffin's bill specifies immediate job creation in high unemployment pockets.

The Senate's decision probably closes the door against further

Congressional action this year. Griffin's bill has not even been examined by his colleagues, probably as he intended it to be, and the more influential House Democrats told reporters they shot their bolt on the public works proposition.

Finding a job in the past two years has not been all that easy. There are all manner of openings going begging for lack of qualified applicants, and as many or more applicants looking for situations in slow demand. Recently this imbalance is showing signs of lessening as a national trend, but it does hang on stubbornly from one sector to another. The Labor Department puts the nationwide unemployment rate at 7.8 per cent. Michigan's, however, is 13 per cent and in some localities such as Benton Harbor the ratio could be twice the statewide average.

The appeal in any make-work plan to alleviate this uneven stress is great and in 1933 the New Deal applied it to meet a national 25 per cent unemployment condition through the WPA which FDR's critics instantly labelled lack making projects.

The WPA was better than nothing, but it did not get at the basic causes of unemployment. This depressant did not start to lift significantly until private business began to recover its second wind, followed in a few years by the shift to rearmament as the prelude to the U.S. entering World War II.

Ford's recollection of that period evoked the proper criticism of the 1976 model as being even more vaguely designed and as being introduced at a time when the real need for it is disappearing.

Something Clicked At The Winter Olympics

Perhaps it was the natural beauty of the Tyrolean Alps, or the heavy security provided by Austrian police, but something clicked to make the XII Winter Olympics far more than just another sports spectacular.

There were surprises and upsets, disappointments and spectacular achievements at Innsbruck. But there was no terrorist violence, as some had feared there would be, and very little in the way of even minor disputes.

It was sportsmanship at its best and a credit to the spirit of the events. The final results were something of a surprise, with nations which traditionally have done poorly in the winter games (the United States among them) upsetting some of the long-time ice and snow champions.

Scandinavia, which dominated many of the contests for years, this time placed only Norway among the top five medal winners. The Soviet Union, with 13 gold medals and a total of 27 awards, ran away with first place. But from that point on down the line the contests were more evenly divided.

Win or lose, none of the teams which participated at Innsbruck need feel their efforts were in vain. The total effect was a boost for the winter games, and they all contributed to it.

Milliken Harkens To Migrant Center Objections

By NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

Opposition in southwestern Michigan to a proposed migrant service center has reached Gov. William Milliken, who in turn has ordered a reevaluation of the center, a state official reports.

The official also says that the study which recommended the need for such a center is five years old, although that fact was never pointed out by advocates of the center at recent hearings.

The governor's Interagency Task Force for Migrant Affairs will meet March 2 to discuss whether the controversial center is really needed, according to Mary E. Low, director of the Michigan Commission on Agricultural Labor.

Miss Low, a member of the task force since its creation in 1971, said the reevaluation of the need for the proposed $300,000 center is due to "a lot of strong criticism and reaction from the southwestern corner of the state, and there have been requests of the governor to assess if it's really needed."

Miss Low said that groups that voiced opposition to the center's construction include Women for the Survival of Agriculture in Michigan (WSAM), the Berrien county board of commissioners, southwestern Michigan legislators and the Southwestern Michigan Regional Planning commission.

The original idea that a permanent center was needed in southwestern Michigan came from the migrant task force five years ago, she said. On the task force are representatives from about a dozen state agencies which offer migrant services.

But since 1971, when a building was rented during the harvest season and used for a point-of-entry center, the task force has made no studies regarding a center, she added.

Miss Low noted that since the migrant task force studied the need for a center the number of migrants has dropped off. "And we're five years more down the line," she said.

The attempt to get a grant for construction of the center comes from the Michigan Department of Management and Budget. Linda Barnes, special assistant to state budget director Gerald Miller, said earlier that the impetus for a center came from the task force. But it was her office that set the plan in motion, she added.

The center would be built on state-owned land in either Berrien or Van Buren county. It would offer temporary housing for migrants coming into the state, and a single roof under which several of the agencies which deal with migrants could locate.

After two December hearings in Benton Harbor, Mrs. Barnes sent a preapplication to the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) outlining the project for which funds are sought. She said yesterday that the department is still studying the preapplication.

Word that the preapplication was filed despite the fact that it met with opposition at the initial hearings sparked a letter-writing campaign by WSAM. Then the Southwestern Michigan Regional Planning commission announced opposition to the plan. And southwestern Michigan state legislators added their voices against the center.

The migrant task force will meet March 2 at 2 p.m. on the first floor of the Lewis Cass Building, Lansing, said Miss Low. The meeting is open to the public but it is not a hearing and witnesses will probably not be called. The agency heads will discuss the center among themselves.

Teacher Wins Payroll Battle With Coloma

By STEVEN McQUOWN
Staff Writer

COLOMA — A Coloma high school teacher has won his 18-month-long battle to have his payroll check given to him rather than first being deposited by the school in a bank. Floyd Mattheussen, 45, and his wife, both got their checks delivered to them yesterday at schools where they work.

Mattheussen said delivery of the paycheck to him restores some of the rights he said he lost when the school went to a "checkless payroll" system for all school employees at the beginning of the 1974-75 school year.

The U.S. government, history and conservation teacher and former state legislator said he went through the attorney them in an account with the bank the school uses.

Barrett said two bus drivers have also requested that they be paid by negotiable payroll checks rather than having to go to the State Bank of Coloma to get their pay.

Barrett had previously said that the new system would save the district over $1,000 yearly by cutting down on time required printing and putting individual checks in envelopes.

"I could care less how the checks go out," Barrett said, "but it's my job to see that it gets done at the least possible cost to the school system."

He said if too many more of the teachers want out of the system, a different method of payment may have to be devised.

In October, 1974, Mattheussen filed a grievance against the system. The grievance was rejected by a school board vote of 4-2.

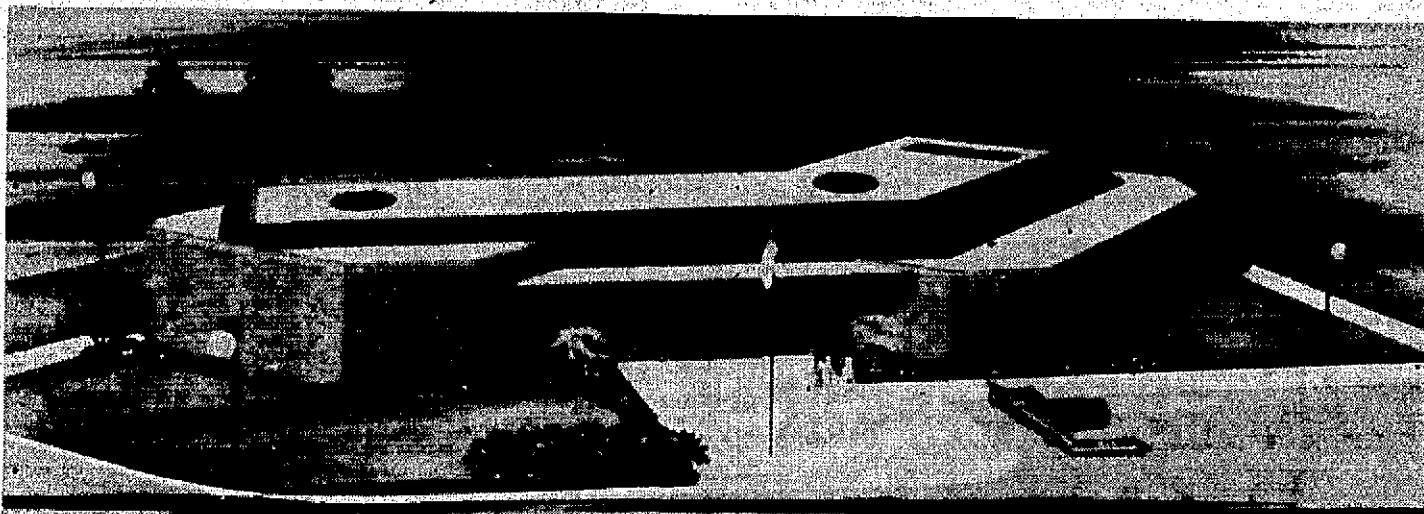

Mattheussen contended at that time that he was forced to join the system, his privacy had been violated and he was made to have an account at a bank of his own choice.

The teacher said he is going to send letters to other teachers in the system, informing them that they may have their checks made out directly to them now also.

He said the Department of Labor has also asked him to report any violations of statutes that enable employees to directly receive their checks.

Mattheussen said he intends to make sure that the administration does not "bully" anyone because of the Department of Labor's school decision.

"I won't allow the superintendent to turn the staff against me because I have done this," Mattheussen said.

PROPOSED LINCOLN TOWNSHIP HALL: Architect's sketch shows proposed new Lincoln township hall to be built on land adjacent to township library, corner of John Beers road and Roosevelt road. Township hall will set to right of library and back slightly, with entrances from both John Beers and Roosevelt roads. Building will contain essentially two parts, public meeting room at left and various township offices and storage space at right. Vestibule will connect two sections. Building will contain 6,800 square feet of space and meeting room will hold over 200 people. Township board is currently advertising for bids on new structure, so bids can be explained at annual township meeting in April. Estimated cost of structure including parking lots, ranges from $250,000 to $325,000, depending on alternates selected by board. Cost of building will be paid through revenue sharing funds. Architect is Wayne C. Hatfield & Associates.

Engineers Buy Pipestone District Site

Petrie And Associates Of BH To Build New HQ

R.W. Petrie and Associates, Inc., consulting and municipal engineers of 307 Paw Paw avenue, Benton Harbor, have purchased 1.88 acres in the Pipestone Industrial District;

Benton township, as the site for a new office building. Announcement was made by William Smits, president of Twin Cities Area Development Corporation, owners of the 562-nere industrial park. The land was sold at the rate of $8,900 an acre. The site is at the northeast corner of Yule avenue and Meadowbrook road.

Steve Pierpoint, owner of Petrie and Associates, said a 4,200 square-foot building will be constructed for new company headquarters. Construction will begin as soon as final plans are approved.

Pierpoint, 32, purchased Petrie and Associates recently. Founder Ralph Petrie remains as president of the firm and is doing public relations work. Services of the firm include surveying, design and construction administration of water systems, pollution control and sewage disposal projects and systems. A drainage on a statewide basis. The company employs 25.

A civil engineer, Pierpoint worked with a consulting firm at Columbia, Mo., before buying Petrie and Associates. He is a graduate of University of Missouri.

The Petrie building will be the ninth facility in the industrial park. Petrie is the first firm to buy land in the 40 acres that have been set aside for smaller industrial buildings and service firms.

A deed modification was recorded recently for the 40 acres, permitting 1½ to 3-acre sites to be sold, according to Roger H. Curry, secretary of the development corporation.

"While this is the first company of this size to locate in the district, we are hoping it will set a new trend and further development will occur in the near future," Curry explained. DeRosa Real Estate was the broker in the sale.

Father Sentenced In Welfare Fraud

Delmer D. Imler, the father of four children, was ordered to make restitution of $1,432 yesterday in Berrien Fifth District court as part of his sentence for welfare fraud.

Imler, 40, of Dan Smith road, Watervliet, was also sentenced to fine and costs of $200 and two years probation. A charge of welfare fraud over $500 was reduced when he pleaded guilty.

to a charge of fraud involving less than $500, a misdemeanor.

According to the prosecutor's welfare fraud unit, Imler at two times — the last third of 1974 and three months in 1975 — received a total of $1,432 in ADC fraudulently.

In 1974 he failed to report income from a job while drawing ADC, and also drew ADC for a child not living at home, the fraud unit charged. In 1975 he failed to report that he received a $862 workmen's compensation settlement check, which resulted in ADC overpayment, the unit stated.

School Meeting Monday

COLOMA — A special meeting of the Coloma school board has been scheduled for Monday night by Kay Erickson, school board president.

Items on the agenda for the special meeting include a proposal to raise money for new band uniforms by holding a bike-a-thon and a report on school plans for a 1978 Bicentennial year voter registration drive in the school district.

The special meeting will be held in the school administration building on Boyer road beginning at 8 p.m., according to Erickson.

Guy Tyler, First City Manager Of BH, Dies In Ravenna, Ohio

Guy M. Tyler, 87, who spent nearly a half century in public jobs in Berrien county, died Friday morning in a Ravenna, Ohio, nursing home.

Mr. Tyler's public employment began in 1921 when he was appointed Benton Harbor assessor. The next year he became Benton Harbor's first city manager when the commission-manager form of government was adopted.

He quit in 1928, sold real estate for two years, then became a deputy sheriff under Sheriff Fred Cutler. Mr. Tyler was elected Berrien county clerk on the Democratic ticket in the Roosevelt landslide of 1932.

In 1936, he ran for Congress and gave Republican Clare Hoffman his closest race as Mr. Tyler lost by 5,000 votes to the Allogan incumbent who was used to winning by more than 2 to 1.

Mr. Tyler later worked for the Michigan secretary of state and bureau of social aid. In 1944, he became Berrien county friend of the court and probation officer. The two posts later were split and Mr. Tyler stuck to probation work, retiring in 1958. He was a member of the Michigan Probation, Parole and Pardons association.

He lived at Rocky Gap in Benton township and most recently at St. Petersburg, Fla., before entering the nursing home in Ohio.

Surviving are a son, Dr. James Tyler, Kent, Ohio and a sister, Miss Gem Tyler, Ravenna.

GUY M. TYLER

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Monday in the Dey-Flier funeral home, St. Joseph, where friends may call after 2 p.m. Sunday. Burial will be in Crystal Springs cemetery.

Milliken Harkens To Migrant Center Objections

By NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

Opposition in southwestern Michigan to a proposed migrant service center has reached Gov. William Milliken, who in turn has ordered a reevaluation of the center, a state official reports.

The official also says that the study which recommended the need for such a center is five years old, although that fact was never pointed out by advocates of the center at recent hearings.

The governor's Interagency Task Force for Migrant Affairs will meet March 2 to discuss whether the controversial center is really needed, according to Mary E. Low, director of the Michigan Commission on Agricultural Labor.

Miss Low, a member of the task force since its creation in 1971, said the reevaluation of the need for the proposed $300,000 center is due to "a lot of strong criticism and reaction from the southwestern corner of the state, and there have been requests of the governor to assess if it's really needed."

Miss Low said that groups that voiced opposition to the center's construction include Women for the Survival of Agriculture in Michigan (WSAM), the Berrien county board of commissioners, southwestern Michigan legislators and the Southwestern Michigan Regional Planning commission.

The original idea that a permanent center was needed in southwestern Michigan came from the migrant task force five years ago, she said. On the task force are representatives from about a dozen state agencies which offer migrant services.

But since 1971, when a building was rented during the harvest season and used for a point-of-entry center, the task force has made no studies regarding a center, she added.

Miss Low noted that since the migrant task force studied the need for a center the number of migrants has dropped off. "And we're five years more down the line," she said.

The attempt to get a grant for construction of the center comes from the Michigan Department of Management and Budget. Linda Barnes, special assistant to state budget director Gerald Miller, said earlier that the impetus for a center came from the task force. But it was her office that set the plan in motion, she added.

The center would be built on state-owned land in either Berrien or Van Buren county. It would offer temporary housing for migrants coming into the state, and a single roof under which several of the agencies which deal with migrants could locate.

After two December hearings in Benton Harbor, Mrs. Barnes sent a preapplication to the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) outlining the project for which funds are sought. She said yesterday that the department is still studying the preapplication.

Word that the preapplication was filed despite the fact that it met with opposition at the initial hearings sparked a letter-writing campaign by WSAM. Then the Southwestern Michigan Regional Planning commission announced opposition to the plan. And southwestern Michigan state legislators added their voices against the center.

The migrant task force will meet March 2 at 2 p.m. on the first floor of the Lewis Cass Building, Lansing, said Miss Low. The meeting is open to the public but it is not a hearing and witnesses will probably not be called. The agency heads will discuss the center among themselves.

Teacher Wins Payroll Battle With Coloma

By STEVEN MCQUOWN
Staff Writer

COLOMA — A Coloma high school teacher has won his 16-month-long battle to have his payroll check given to him rather than first being deposited by the school in a bank. Floyd Mattheussen, 45, and his wife, both got their checks delivered to them yesterday at schools where they work.

Mattheussen said delivery of the paycheck to him restores some of the rights he said he lost when the school went to a "checkless payroll" system for all school employees at the beginning of the 1974-75 school year.

The U.S. government, history and conservation teacher and former state legislator said he went through the attorney them in an account with the bank the school uses.

Barrett said two bus drivers have also requested that they be paid by negotiable payroll checks rather than having to go to the State Bank of Coloma to get their pay.

Barrett had previously said that the new system would save the district over $1,000 yearly by cutting down on time required printing and putting individual checks in envelopes.

"I could care less how the checks go out," Barrett said, "but it's my job to see that it gets done at the least possible cost to the school system."

He said if too many more of the teachers want out of the system, a different method of payment may have to be devised.

In October, 1974, Mattheussen filed a grievance against the system. The grievance was rejected by a school board vote of 4-2.

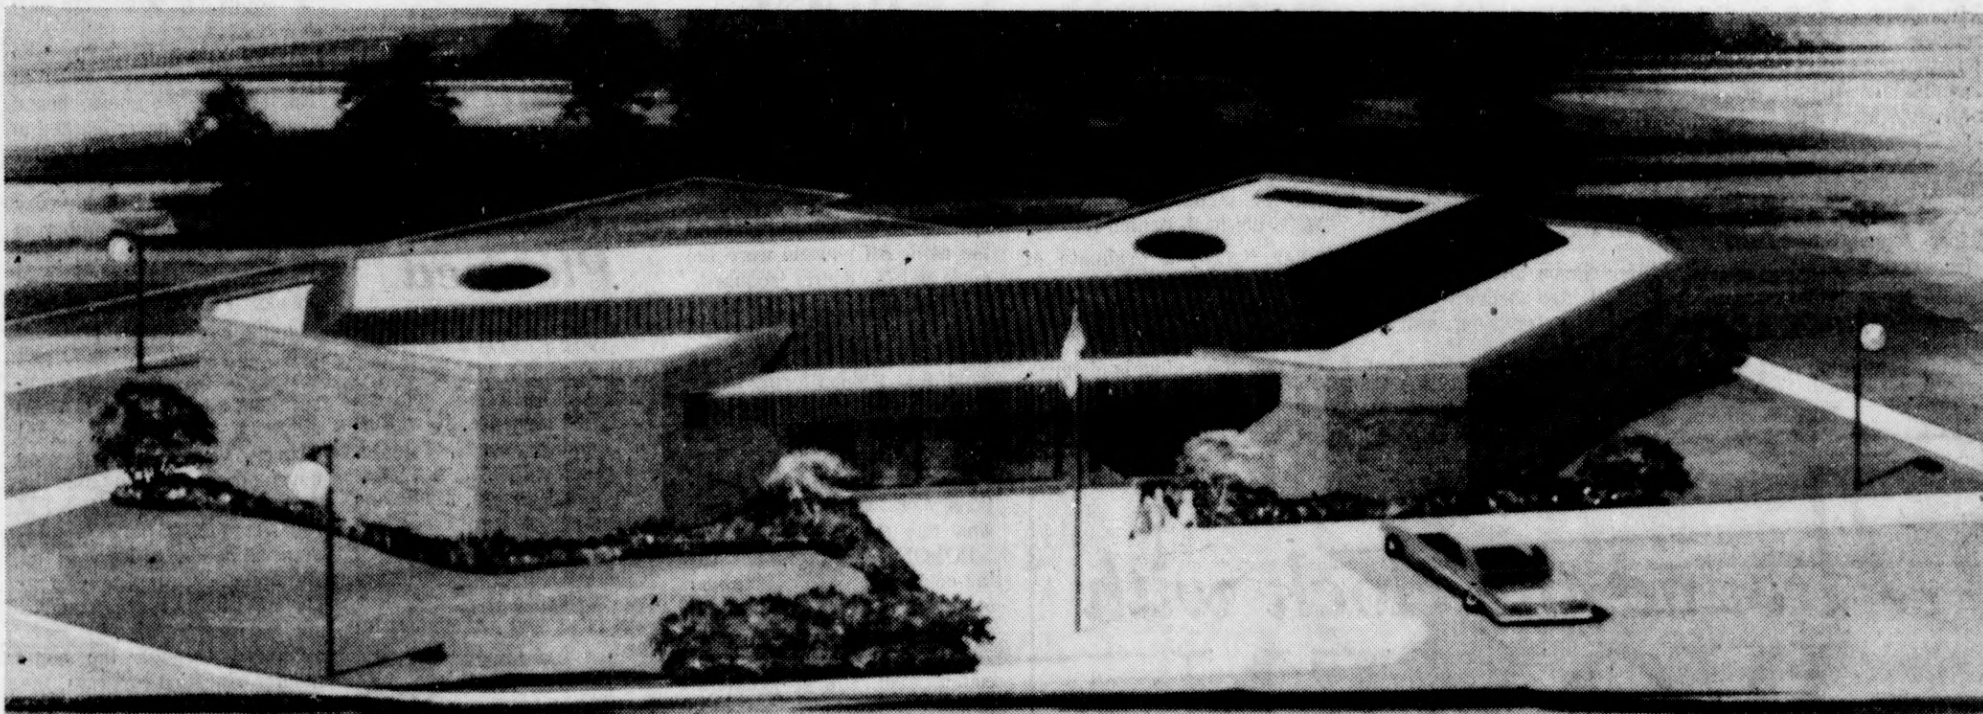

Mattheussen contended at that time that he was forced to join the system, his privacy had been violated and he was made to have an account at a bank of not his own choice.

The teacher said he is going to send letters to other teachers in the system, informing them that they may have their checks made out directly to them now also.

He said the Department of Labor has also asked him to report any violations of statutes that enable employees to directly receive their checks.

Mattheussen said he intends to make sure that the administration does not "bully" anyone because of the Department of Labor - school decision.

"I won't allow the superintendent to turn the staff against me because I have done this," Mattheussen said.

PROPOSED LINCOLN TOWNSHIP HALL: Architect's sketch shows proposed new Lincoln township hall to be built on land adjacent to township library, corner of John Beers road and Roosevelt road. Township hall will set to right of library and back slightly, with entrances from both John Beers and Roosevelt roads. Building will contain essentially two parts, public meeting room at left and various township offices and storage space at right. Vestibule will connect two sections. Building will contain 6,800 square feet of space and meeting room will hold over 200 people. Township board is currently advertising for bids on new structure, so bids can be explained at annual township meeting in April. Estimated cost of structure including parking lots, ranges from $250,000 to $325,000, depending on alternates selected by board. Cost of building will be paid through revenue sharing funds. Architect is Wayne C. Hatfield & Associates.

Engineers Buy Pipestone District Site

Petrie And Associates Of BH To Build New HQ

R.W. Petrie and Associates, Inc., consulting and municipal engineers of 557 Paw Paw avenue, Benton Harbor, have purchased 1.88 acres in the Pipestone Industrial District, acre industrial park. The land was sold at the rate of $8,800 an acre. The site is at the northeast corner of Yore avenue and Meadowbrook road.

Benton township, as the site for a new office building. Announcement was made by William Smits, president of Twin Cities Area Development Corporation, owners of the 562-

Steve Pierpoint, owner of Petrie and Associates, said a 4,200 square-foot building will be constructed for new company headquarters. Construction will begin as soon as final plans are approved.

Pierpoint, 32, purchased Petrie and Associates recently. Founder Ralph Petrie remains as president of the firm and is doing public relations work. Services of the firm include surveying, design and construction administration of water systems, pollution control and sewage disposal projects and systems A drainage on a statewide basis. The company employs 25.

A civil engineer, Pierpoint worked with a consulting firm at Columbia, Mo., before buying Petrie and Associates. He is a graduate of University of Missouri.

Haitian Visitor

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Constant Morel, 87-year-old father of an Andrews university senior, is learning English for the first time in the adult education classes held at Berrien Springs high school.

Formerly a construction worker in Port-au-Prince, Haiti, Constant Morel came to the United States to live with his daughter and granddaughter while Mrs. Constance Maxime, his daughter, attended college.

Monsieur Morel, who speaks only Creole and French, has spent his time in this country reading French books and his French Bible. "He watches television," said his daughter, "but he really doesn't understand what the people are saying."

When Max Church, who teaches the evening class in English for foreigners, heard that Morel had never learned to speak English he arranged for him to join the class.

"My daughter was very happy that her grandfather is learning English," said Mrs. Maxime. Rachel is 10, and speaks French only to her grandfather. "She is proud of being an American."

The class for foreign-speaking students has 15 to 20 students this year, said Church, who works as development director for the Andrews university WAUS-FM radio station. "I have two Indian students, a Korean, an Ethiopian, Brazilian, Hungarian, Dutch, Haitian, and a student from Taiwan."

Offered through the community education program, the class, according to Bud Racine, director, is a successful program. "Over 600 people are registered in all of the adult education classes available through the community education program," Racine said.

Mrs. Maxime said that her father will be 88 in April.

IN CLASS: Constant Morel, who will be 88 in April, is learning English for the first time in adult education classes held at the Berrien Springs high school. Max Church is his teacher.

Fabric Terms

NEW YORK (NEA) — 'Twas ponce and the gauze did chamber and georgette in the twill. All pinwale were the duck and the denim Jacquard.

With apologies to Lewis Carroll and his nonsense rhyme, the above presents a handful of fashion terms freely bandied about in print — but possibly not so freely defined by bander and bandee.

So, with the aid of a dictionary or two, here is exactly what they are:

PONGEE — thin, natural tan-colored silk fabric originally made of wild Chinese silk with a knotty rough weave.

GAUZE — sheer-woven, thin cotton, wool, silk or synthetic fabric similar to cheesecloth. More and more, one of the most popular fabrics in sportswear.

CHAMBRAY — a plain woven fabric with colored warp (lengthwise threads) and white filling that gives a mottled color surface.

GEORGETTE — a sheer silk or rayon crepe of dull texture. Crepe, incidentally, is a lightweight silk, rayon, cotton or other fabric notable for its crinkly surface.

TWILL — one of the three basic weaves, from which all others derive. The other two are plain and satin. Twill weave is identified by diagonal lines in the goods. Left or right. Right-hand twill cloths include gabardine, serge and whipcord. Left-hand twills include denim and jean cloth.

DUCK — the most durable fabric made, a closely woven, heavy material covering a wide range of fabrics. There is number duck, army duck, flat or ounce duck, which differ according to weave and yarn.

DENIM — a rugged cotton cloth marked, remember, by its left-hand twill. Standard denim is usually made with indigo blue-dyed warp or lengthwise yarn and gray or mottled-white filling. It's not only the essential ingredient of work-clothes but is popular, too, in upholstery.

PINWALE — a very narrow ridge or rib in a fabric, such as pinwale corduroy.

JACQUARD — one Joseph J. M. Jacquard developed an intricate method of weaving in the early 1800s and Jacquard knitting is a result of his loom and its principles. Simple or complex in design, jacquard fabrics include brocade, damask, seen in evening wear, upholstery and tapestries.

Computers may soon enable dentists to determine with extreme accuracy whether a child of eight or nine will develop problems with wisdom teeth in adulthood.

This prediction by a researcher at the University of California at Los Angeles was based on a 10-year study of 74 persons.

Speaking at a meeting of the American Association for Dental Research, a dental school student told how standard x-ray data fed into a computer can forecast possible impaction of the wisdom teeth, known scientifically as the third molars.

If the outlook is for impaction, a simple, quick surgical procedure can be performed on the child, thus avoiding possible complicated surgery in later years.

Scotty's Auditions Planned

NEW BUFFALO — Auditions for the musical, "Once Upon A Mattress" will be held at Scotty's Playhouse, New Buffalo, Sunday, Feb. 22, at 3 p.m. and Monday, Feb. 23, at 8 p.m. Singers, dancers, musicians and a stage crew are needed.

The show is a musical version of the fairy tale "The Princess and the Pea."

All interested persons are invited.

Club Circuit

RETIREES FOR FUN CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 24, at the First Congregational United Church of Christ, St. Joseph. A Bicentennial program will be given by Miss Margaret Meyn, Mrs. Ruby Glascock and Mrs. Florine Bishop.

OAK LEAF CAMP NO. 3511, Royal Neighbors of America, will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 26, at Memorial Hall, St. Joseph. Mrs. Theima Fersch will be hostess.

American Music Concert

KALAMAZOO — Joel Shapiro, professor of piano at the University of Illinois, will present a concert of American piano music Wednesday, Feb. 25, at 8 p.m. in Oakland Recital Hall at Western Michigan university.

The public is invited to the free concert.

Shapiro's Bicentennial program will include two works by Aaron Copland: "Four Piano Blues" and "Piano Fantasy," and Gordon Binkerd's "Sonata" for piano. Shapiro gave the first European performance of Copland's "Piano Fantasy" under State Department sponsorship in Germany and Belgium, has performed it on nationwide German television and will play it in over 25 cities during the Bicentennial year.

Binkerd's "Five Pieces" was written for Shapiro, who gave its first performance in Holland last March.

He is a graduate of Columbia university and the Brussels Royal Conservatory.

Tri-Parish Special Event Thursday

Sister Patricia McCarty, OP, will conduct a Day of Reflection for women of the Tri-Parish area at St. Bernard Catholic church, Benton Harbor, Thursday, Feb. 26, from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Theme for the day will be "Woman's Universal Task — To Love with the Totality of Her Whole Being."

The Sacrament of Reconciliation and the Celebration of the Eucharist will conclude the day.

The Day of Reflection is being sponsored by the Tri-Parish Religious Enrichment Program for Adults, according to Sister Ann Maloney, coordinator. Those attending may bring a sack lunch.

Sister Patricia holds a master of arts degree in theater from Michigan State university. She has also studied pastoral ministry, communication arts, psychology and contemporary theology.

Sister Patricia has been an elementary school administrator, and for the past five years has been a provincial administrator in the Chicago Province of Adrian Dominicans.

She is a member of the Catholic Campus Ministers association and the Michigan Catholic Ministers association.

Child care will be available at the Benton Harbor Free Methodist church, 1840 Union street, through the courtesy of the Rev. Joseph Graybill, pastor. Volunteer babysitters are needed. Those wishing to help may contact the Tri-Parish Religious Education office, 220 Church street, St. Joseph.

'Women In Ministry' Is Panel Topic For Three Nuns

"Women in Ministry in the Church — Past, Present and Future" will be the subject of a panel discussion by three Dominican Sisters Tuesday, Feb. 24.

The discussion will be held at 7:30 p.m. at St. Bernard Catholic church, 395 East Delaware, Benton Harbor.

The panel discussion is one of the "Liberty and Justice for All" lecture series being sponsored by the Catholic Tri-Parish Religious Enrichment Program for adults.

Panelists will be Sister Joan Delaplane, OP, formerly known as Sister Marie Doloretta, who taught at St. Joseph Catholic high school during the 1960s; Sister Anneliese Sinnott, OP, and Sister Mary Catherine Nolan, OP. All three are studying for master of divinity degrees at SS Cyril and Methodius seminary, Orchard Lake.

Sister Ann Maloney, coordinator, said the topic, the role of women in the church, is a timely one due to the ongoing re-evaluation by women of their traditional roles. There is no charge for the lecture which is open to the public.

Sister Mary Catherine Nolan will speak on the history of women's ministry in the church. She is currently exploring the dimensions that women bring to pastoral ministry within the church. To better understand the present situation of women in the Catholic church, and to gain insights for future ministry, she has made a study of the ministry of women in the first 500 years of Christianity.

Sister Mary Catherine holds a master of science degree in mathematics from the University of Notre Dame. In addition to pursuing the master of divinity degree, she is also studying for a master of arts degree in religious studies at the University of Detroit.

Sister Anneliese Sinnott will speak on the current movement toward women's ordination and give a summary of the ordination conference held in Detroit.

Sister Anneliese received a master of music education degree from DePaul university and is also currently studying for a master of arts degree in religious studies at the University of Detroit. Her ministerial experience includes elementary and secondary education, liturgical music, ministry to the sick, the aging and the mentally ill.

Sister Joan Delaplane will speak on the future forms of women's ministry in the church in the light of the contemporary church.

Sister Joan earned a master of arts degree in English from the University of Detroit and has done graduate work in guidance and counseling at Michigan State university.

SJ Young Woman Is Coach For Lansing Swim Team

PAT CHINERY

Editor's Note: The following story about Pat Chinery, a swim team coach in Lansing, was written by Christine Cowles, a student at Michigan State university's School of Journalism.

By CHRISTINE COWLES
EAST LANSING — For many a student attending a college or university, just keeping one's own head above water can be a major task, but multiply that responsibility by 30, and you've got the situation confronting Pat Chinery.

Miss Chinery, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randal Chinery, 383 Ridgeway, St. Joseph, is the head coach of a swim team with the Golden Serpents Swim club in Lansing.

The team is composed of 35 swimmers, boys and girls ranging in age from nine through 17, and usually competes in both Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and YMCA meets.

Miss Chinery, a Michigan State university physical education student, is not new to the sport. She has been involved with swimming, in both participating and coaching capacities, for 12 years.

Besides coaching the local St. Joseph team in 1972 and 1973 and a "South Bend, Ind." team in 1974, she became involved in MSU's program as a freshman.

"I swam on MSU's team my freshman year," she said. "Then I quit swimming but wanted to stay involved with it somehow, so I applied for a coaching position through the recreation program in East Lansing, and I got the job."

Since then, Miss Chinery has successfully led many of her swimmers to state YMCA records.

"Last year I took 13 girls to the YMCA nationals," she said, "and I'm looking forward to good results at the AAU championships this year."

But none of this has come without many long hours of practice. All the members on the team work out for an hour and 45 minutes a day, Monday through Friday.

And somehow, in addition to all this, Miss Chinery occasionally manages to take time out to go sailing or play football, in addition to keeping up a house in Lansing with three other girls.

But the swimming practices do take up a lot of time," she said, "and we have our meets every weekend, so I keep pretty busy."

The meets, the rules of which are governed by the AAU, draw people from all over the state, which guarantees good competition.

"The competition really is tough," Miss Chinery said. "In any given meet, it's not unusual for several state records to be broken."

Obviously devoted to her team, she hopes to make a career out of coaching.

"I love it," she said, "and if all goes well, I'd like to teach school and coach when I graduate."

Miss Chinery is a 1972 graduate of St. Joseph high school and will graduate from MSU in December.

Haitian Visitor

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Constant Morel, 87-year-old father of an Andrews university senior, is learning English for the first time in the adult education classes held at Berrien Springs high school.

Formerly a construction worker in Port-au-Prince, Haiti, Constant Morel came to the United States to live with his daughter and granddaughter while Mrs. Constance Maxime, his daughter, attended college.

Monsieur Morel, who speaks only Creole and French, has spent his time in this country reading French books and his French Bible. "He watches television," said his daughter, "but he really doesn't understand what the people are saying."

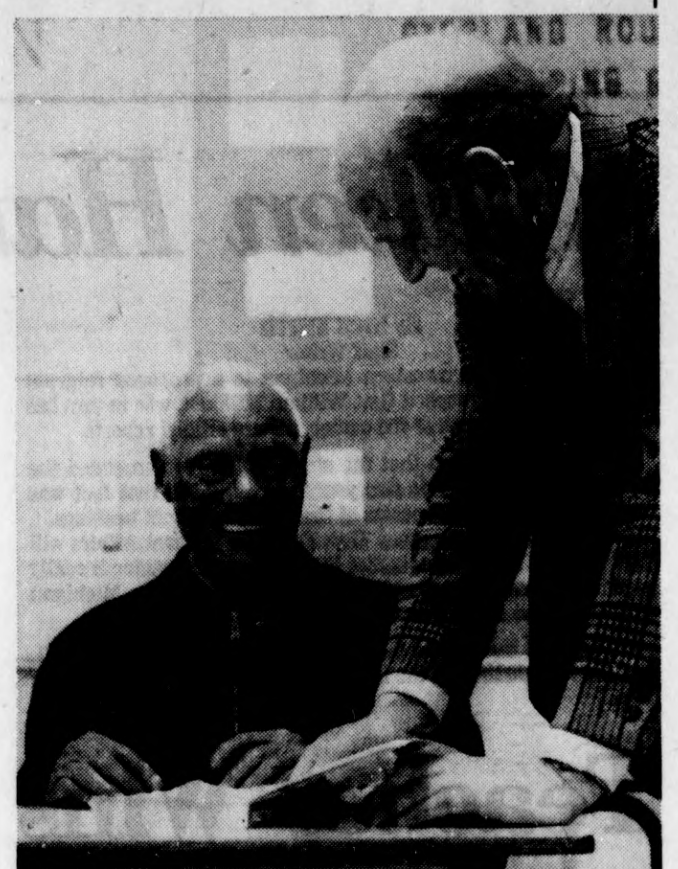

When Max Church, who teaches the evening class in English for foreigners, heard that Morel had never learned to speak English he arranged for him to join the class.

"My daughter was very happy that her grandfather is learning English," said Mrs. Maxime. Rachel is 10, and speaks French only to her grandfather. "She is proud of being an American."

The class for foreign-speaking students has 15 to 20 students this year, said Church, who works as development director for the Andrews university WAUS-FM radio station. "I have two Indian students, a Korean, an Ethiopian, Brazilian, Hungarian, Dutch, Haitian, and a student from Taiwan."

Offered through the community education program, the class, according to Bud Racine, director, is a successful program. "Over 600 people are registered in all of the adult education classes available through the community education program," Racine said.

Mrs. Maxime said that her father will be 88 in April.

IN CLASS: Constant Morel, who will be 88 in April, is learning English for the first time in adult education classes held at the Berrien Springs high school. Max Church is his teacher.

'Women In Ministry' Is Panel Topic For Three Nuns

"Women in Ministry in the Church — Past, Present and Future" will be the subject of a panel discussion by three Dominican Sisters Tuesday, Feb. 24.

The discussion will be held at 7:30 p.m., at St. Bernard Catholic church, 395 East Delaware, Benton Harbor.

The panel discussion is one of the "Liberty and Justice for All" lecture series being sponsored by the Catholic Tri-Parish Religious Enrichment Program for adults.

Panelists will be Sister Joan Delaplane, OP, formerly known as Sister Marie Doloretta, who taught at St. Joseph Catholic high school during the 1960s; Sister Anneliese Sinnott, OP, and Sister Mary Catherine Nolan, OP. All three are studying for master of divinity degrees at SS Cyril and Methodius seminary, Orchard Lake.

Sister Ann Maloney, coordinator, said the topic, the role of women in the church, is a timely one due to the ongoing re-evaluation by women of their traditional roles. There is no charge for the lecture which is open to the public.

Sister Mary Catherine Nolan will speak on the history of women's ministry in the church. She is currently exploring the dimensions that women bring to pastoral ministry within the church. To better understand the present situation of women in the Catholic church, and to gain insights for future ministry, she has made a study of the ministry of women in the first 500 years of Christianity.

Sister Mary Catherine holds a master of science degree in mathematics from the University of Notre Dame. In addition to pursuing the master of divinity degree, she is also studying for a master of arts degree in religious studies at the University of Detroit.

Sister Anneliese Sinnott will speak on the current movement toward women's ordination and give a summary of the ordination conference held in Detroit. Sister Anneliese received a master of music education degree from DePaul university and is also currently studying for a master of arts degree in religious studies at the University of Detroit. Her ministerial experience includes elementary and secondary education, Liturgical music, ministry to the sick, the aging and the mentally ill.

Sister Joan Delaplane will speak on the future forms of women's ministry in the church in the light of the contemporary church. Sister Joan earned a master of arts degree in English from the University of Detroit and has done graduate work in guidance and counseling at Michigan State university.

Tri-Parish Special Event Thursday

Sister Patricia McCarty, OP, will conduct a Day of Reflection for women of the Tri-Parish area at St. Bernard Catholic church, Benton Harbor, Thursday, Feb. 26, from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Theme for the day will be "Woman's Universal Task — to Love with the Totality of Her Whole Being."

The Sacrament of Reconciliation and the Celebration of the Eucharist will conclude the day.

The Day of Reflection is being sponsored by the Tri-Parish Religious Enrichment Program for Adults, according to Sister Ann Maloney, coordinator. Those attending may bring a sack lunch.

Sister Patricia holds a master of arts degree in theater from Michigan State university. She has also studied pastoral ministry, communication arts, psychology and contemporary theology.

Sister Patricia has been an elementary school administrator, and for the past five years has been a provincial administrator in the Chicago Province of Adrian Dominicans.

She is a member of the Catholic Campus Ministers association and the Michigan Catholic Ministers association.

Child care will be available at the Benton Harbor Free Methodist church, 1840 Union street, through the courtesy of the Rev. Joseph Graybill, pastor. Volunteer babysitters are needed. Those wishing to help may contact the Tri-Parish Religious Education office, 220 Church street, St. Joseph.

Club Circuit

RETIRE FOR FUN CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 24, at the First Congregational United Church of Christ, St. Joseph. A Bicentennial program will be given by Miss Margaret Meyn, Mrs. Ruby Glascock and Mrs. Florine Bishop.

OAK LEAF CAMP NO. 3511, Royal Neighbors of America, will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 26, at Memorial Hall, St. Joseph. Mrs. Thelma Fersch will be hostess.

American Music Concert

KALAMAZOO — Joel Shapiro, professor of piano at the University of Illinois, will present a concert of American piano music Wednesday, Feb. 25, at 8 p.m. in Oakland Recital Hall at Western Michigan university.

The public is invited to the free concert.

Shapiro's Bicentennial program will include two works by Aaron Copland, "Four Piano Blues" and "Piano Fantasy," and Gordon Binkerd's "Sonata" for piano.

Shapiro gave the first European performance of Copland's "Piano Fantasy" under State Department sponsorship in Germany and Belgium, has performed it on nationwide German television and will play it in over 25 cities during the Bicentennial year.

Binkerd's "Five Pieces" was written for Shapiro, who gave its first performance in Holland last March.

He is a graduate of Columbia university and the Brussels Royal Conservatory.

Fabric Terms

NEW YORK (NEA) — "Twas pongee and the gauze did chambray and georgette in the twill. All pinwale were the duck and the denim jacquard. With apologies to Lewis Carroll and his nonsense rhyme, the above presents a handful of fashion terms freely bandied about in print — but possibly not so freely defined by bander and bandee.

So, with the aid of a dictionary or two, here is exactly what they are:

PONGEE — thin, natural tan-colored silk fabric originally made of wild Chinese silk with a knotty rough weave.

GAUZE — sheer-woven, thin cotton, wool, silk or synthetic fabric similar to cheesecloth. More and more, one of the most popular fabrics in sportswear.

CHAMBRAY — a plain woven fabric ... with colored warp (length-wise threads) and white filling that gives a mottled colored surface.

GEORGETTE — a sheer silk or rayon crepe of dull texture. Crepe, incidentally, is a lightweight silk, rayon, cotton or other fabric notable for its crinkly surface.

TWILL — one of the three basic weaves, from which all others derive. The other two are plain and satin. Twill weave is identified by diagonal lines in the goods. Left or right. Right-hand twilled cloths include gabardine, serge and whipcord. Left-hand twills include denim and jean cloth.

DUCK — the most durable fabric made, a closely woven, heavy material covering a wide range of fabrics. There is number duck, army duck, flat or ounce duck, which differ according to weave and yarn.

DENIM — a rugged cotton cloth marked, remember, by its left-hand twill. Standard denim is usually made with indigo blue-dyed warp or lengthwise yarn and gray or mottled-white filling. It's not only the essential ingredient of work-clothes but is popular, too, in upholstery.

PINWALE — a very narrow ridge or rib in a fabric, such as pinwale corduroy.

JACQUARD — one Joseph J. M. Jacquard developed an intricate method of weaving in the early 1800s and jacquard knitting is a result of his loom and its principles. Simple or complex in design, jacquard fabrics include brocade, damask, seen in evening wear, upholstery and tapestries.

Computers May Aid Dentists

Computers may soon enable dentists to determine with extreme accuracy whether a child of eight or nine will develop problems with wisdom teeth in adulthood.

This prediction by a researcher at the University of California at Los Angeles was based on a 10-year study of 74 persons.

Speaking at a meeting of the American Association for Dental Research, a dental school student told how standard x-ray data fed into a computer can forecast possible impact of the wisdom teeth, known scientifically as the third molars.

If the outlook is for impaction, a simple, quick surgical procedure can be performed on the child, thus avoiding possible complicated surgery in later years.

SJ Young Woman Is Coach For Lansing Swim Team

PAT CHINERY

Editor's Note: The following story about Pat Chinery, a swim team coach in Lansing, was written by Christine Cowles, a student at Michigan State university's School of Journalism.

By CHRISTINE COWLES
EAST LANSING — For many a student attending a college or university, just keeping one's own head above water can be a major task, but multiply that responsibility by 35, and you've got the situation confronting Pat Chinery.

Miss Chinery, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Chinery, 383 Ridgeway, St. Joseph, is the head coach of a swim team with the Golden Serpents Swim club in Lansing.

The team is composed of 35 swimmers, boys and girls ranging in age from nine through 17, and usually competes in both Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and YMCA meets.

Miss Chinery, a Michigan State university physical education student, is not new to the sport. She has been involved with swimming, in both participating and coaching capacities, for 12 years.

Besides coaching the local St. Joseph team in 1972 and 1973 and a South Bend, Ind., team in 1974, she became involved in MSU's program as a freshman.

"I swam on MSU's team my freshman year," she said. "Then I quit swimming but wanted to stay involved with it somehow, so I applied for a coaching position through the recreation program in East Lansing, and I got the job."

Since then, Miss Chinery has successfully led many of her swimmers to state YMCA records.

"Last year I took 13 girls to the YMCA nationals," she said, "and I'm looking forward to good results at the AAU championships this year."

But none of this has come without many long hours of practice. All the members on the team work out for an hour and 45 minutes a day, Monday through Friday.

And somehow, in addition to all this, Miss Chinery occasionally manages to take time out to go sailing or play football, in addition to keeping up a house in Lansing with three other girls.

But the swimming practices do take up a lot of time," she said, "and we have our meets every weekend, so I keep pretty busy."

The meets, the rules of which are governed by the AAU, draw people from all over the state, which guarantees good competition.

"The competition really is tough," Miss Chinery said. "In any given meet, it's not unusual for several state records to be broken."

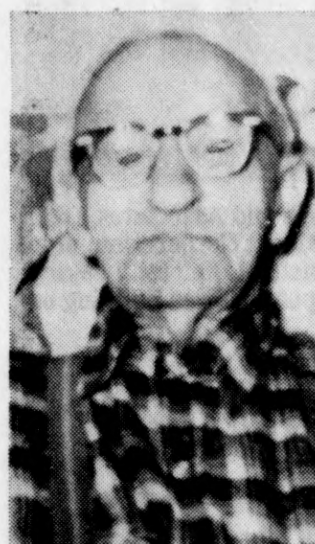

Obviously devoted to her team, she hopes to make a career out of coaching.

"I love it," she said, "and if all goes well, I'd like to teach school and coach when I graduate."

Miss Chinery is a 1972 graduate of St. Joseph high school and will graduate from MSU in December.

Missionary To Be Speaker For Spiritual Life Workshop

A Spiritual Life Workshop will be held Saturday, March 13, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at Lakeshore Baptist church, Stevensville.

All women of the area are invited.

MRS. ROBERT SCHINDLER

Theme of the workshop is "Our Resources in God." Featured speaker will be Mrs. Robert (Marian) Schindler.

The workshop will include eight mini talks: Witnessing, Facing Life's Difficulties, Priorities, How to be an Effective Helpmate, Christian Hospitality, Time Out for Effective Bible Study, Prayer Life and Overcoming Worry.

Other events planned are conversational prayer and sharing; group singing, special music, book nook and lunch.

Cost for the day is $3.25 and reservations are asked by March 1. Those wishing to make reservations may send checks to Mrs. Dale Carmichael, 1608 South Riviera drive, Stevensville, 49127, or Mrs. Allen Ernst, 1840 South Riviera drive, Stevensville, 49127.

Mrs. Walter (Gretel) Dahrau, Mrs. R.L. (Nel) Thompson and Mrs. Allen (Mary) Ernst.

Mrs. Schindler and her husband, Dr. Robert Schindler, and their two sons returned from the mission field last summer and while on furlough reside at 2280 Shilawasse lane, Stevensville.

They served in Liberia for over 13 years and while there Mrs. Schindler taught school, worked at radio station ELWA and helped her husband in the hospital office.

The hospital for the Sudan Interior Mission was the result of the Schindlers' work there. Mrs. Schindler designed by the hospital which was built, staffed and equipped by Dr. Schindler. Last year the hospital served 50,000 patients.

Dr. Schindler rejoined the staff of Berrien General Hospital when the couple returned to the United States following their most recent term of service in Liberia, where they were presented Liberia's highest civilian awards.

Black History Program Set

"The Greatest Supporters" will be the theme of a Black History Week program Sunday, Feb. 22, at 4 p.m. at Pilgrim Rest Baptist church, Benton Harbor.

Speaker for the program will be Festus Valentine, an instructor and counselor at Lake Michigan college.

Sponsor of the program is Mission Circle No. 2. According to Mrs. David (Mable) Davis, chairman, the purpose of the program is to honor common laborers, blue collar workers, para-professionals and some professionals. Mrs. Davis says, "these people seem to get very little recognition from all people and we feel that this honor and recognition is way over due to these people."

The public is invited to the program.

Among companies and their representatives who will participate will be Curtis Hartfield, Auto Specialties Manufacturing company; Larry Brown, Superior Steel; Mrs. Mary Carpenter, Whitpool corporation; Mrs. Fredonia Hayes, school.

Representatives of Bendix and Michigan Standard Alloys; Guy Huddleston, minority contractors; Voyd Thomas and Walter Thomas, individual contractors and carpenters; Mrs. Gretchen Gillespie and Mrs. Earstine Rucker, para-professionals and nurses; Memorial and Mercy hospitals; Louella Nunley and Caille McGrew, beauticians, and Ray Robbins, morticians.

Also participating will be Miss Nikki Harris. Special honors will be given to three members of the Happiness Bloom club, Mrs. Ora Dowdy, Mrs. Marie Nelson and Harry Lee. Mrs. Gusten Sharrod, secretary at the Benton Harbor Continuing Education Center, will conduct the ceremony.

Refreshments will be served following the program.

Mrs. Woodsey Joseph is food chairman and Mrs. David (Mable) Davis is program chairman. Committee members are Mrs. Richard (Charlene) Tynes, Mrs. Louise Walker, Mrs. Robert (Pauline) Hardy, Mrs. Ellis (Ollie Mae) Hill and Mrs. Lucius (Louise) Allen.

Plan Lutheran Hour Sunday

Area churches will join congregations throughout The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod Feb. 29 in celebrating Lutheran Hour Sunday as a day of special prayers for the worldwide Gospel radio ministry.

The Lutheran Hour, with offices in the United States, Canada and 17 other countries around the world, is the largest non-governmental radio operation. Now in its 43rd season, The Lutheran Hour is broadcast by about 1,800 radio stations around the world; is produced in 45 languages and has a listening audience numbering in the millions in 125 countries.

Dr. Oswald Hoffmann has been the speaker on the worldwide and domestic English language program since 1955.

The theme for the observance in "Alive in Christ," according to Paul Wegele, chairman of the Lutheran Hour committee of the International Lutheran Laymen's League, sponsor of the program.

Wegele said, "The theme is particularly appropriate since the main thrust of the program is to proclaim the joys of a life in which Jesus Christ is acknowledged as Lord and Savior. This was the goal of the program when Dr. Walter A.

Maler made his first address as Lutheran Hour speaker in 1930, when Dr. Hoffmann made his first address as Lutheran Hour speaker 21 years ago, and will be for as long as the program is on the air."

About 1,100 stations in the United States and Canada carry the English language program with Dr. Hoffmann, with about 50 other domestic stations carrying programs in Spanish, French, Chinese, Japanese, Finnish and Slovak.

In addition to The Lutheran Hour, the International Lutheran Laymen's League, an auxiliary of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, sponsors Preaching Through the Press, a print evangelism program. It is also co-sponsor of "This Is The Life," the award-winning television ministry.

Announce Guest Speaker

Dr. Charles Rhodes, a medical missionary from the Central African Republic, will be guest speaker at the Napier Parkview Baptist church, Benton Harbor, for the 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. services.

Dr. Rhodes and his family have served in Africa under Baptist Mid-Missions since 1964. They are on furlough and plan to return to Africa next summer.

Dr. Rhodes is the director of all medical work of the mission in the Central African Republic which involves supervision of one hospital and six dispensaries.

While on furlough, Dr. Rhodes has been on the staff of Berrien General Hospital, Berrien Center, and has been working with the Southwestern Medical Clinic. The Rhodes family is residing at 109 Berry street, Berrien Springs.

REAFFIRMATION
Our modern phrase, "Today is the first day of the rest of your life," is merely a reaffirmation of the Biblical words: "Old things are passed away; behold all things are become new."

Churches Aid Guatemala

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Steadily, quietly, apart from the headlines, the manifold relief efforts of American churches moved into Guatemala. From the first word of the earthquake disaster, and now into the third week, the church operations there have swelled.

On jet planes and by ship, the U.S. aid teams, tents, blankets, medicines and food poured into the stricken area. The initiative came from a variety of church units, but the efforts converged in a vast, swift outpouring of help.

"We just set up our clinic and started working," says Dr. Scott Middleton, of Corsicana, Tex., one of four Texas doctors who volunteered in the relief deployment of the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board.

At the start, the agencies concentrated on immediate needs, tent shelters and blankets, tons of canned food, clothing, water purification tablets and medicines.

The goods went by air — a series of cargo plane flights from airports in New York and Washington chartered by Church World Service, relief arm of most Protestant and Orthodox denominations, and by Catholic Relief Services.

Both also sent in extra personnel bolstering staffs already on the scene. Each of the two major church agencies also sent $100,000 each for emergency purchases on the spot, with more funds and crews scheduled for the rebuilding job.

"More help is on the way," Episcopal Presiding Bishop John M. Allin messaged crews there. Dioceses of that denomination alone — in Florida, Kentucky, Texas and elsewhere — sent a score of doctors and nurses, plus engineers and construction workers.

The disaster, described by the U.S. Ambassador in Guatemala, Francis E. Meloy Jr., as "the greatest catastrophe in the history of Central America," has taken an officially estimated toll of 22,088 lives, left 74,015 injured and uncounted thousands homeless.

"We didn't have to wait while we assembled an American team — we had people on the spot," says the Rev. Dr. J. Harry Haines, United Methodist relief committee executive. But he adds that the rehabilitation job there will be prolonged.

"The need will be for a long-term program because most of the suffering and damage was in the slum areas, among people least able to cope with it," he says.

The Rev. Dr. Paul McLeary, executive director of Church World Service, appealed for a million-dollar fund for emergency work. Archbishop Joseph L. Bernardin of Cincinnati, president of the National Council of Catholic Bishops, urged special collections in each diocese across the country to bring "solace and help" to the victims.

Aside from the special drives, however, large-scale relief efforts rolled ahead. In the first two weeks, six cargo flights — three each by Church World Service and Catholic Relief Services — went out carrying cots, antibiotics, flashlights, vaccines, tools, splints and other supplies, plus two light trucks. Four ships carrying additional church relief goods departed from Pensacola, Fla., and truck convoys rolled into Guatemala from church relief warehouses in surrounding Central American countries.

"The dust problem is tremendous," Dr. Middleton said in a message from the area. "The houses that fell down all were made of adobe and they are trying to clear the streets of rubble — the dust is incredible. It's causing pulmonary problems."

Another physician, Dr. Phil Berry of Dallas, said "the kids are exposed to the night air, sleeping in tents and on the ground. It's cold, and there'll be medical problems relating to that — colds and pneumonia."

Other groups working on the scene, and shipping in relief goods, included Lutheran World Relief, the Menonite Central Committee, the relief arm of the National Association of Evangelicals, and the Salvation Army, named by the government to coordinate relief efforts.

CHURCH NEWS OF RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

The supper will be followed by a presentation on the national and world missions of the United Methodist church.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

THE BIBLE

No. 227. The Book of Proverbs: Temperance

In the book of Proverbs, we find moral virtues emphasized by having pointed out to us their contrary vices. "Hear thou, my son, and be wise, and guide thine heart in the way. Be not among winebibbers; among riotous eaters of flesh. For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty; and drowsiness shall clothe a man with rags." (Proverbs 23:19-21)

To point out the importance of the temperate life, the writer employs questions and answers: "Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of eyes? They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek mixed wine." (Proverbs 23:29-30)

Finally, the author sternly warns that "At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder. Thine eyes shall behold strange women, and thine heart shall utter perverse things. Yea, thou shalt be as he that lieth down in the midst of the sea, or as he that lieth upon the top of a mast." (Proverbs 23:32-34)

Concert Feb. 28

WATERVLIET — Dave Edwards, soloist and song leader, of Southgate, will present a gospel music concert at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 28, at Midway Baptist church, Watervliet. The public is invited.

Edwards travels fulltime appearing in concert programs, evangelistic crusades, special meetings and banquets. He frequently appears with his wife, Irma, in duets.

Edwards can be heard regularly with the Billy Walker Evangelistic association in crusades and appears regularly at the Youth on the March rally. He is also seen frequently with Dr. Dave Breese of Christian Destiny, Inc. He is also involved with his own concert programs and with the Zondervan Talent Service. He has also made several recordings.

A native of Jackson, he received training at Moody Bible Institute. He attended

DAVE EDWARDS

Hiawatha Youth Camp and is now music coordinator for the camp.

Schedule Seminary Musical

Luther Rice Seminary Extension Center, Benton Harbor, will sponsor a musical program Sunday, Feb. 22, at 3 p.m. at New Bethel Baptist church, Benton Harbor. The public is invited.

Choirs and soloists will participate from Progressive Baptist church, New Paradise Baptist church, First Baptist church and the host church, all of Benton Harbor, Tabernacle Baptist church of Covert and Mt. Olive Baptist church of Niles.

Mrs. Bertha Jackson will be mistress of ceremonies and the Rev. Milton McAfee, pastor of the host church, will give a sermonette.

The Rev. David McShane of South Haven will give the devotions assisted by Johnny Jeffries.

A social hour will follow the program.

The committee in charge of the event includes the Rev. McAfee, Mrs. Allen Harvell and Mrs. Johnny Jeffries.

Missionary To Be Speaker For Spiritual Life Workshop

A Spiritual Life Workshop will be held Saturday, March 13, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at Lakeshore Baptist church, Stevensville.

All women of the area are invited.

MRS. ROBERT SCHINDLER

Theme of the workshop is "Our Resources in God." Featured speaker will be Mrs. Robert (Marian) Schindler.

The workshop will include eight mini talks: Witnessing, Facing Life's Difficulties, Priorities, How to be an Effective Helpmate, Christian Hospitality, Time Out for Effective Bible Study, Prayer Life and Overcoming Worry.

Other events planned are conversational prayer and sharing, group singing, special music, book nook and lunch.

Cost for the day is $3.25 and reservations are asked by March 1. Those wishing to make reservations may send checks to Mrs. Dale Carmichael, 1608 South Riviera drive, Stevensville, 49127, or Mrs. Allen Ernst, 1640 South Riviera drive, Stevensville, 49127.

The committee in charge of the workshop includes Mrs. Lawrence (Muriel) Holben, chairman, Mrs. Roger (Cynthia) Bollenbacher, Mrs. Dale (Elizabeth) Carmichael, Mrs. Walter (Gretel) Damrau, Mrs. R.I. (Nel) Thompson and Mrs. Allen (Mary) Ernst.

Mrs. Schindler and her husband, Dr. Robert Schindler, and their two sons returned from the mission field last summer and while on furlough reside at 2280 Shawnee lane, Stevensville.

They served in Liberia for over 13 years and while there Mrs. Schindler taught school, worked at radio station ELWA and helped her husband in the hospital office.

The hospital for the Sudan Interior Mission was the result of the Schindlers work there. Mrs. Schindler designed by the hospital which was built, staffed and equipped by Dr. Schindler. Last year the hospital served 50,000 patients.

Dr. Schindler rejoined the staff of Berrien General hospital when the couple returned to the United States following their most recent term of service in Liberia, where they were presented Liberia's highest civilian awards.

Churches Aid Guatemala

AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Steadily, quietly, apart from the headlines, the manifold relief forces of American churches moved into Guatemala. From the first word of the earthquake disaster, and now into the third week, the church operations there have swelled.

On jet planes and by ship, the U.S. aid teams, tents, blankets, medicines and food poured into the stricken area. The initiative came from a variety of church units, but the efforts converged in a vast, swift outpouring of help.

"We just set up our clinic and started working," says Dr. Scott Middleton, of Corsicana, Tex., one of four Texas doctors who volunteered in the relief deployment of the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board.

At the start, the agencies concentrated on immediate needs, tent shelters and blankets, tons of canned food, clothing, water purification tablets and medicines.

The goods went by air — a series of cargo plane flights from airports in New York and Washington chartered by Church World Service, relief arm of most Protestant and Orthodox denominations, and by Catholic Relief Services.

Both also sent in extra personnel bolstering staffs already on the scene. Each of the two major church agencies also sent $100,000 each for emergency purchases on the spot, with more funds and crews scheduled for the rebuilding job.

"More help is on the way," Episcopal Presiding Bishop John M. Allin messaged crews there. Dioceses of that denomination alone — in Florida, Kentucky, Texas and elsewhere — sent a score of doctors and nurses, plus engineers and construction workers.

The disaster, described by the U.S. Ambassador in Guatemala, Francis E. Meloy Jr., as "the greatest catastrophe in the history of Central America," has taken an officially estimated toll of 22,088 lives, left 74,015 injured and uncounted thousands homeless.

"We didn't have to wait while we assembled an American team — we had people on the spot," says the Rev. Dr. J. Harry Haines, United Methodist relief committee executive. But he adds that the rehabilitation job there will be prolonged.

"The need will be for a long-term program because most of the suffering and damage was in the slum areas, among people least able to cope with it," he says.

The Rev. Dr. Paul McLeary, executive director of Church World Service, appealed for a million-dollar fund for emergency work. Archbishop Joseph L. Bernardin of Cincinnati, president of the National Council of Catholic Bishops, urged special collections in each diocese across the country to bring "solace and help" to the victims.

Aside from the special drives, however, large-scale relief efforts rolled ahead. In the first two weeks, six cargo flights — three each by Church World Service and Catholic Relief Services — went out carrying cots, antibiotics, flashlights, vaccines, tools, splints and other supplies, plus two light trucks.

Four ships carrying additional church relief goods debarked from Pensacola, Fla., and truck convoys rolled into Guatemala from church relief warehouses in surrounding Central American countries.

"The dust problem is tremendous," Dr. Middleton said in a message from the area. "The houses that fell down all were made of adobe and they are trying to clear the streets of rubble — the dust is incredible. It's causing pulmonary problems."

Another physician, Dr. Phil Berry of Dallas, said "the kids are exposed to the night air, sleeping in tents and on the ground. It's cold, and there'll be medical problems relating to that — colds and pneumonia."

Other groups working on the scene, and shipping in relief goods, included Lutheran World Relief, the Mennonite Central Committee, the relief arm of the National Association of Evangelicals, and the Salvation Army, named by the government to coordinate relief efforts.

Black History Program Set

"The Greatest Supporters" will be the theme of a Black History Week program Sunday, Feb. 22, at 4 p.m. at Pilgrim Rest Baptist church, Benton Harbor.

Speaker for the program will be Festus Valentine, an instructor and counselor at Lake Michigan college.

Sponsor of the program is Mission Circle No. 2. According to Mrs. David (Mable) Davis, chairman, the purpose of the program is to honor common laborers, blue collar workers, para-professionals and some professionals. Mrs. Davis says, "these people seem to get very little recognition from all people and we feel that this honor and recognition is way over due to these people."

The public is invited to the program.

Among companies and their representatives who will participate will be Curtis Hartfield, Auto Specialties Manufacturing company; Larry Brown, Superior Steel; Mrs. Mary Carpenter, Whirlpool corporation; Mrs. Fredonia Hayes, school transportation; representatives of Bendix and Michigan Standard Alloys; Guy Huddleston, minority contractors; Voyd Thomas and Walter Thomas, individual contractors and carpenters; Mrs. Gretchen Gillespie and Mrs. Earstine Rucker, para-professionals and nurses; Memorial and Mercy hospitals; Louella Nunley and Callie McGrew, beauticians, and Ray Robbins, morticians.

Also participating will be Miss Nikki Harris. Special honors will be given to three members of the Happiness Bloom club, Mrs. Ora Dowdy, Mrs. Marie Nelson and Harry Lee. Mrs. Gusteen Sharrod, secretary at the Benton Harbor Continuing Education Center, will conduct the ceremony.

Refreshments will be served following the program.

Mrs. Woodsey Joseph is food chairman and Mrs. David (Mable) Davis is program chairman. Committee members are Mrs. Richard (Charlene) Tynes, Mrs. Louise Walker, Mrs. Robert (Pauline) Hardy, Mrs. Ellis (Ollie Mae) Hull and Mrs. Lucius (Louise) Allen.

NEWS OF RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

Area Churches Plan Special Events

The Singing Gardiner Family, a Gospel singing evangelistic team from Buchanan, will conduct services Sunday, Feb. 22, through Wednesday, Feb. 25, at NORTH LINCOLN BAPTIST CHURCH, St. Joseph.

The public is invited to the services which will be held at 9:30 and 10:45 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday and at 7:30 p.m. Monday through Wednesday.

A youth rally will be held tonight at 7 o'clock at APOSTOLIC TABERNACLE, Benton Harbor. All area youth are invited, according to Assistant Pastor Billy Long.

Theme of the rally is "Crown Him Lord." The Singing Dynsons of the United Pentecostal church of South Haven will participate and the Rev. Steve Dyson will be guest speaker.

Revival services will be held at ST. JUDE'S SPIRITUAL CHURCH, Benton Harbor, Sunday, Feb. 22, through Sunday, Feb. 29.

The public is invited to the services which will be held at 7 p.m. each night.

The revival is being sponsored by the Rev. Eddie King.

GANGES — A potluck supper and family night for the congregations of GANGES UNITED METHODIST CHURCH and SAUGATUCK UNITED METHODIST CHURCH will be held at 6 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 22, at the Ganges church.

The supper will be followed by a presentation on the national and world missions of the United Methodist church.

Plan Lutheran Hour Sunday

Area churches will join congregations throughout The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod Feb. 29 in celebrating Lutheran Hour Sunday as a day of special prayers for the worldwide Gospel radio ministry.

The Lutheran Hour, with offices in the United States, Canada and 17 other countries around the world, is the largest non-governmental radio operation. Now in its 43rd season, The Lutheran Hour is broadcast by about 1,800 radio stations around the world; is produced in 45 languages and has a listening audience numbering in the millions in 125 countries.

Dr. Oswald Hoffmann has been the speaker on the worldwide and domestic English language program since 1955.

The theme for the observance is "Alive in Christ," according to Paul Wegele, chairman of the Lutheran Hour committee of the International Lutheran Laymen's League, sponsor of the program.

Wegele said, "The theme is particularly appropriate since the main thrust of the program is to proclaim the joys of a life in which Jesus Christ is acknowledged as Lord and Savior. This was the goal of the program when Dr. Walter A.

Maier made his first address as Lutheran Hour speaker in 1930, when Dr. Hoffmann made his first address as Lutheran Hour speaker 21 years ago, and will be for as long as the program is on the air."

About 1,100 stations in the United States and Canada carry the English language program with Dr. Hoffmann, with about 50 other domestic stations carrying programs in Spanish, French, Chinese, Japanese, Finnish and Slovak.

In addition to The Lutheran Hour, the International Lutheran Laymen's League, an auxiliary of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, sponsors Preaching Through the Press, a print evangelism program. It is also co-sponsor of "This Is The Life," the award-winning television ministry.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

THE BIBLE

No. 227. The Book of Proverbs: Temperance

In the book of Proverbs, we find moral virtues emphasized by having pointed out to us their contrary vices. "Hear thou, my son, and be wise, and guide thine heart in the way. Be not among winebibbers; among riotous eaters of flesh: For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty; and drowsiness shall clothe a man with rags." (Proverbs 23:19-21)

To point out the importance of the temperate life, the writer employs questions and answers: "Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of eyes? They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek mixed wine." (Proverbs 23:29-30)

Finally, the author sternly warns that "At the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder. Thine eyes shall behold strange women, and thine heart shall utter perverse things. Yea, thou shalt be as he that lieth down in the midst of the sea, or as he that lieth upon the top of a mast." (Proverbs 23:32-34)

Announce Guest Speaker

Dr. Charles Rhodes, a medical missionary from the Central African Republic, will be guest speaker at the Napier Parkview Baptist church, Benton Harbor, for the 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. services.

Dr. Rhodes and his family have served in Africa under Baptist Mid-Missions since 1964. They are on furlough and plan to return to Africa next summer.

Dr. Rhodes is the director of all medical work of the mission in the Central African Republic which involves supervision of one hospital and six dispensaries.

While on furlough, Dr. Rhodes has been on the staff of Berrien General hospital, Berrien Center, and has been working with the Southwestern Medical Clinic. The Rhodes family is residing at 100 Berry street, Berrien Springs.

REAFFIRMATION

Our modern phrase, "Today is the first day of the rest of your life," is merely a reaffirmation of the Biblical words: "Old things are passed away; behold all things are become new."

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Ogden Nash Wrong Sometimes

Dear Ann Landers: My wife and I have heard convincing arguments on both sides. We don't know what to believe. You are going to settle it.

Question: When people are under the influence of alcohol (not cockeyed drunk, just moderately plastered) do they reveal their hidden feelings? Or do they say and do things they don't mean? Also, what about booze and sex? Does liquor help a person in the mood?

I'm not saying this very well

but I hope you dig me. Thanks for your time. — John Barleycorn — Saint Or Sinner?

Dear John: Alcohol removes the inhibitions. It loosens the tongue. Individuals who have had too much to drink often say what is on their minds — things they wouldn't have the nerve to say sober. The same goes for behavior.

As for booze and sex, a drink or two can cause a person to behave in a less restrained or controlled manner, especially women. As for men, the same holds true — to a point. But often a male who leans on "bottled courage" to become sexually aggressive finds to his dismay (and embarrassment) that he cannot function at all. That Ogden Nash gets, "Candy's dandy but liquor is quicker," does not always prove out.

Don't Snitch

Dear Ann Landers: I love

reading your column but never believed I'd ever be writing to you. Well here I am, like so many others.

Three of us gals are good friends. Amy and I study a lot and work hard. Lorna goof off and is always behind in her assignments. The three of us sit near each other in most of our classes.

During tests, Goof-Off passes notes to everyone around her asking for help with the answers. We hate to turn her down for fear she might flunk, honestly, Ann, she doesn't know anything — never cracks a book. The last test was a shocker. Goof-Off got a better grade than we did.

Should we write an unsigned note to the teacher and tip her off? The teacher is being unfair to everyone in the class who studies. Especially us. — G And R

Dear Grrrrrrrr: People who help cheaters cheat are also cheaters. Don't snitch. Just tell

ANN LANDERS

Lorna from now on she's on her own. If she tries to slip you a note, don't take it. End of problem.

Return It

Dear Ann Landers: Please find enclosed the chain letter that arrived yesterday. It is very annoying to receive these darned things in the mail because I'm a little superstitious. But I have no time for money) to spend on foolishness. This is the third chain letter I've received from the same person, and I have broken the chain every time.

Someone told me these things are illegal. Are they? I don't want to get anyone in trouble, but I sure wish this certain party would take my name off her list. What can I do without hurting her feelings? — Smirmer in South Dakota

Dear Smirmer: Return the last chain letter to your friend and tell her any chain letter soliciting funds is not mailable under federal law.

To all readers who have been beleaguered with chain letters (there are a variety of the pesky things) I urge you to send them to the Postal Inspector (your city) for "review."

A no-nonsense approach to how to deal with life's most difficult and most rewarding arrangement. Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage — What to Expect," will prepare you for better or for worse. Send your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120, enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Winter Band Concert Thursday

BERRIEN SPRINGS — The performing arts department of Berrien Springs public schools will present its annual winter band concert Thursday, Feb. 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The public is invited.

The high school Concert band and the middle school Concert band will perform under the direction of Peter A. Tolhuizen.

NAPH Meeting Feb. 27

THREE OAKS — River Valley Chapter of the National Association of the Physically Handicapped will meet Friday, Feb. 27, at 7:30 p.m. at Jordan's Nursing Home, Bridgman.

Any handicapped child or adult in the area is invited.

A program of music will be given by the Sweet Adelines, a ladies' barbershop quartet from Michigan City, Ind.

Refreshments for the social hour will be provided by Mrs. Betty Jordan.

Sawyer Banquet Planned

SAWYER — A father and son banquet will be held at Trinity Lutheran church, Sawyer, Sunday, Feb. 28, at 6:30 p.m.

A fried chicken dinner will be served. Tickets, at $3 for adults, and $1.50 for children ages five through 12, may be obtained by contacting Mrs. William Boyd or Mrs. Jack Anglin. Children under five years of age will be admitted free.

Special guest speaker will be John Olaszewski, snowmobile safety instructor, certified by the Department of Natural Resources, and member of the Blossomland Snowmobile Club of Southwestern Michigan. He will speak on "Snowmobile Safety and Fun." A snowmobile and gear will be displayed.

Give Face Softer Look

Bright, sunny make-up compliments the face much better than heavy, dark shades of lipstick, eye shadow and liner.

The latter is best worn at night or in artificial light. Lighter shades give the face a softer look in sunlight.

Doctors Deal Firmly With Heart Cases

CLEVELAND (AP) — Doctors at University hospitals here have developed a means of studying hardening of the arteries that has led them to be adamant with their patients.

"Because our research has shown us beyond the question of a doubt how dangerous the risk factors are to these patients, we don't merely make suggestions about reducing those factors; we insist," says Dr. Ralph G. DePalma.

DePalma was one of several Case Western Reserve university and University hospitals doctors who described the progress of their research to a recent conference in Canada.

Some risk factors have been known for some time, but little known about the actual development of the cholesterol deposits in the arteries, DePalma said. He said the hospital's recently developed surgical technique for removing the deposits from monkey arteries now permits analysis of the development of the disease.

By relating their animal studies to human clinical problems, DePalma said, the doctors have shown with selected patients that reducing such risk factors as high cholesterol levels, smoking and high blood pressure has produced regression of early deposits.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) It's important today to be around friends who are active, both mentally and physically. They'll inspire you.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You may have to draw upon the resources of others to attain your ends today. When you profit, they will also gain.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your approach is both philosophical and humorous today. You bring about harmony because you put others at ease.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your most outstanding knack today is your ability to transform something seemingly useless into something worthwhile.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Without trying, you can charm the birds out of the trees today. This doesn't mean that you can let down your guard and neglect your image.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Use your imagination and personality today to get people to do what is needed. They'll profit by being on the team.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Unless you have some fun things to do today, you'll be lost. If you're not asked to a party, throw one yourself.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) In a gentle fashion, remind those who are obligated to you that their accounts are long overdue. You'll get some returns.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You're the catalyst who gets the action going today. Although it may be dull when you make the scene, things will be jumping soon thereafter.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your instincts for self-preservation are very acute today. Move in the direction your intuition tells you to follow.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) This is not the type of day to be doing things alone. If friends don't come forth, drum up some get-togethers.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Achieving your aims should not be difficult for you today. Whether you know it or not, others are working behind the scenes to push you forward.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Reason, rather than force, should be used in any uptight situation today. Let your logic prevail.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't let another have the sole say today in making judgment that could cost you out-of-pocket. Think for yourself as well.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Try not to be overly assertive with associates today. Be cooperative. Think of yourself as part of a team.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't let minor issues distract you today. Keep your goal in mind and proceed steadily.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) The actions of one you're very fond of may prove frustrating today. However, you have the wisdom to copy philosophically.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Today, rather than rush into a situation of major importance, weigh alternatives. You may find a more profitable course.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Someone may try to tell you something today for your own good, but you could resent him if it's told. However, try to be objective.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Keep meddlers out of your business affairs today. They could gum things up a bit.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You're apt to be luckier today doing things on your own than you would be with an associate whose views don't harmonize.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Today your preconceived ideas could be negative. You could talk yourself out of something before trying it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Social plans you're not too eager about could turn out to be lots of fun today. Think twice before canceling.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Something you might get involved in today may not look too opportune at first. It could later prove surprisingly rewarding.

Dr. Lester Coleman

Scientists working on experimental animals are applying their new knowledge for the relief of arthritis.

Dr. John C. Liebskind, of University of California, with his co-workers, has been using a small battery arrangement to accomplish this.

The battery is implanted under the skin of the upper chest. Tiny wires run from this battery to a portion of the brain. When pain is markedly severe, the battery can be switched on and, within minutes, the joint pains disappear for many hours.

This research, not available for general use, does highlight the possibilities that are still untapped by neuro-physiologists. The fact that pain can be inhibited by electrical stimulation opens enormous horizons for the better understanding of pain and for the better relief of it. It is inevitable that more simplified methods for implanting electrodes into the brain will follow this research.

From the strangest sources sometimes come the most interesting medical advances. The poisonous seeds of a Mexican weed were found to be the source of a rare chemical needed as a safe drug for some heart disorders.

Dr. Jose Ibarra and his colleagues found some effective heart compound in the plant, genus Thevetia, commonly known as "yellow olandier."

This inexpensive source of heart drugs is found in abundance and may open widespread research for safer and better chemicals to regulate the heart and the heart beat.

Prostaglandins have captured the imagination of scientists for the past 15 years. The most wondrous values have been ascribed to these newly discovered substances found in the blood.

Their value in the understanding of high blood pressure, diabetes, stomach ulcers, vascular problems and many other conditions read almost like science-fiction.

At the Second International

Conference on Prostaglandins in May, 1975, a related substance, thromboxanes, almost overshadowed the prostaglandins.

This new substance may be the greatest contribution to the understanding of the cause and the treatment of thrombosis, or clots, within the blood vessels. The value of both of these substances for the prevention of strokes is enormous.

DR. LESTER COLEMAN has prepared a special booklet entitled "What to Do About Ulcers." For your copy, send 25 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lester L. If East took his queen South would have been able to score his 10th trick by taking a ruffing finesse against East's ace. But East had been doing some heavy thinking as soon as dummy hit the table and East won with the ace — not the queen. East felt that if South held a singleton heart something good might happen, while if South held a doubleton he would repeat the apparently proven finesse.

"Sure enough something good did happen. South won the spade return in his hand, entered dummy with the second spade, discarded a club of the king of hearts, led a low heart, ruffed and had to go one down when the queen of hearts failed to drop.

Ask the Jacobys

A Utah reader wants to know if it is correct to open one notrump with 17 high-card points including a singleton ace.

The answer is that all experts and writers have found that such hands should be opened one of a suit. You can still get to notrump, but in the meanwhile you have shown that your hand is better adapted to suit play.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Ogden Nash Wrong Sometimes

Dear Ann Landers: My wife and I have heard convincing arguments on both sides. We don't know what to believe. You are going to settle it.

Question: When people are under the influence of alcohol (not cockeyed drunk, just moderately plastered) do they reveal their hidden feelings? Or do they say and do things they don't mean? Also, what about booze and sex? Does liquor help get a person in the mood?

I'm not saying this very well

but I hope you dig me. Thanks for your time. — John Barleycorn — Saint Or Sinner?

Dear John: Alcohol removes the inhibitions. It loosens the tongue. Individuals who have had too much to drink often say what is on their minds — things they wouldn't have the nerve to say sober. The same goes for behavior.

As for booze and sex, a drink or two can cause a person, to behave in a less restrained or controlled manner, especially women. As for men, the same holds true — to a point. But often a male who leans on "bottled courage" to become sexually aggressive finds his dismay (and embarrassment) that he cannot function at all. That Ogden Nash gem, "Candy's dandy but liquor is quicker," does not always prove out.

Don't Snitch

Dear Ann Landers: I love

reading your column but never believed I'd ever be writing to you. Well here I am, like so many others.

Three of us gals are good friends. Amy and I study a lot and work hard. Lorna goes off and is always behind in her assignments. The three of us sit near each other in most of our classes.

During tests, Goof-Off passes notes to everyone around her asking for help with the answers. We hate to turn her down for fear she might flunk. Honestly, Ann, she doesn't know anything — never cracks a book. The last test was a shocker. Goof-Off got a better grade than we did.

Should we write an unsigned note to the teacher and tip her off? The cheater is being unfair to everyone in the class who studies. Especially us. — G And R

Dear Grrrrrrrr: People who help cheaters cheat are also cheaters. Don't snitch. Just tell

ANN LANDERS

Lorna from now on she's on her own. If she tries to slip you a note, don't take it. End of problem.

Return It

Dear Ann Landers: Please find enclosed the chain letter that arrived yesterday. It is very annoying to receive these darned things in the mail because I'm a little superstitious. But I have no time (or money) to spend on foolishness. This is the third chain letter I've received from the same person, and I have broken the chain every time.

Someone told me these things are illegal. Are they? I don't want to get anyone in trouble but I sure wish this certain party would take my name off her list. What can I do without hurting her feelings? — Simmering In South Dakota

Dear Simmering: Return the last chain letter to your friend and tell her any chain letter soliciting funds is not mailable under federal law.

To all readers who have been beleaguered with chain letters (there are a variety of the pesky things) I urge you to send them to the Postal Inspector (your city) for "review."

A no-nonsense approach to how to deal with life's most difficult and most rewarding arrangement. Ann Landers's booklet, "Marriage — What to Expect," will prepare you for better or for worse. Send your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120, enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Doctors Deal Firmly With Heart Cases

CLEVELAND (AP) — Doctors at University hospitals here have developed a means of studying hardening of the arteries that has led them to be adamant with their patients.

"Because our research has shown us beyond the question of a doubt how dangerous the risk factors are to these patients, we don't merely make suggestions about reducing those factors, we insist," says Dr. Ralph G. DePalma.

DePalma was one of several Case Western Reserve university and University hospitals factors who described the progress of their research to a recent conference in Canada. Some risk factors have been known for some time, but little known about the actual development of the cholesterol deposits in the arteries, DePalma said. He said the hospital's recently developed surgical technique for removing the deposits from monkey arteries now permits analysis of the development of the disease.

By relating their animal studies to human clinical problems, DePalma said, the doctors have shown with selected patients that reducing such risk factors as high cholesterol levels, smoking and high blood pressure has produced regression of early deposits.

Winter Band Concert Thursday

BERRIEN SPRINGS — The performing arts department of Berrien Springs public schools will present its annual winter band concert Thursday, Feb. 26, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The public is invited. The high school Concert band and the middle school Concert band will perform under the direction of Peter A. Tolhuizen.

NAPH Meeting Feb. 27

THREE OAKS — River Valley Chapter of the National Association of the Physically Handicapped will meet Friday, Feb. 27, at 7:30 p.m. at Jordan's Nursing home, Bridgman.

Any handicapped child or adult in the area is invited. A program of music will be given by the Sweet Adelines, a ladies' barbershop quartet from Michigan City, Ind.

Refreshments for the social hour will be provided by Mrs. Betty Jordan.

Sawyer Banquet Planned

SAWYER — A father and son banquet will be held at Trinity Lutheran church, Sawyer, Sunday, Feb. 29, at 6:30 p.m.

A fried chicken dinner will be served. Tickets, at $3 for adults, and $1.50 for children ages five through 12, may be obtained by contacting Mrs. William Boyd or Mrs. Jack Anglin. Children under five years of age will be admitted free.

Special guest speaker will be John Olszewski, snowmobile safety instructor, certified by the Department of Natural Resources, and member of the Blossomland Snowmobile Club of Southwestern Michigan. He will speak on "Snowmobile Safety and Fun." A snowmobile and gear will be displayed.

Give Face Softer Look

Bright, sunny make-up complements the face much better than heavy, dark shades of lipstick, eye shadow and liner.

Nebraska Gas Station May Start National Price War

CHICAGO (AP) — Price slashing on gasoline by a station on the Nebraska Plains could start a nationwide trend, says an oil industry newsletter.

Horb Hugo, senior editor for Platt's Oilgram, said Friday an independent gas station in Scottsbluff, Neb., cut prices at the pump from $2.8 to 38.9 cents per gallon for regular gasoline. A national price war could result, he said.

"Long lines are forming to get this gas at the Farnham Industries station in Scottsbluff," said Hugo.

"They obviously are selling below cost and it is the lowest in the country since before the oil embargo. If it can happen in Scottsbluff it could happen anywhere and that is the key point."

"Scottsbluff may seem an unlikely place for a national gasoline price-war to start, but it could trigger one," Hugo continued. "You get one or two guys starting a fight in a little town and it can become a national one."

Hugo said gasoline prices have been deteriorating gradually since Labor Day.

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Kathryn Kuhlman, an evangelist with a reputation as a faith healer even though she said she did not have any special healing powers, died Friday night at a hospital of pulmonary hypertension, hospital officials said.

Miss Kuhlman, whose age was not disclosed, had been hospitalized in Tulsa since Dec. 28, when she underwent open heart surgery for replacement of a mitral valve. Tink Wilkerson, of Tulsa, a friend, said she failed to regain her strength, although she recovered successfully from surgery.

Miss Kuhlman disliked being termed a faith healer although thousands had claimed healing

She told the jury of the terrorist bombing last week at her late grandfather's castle at San Simeon and of the threat against her and her family in a New World Liberation Front message claiming responsibility for the explosion.

Defense witness Ulysses Hall, 30, said he talked to SLA chieftain Donald "Cinque" DeFreeze by telephone after the April 15, 1974, bank robbery in which Miss Hearst is charged. He said DeFreeze told him the newspaper heiress could be killed, freed or turned into an outlaw.

"And actually the trick did work," Hall said, looking at the counsel table where Miss Hearst sat, "because she's here today on trial."

Advice To House-Hunters: 'Level With Your Broker'

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

House shoppers "should level with real estate brokers" about what they want.

That advice comes from Betty Ann Rake of Chicago who tries to find homes for employees who are transferred by 80 corporations. She and her staff locate about 700 houses a year, working with local brokers.

"Some people look at homes existing far more than they can afford. It doesn't condition them for the kind of house they can buy and it makes them unhappy. Then, too, some people do not want to throw money into a house — they might have children in college or perhaps they want to travel or do other things with their money."

"Understandable, but why not say so?"

About one out of three transferees is helped by employers, maintains Miss Rake, who is head of the home-finding department of the Employer Transfer Corp. Another 300,000 or so are on their own and can use all the help they can get.

"The first step should be to contact a boss or coworkers at the new location who could recommend real estate brokers. The broker can do a lot of advance screening for the transferee. If he knows what is needed: A telephone call to the broker can set him straight."

Tell the broker what you need and how much you can pay. If you absolutely need a basement, you should relay the information.

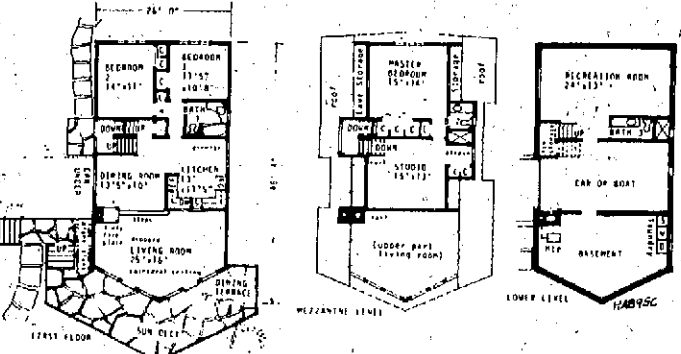

Most transferees want newer houses rather than old ones that require work. They should point out that fact, Miss Rake suggests.

"The broker should really talk to the woman as well as the man of the family," says Miss Rake. The man knows what he wants, but the woman will know many more things about the family's needs, no doubt, little bits of information that might not occur to her husband.

"In addition to house prices, down payments, interest rates and mortgage terms available in a community, a broker should have data on taxes, schools, transportation and general community information," she explained. There should be maps showing where the different types of houses are available.

If you've been referred to a broker who doesn't seem to understand your needs, you shouldn't hesitate to move along to another one, she maintains.

THE CONTEMPORARY CONCEPT of the A-frame is given a homey feeling through careful exterior and interior detailing. Three levels include a garage and basement, with three or four bedrooms available, and three baths. Plan HA893C has 1,105 square feet on the first floor and 550 on the second floor. Architect is Lester Cohen, Room 505, 48 West 48th street, New York, N. Y. 10036. Those wishing to know the cost of the blueprint can write to Cohen, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

FIRE STATIONS Benton Approves Repairs To Roofs

Roof repairs for two Benton township fire stations, totaling $2,150, were among building permits issued this week by Chester Shuck, chief of buildings and inspection.

The permits, each for $1,085, were issued to Enders & Co., Benton Harbor, to make repairs to the roofs of township fire station No. 2 at 450 Madeline avenue and fire station No. 3, 1403 East Napier avenue. The repairs will be paid out of the township's general fund.

Also issued a permit this week was Taylor Nolums, 1849 East Britton, to install a roof for himself at that address, $951.

VACATIONERS, RETIREES... House-Swapping Is 'In'

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Home exchange has become a way of life for many vacationers, says Wilma Ferguson of Winnetka, Ill., who has a service that helps link the people who want to swap homes.

"It's a way to have a rent-free vacation, but houses are exchanged for many reasons by people attending universities, grandparents who may want to be near their children, but not underfoot, and by businessmen who want their families with them on their temporary assignments."

House-swapping also gives people the opportunity to go abroad.

"And some people trade houses for security reasons. They want someone in the house while they are away. Not all house exchange is done by families. Lots of it is done by singles, divorcees, widowers. Retired people use house trading as a way to study different communities," says Mrs. Ferguson.

On a membership basis, Mrs. Ferguson provides a service, Adventures in Living, which is a director of people who would like to exchange houses. Some photographs are included in the booklet. House swappers make their own arrangements using the advice Mrs. Ferguson provides.

"One must be sure to get all details of the house, apartment, condominium, the number of rooms and beds, kitchen facilities, recreation and so on," she says.

"And it is important to get business, personal and bank references and to check out everything. A security deposit should be given and I suggest that photographs of the family as well as the home should be exchanged."

The house swapper should also be sure her insurance covers use of the house, car, boat or whatever by the other people.

There should be agreement on phone calls, major appliances, special equipment. And one might want to store antiques, heirlooms and other valuables in a locked closet.

Mrs. Ferguson always advises her members to write to 10 or 15 house offerings before they make a decision, but other than that she doesn't actually get involved.

"The only complaints I've heard have been minor. When people exchange they usually take good care of the house because they know the other person is responsible for their dwelling. That's why a security deposit is a good idea," she says.

Some listings are tempting. One man sent a postcard from

Greece with an X marking the spot of his house, just below the Acropolis... an American actress wrote that she had a European villa and would "willingly trade her Mercedes for a like car."

A color photograph of a chateau in France illustrated another good offering.

PILOT PROGRAM: Anthony Janovitz holds ladder as his daughter prepares to examine solar energy unit installed on the roof of their Norwich, Conn., home. Pilot solar energy project is believed first in the nation by a municipal-owned utility. Janovitz family received the first of 24 units to be installed in the city-wide experimental program. Launched Thursday, project will test economic feasibility of heating domestic water by solar energy. (AP Wirephoto)

"The only complaints I've heard have been minor. When people exchange they usually take good care of the house because they know the other person is responsible for their dwelling. That's why a security deposit is a good idea," she says.

Some listings are tempting. One man sent a postcard from

Greece with an X marking the spot of his house, just below the Acropolis... an American actress wrote that she had a European villa and would "willingly trade her Mercedes for a like car."

A color photograph of a chateau in France illustrated another good offering.

Michigan To Buy Ann Arbor RR

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan may become a railroad owner for the first time since the turn of the century — and that possibility could bring controversy.

The U.S. Railway Association on Friday approved selling more than 40 miles of the bankrupt Ann Arbor Railroad line to the state. Gov. William Milliken said the state will pay about $500,000 for the section of track.

The Michigan Chamber of Commerce is against state railroad ownership, mainly because it says the situation would lead to unhealthy competition with private enterprise. It is also possible that other carriers, such as bus line operators, will object on grounds that state-owned rail service will lead to larger rail subsidies similar to those now going to Amtrak.

The Toledo to Ann Arbor stretch is critical because it is the only profitable section of the Ann Arbor system, according to Bill Bailey, acting manager of rail freight programs in the Highway Department.

He said the state will continue efforts to acquire remaining portions of the system from bankruptcy trustees.

Those sections, including cross-lake ferry service between Frankfort and Kewauenee, Wis., have been assured of state operating subsidies for the next two years.

The association Friday approved conveying the line from Toledo, Ohio, to Ann Arbor, along with a Salline branch. It also approved selling all Ann Arbor engines and cars to the state.

However, an association spokesman said all of these actions depend on the state's furnishing firm evidence by March 3 that it has made arrangements with an operator and the appropriate labor unions for operation of the lines.

Bailey said the state could select one of two solvent carriers in Michigan — the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton or the Grand Trunk Western to operate the state-owned line or it could turn to ConRail.

Customers Pay For Subsidiary

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Consumers' Power Co. customers pay at least $2.7 million each year to help bankroll a subsidiary from which they get no profit, says the staff of a special legislative committee.

The staff of the special House committee probing utility rate-setting said Friday the company's stockholders, not its customers, should pay all the bills for the Northern Michigan Exploration Co., which is engaged in gas exploration and production.

The Public Service Commission treatment of Consumers' investment in Northern Michigan Exploration Company (NMECO) allows half of the actual costs of the investment to be included in the electric and gas rates," said the report.

"This means that Consumers' ratepayers are paying some $2.7 million or more per year in additional rates because of this treatment of NMECO by the Commission, yet all profits from NMECO flow to the benefit of Consumers' stockholders," it said.

Consumers' earned $8.3 million in fiscal year 1974-75 on its investment in NMECO, which conducts its activities in Michigan and other states.

The staff recommended laws be passed to force the PSC to change its policy to prohibit subsidiary investments from being included in a company's rate base. Customer rates are computed as a percentage of the rate base.

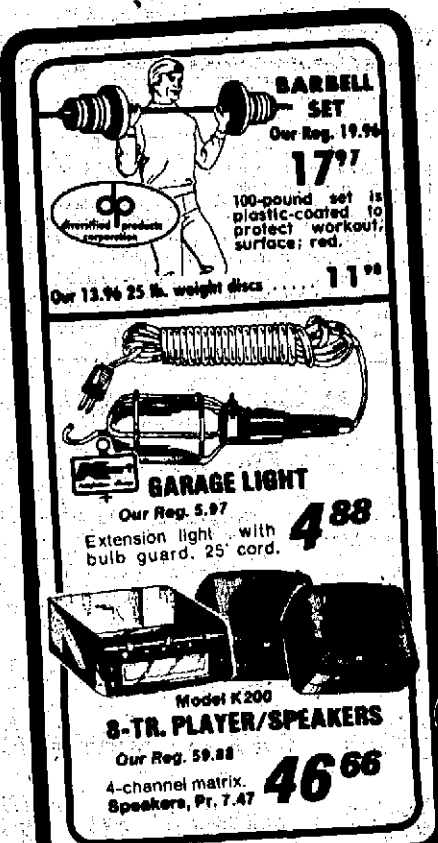

A change in PSC policy is necessary, because other companies, including Detroit Edison Co. and Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., are planning similar "profit-making or speculative ventures," the staff said.

The full committee will consider the recommendations at a March meeting and could introduce legislation based on them.

Wintry Weather Greet Nixons In Peking

PEKING (AP) — Richard M. Nixon arrives to wintry weather in Peking today on the fourth anniversary of his historic trip to China, the first by an American president. Amid snow and subfreezing temperatures there were no outward signs of any major preparations for Nixon's return as a private citizen at the invitation of the Chinese.

The Peking government sent a Chinese Airlines Boeing 707 jetliner to Los Angeles Friday to pick up the former president and his wife, Pat. The Nixons posed for photographers on the boarding ramp with two Chinese diplomats, and then took off for Anchorage, Alaska, and Tokyo on the way to Peking.

Benton Woman Shot; Man Held

Motorcyclist Is Injured In Crash

NILES — Robert Scroggins Jr., 19, 806 Carroll street, Buchanan, injured in a motorcycle accident on US-12 west of here last night, was listed in satisfactory condition today at Pawing hospital in Niles.

State police from the Niles post said Scroggins suffered a broken leg and cuts and bruises in the 10:30 p.m. crash near Mayflower road.

Troopers said Scroggins was driving the motorcycle east on US-12 when he apparently lost control of the cycle and was thrown.

No citations were issued and the investigation of the crash is continuing, police said.

Nuclear Safety Protesters Led By New 'Faith'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two nuclear engineers who quit their jobs to dramatize their concern for nuclear safety, say their membership in a quasi-religious group influenced them to speak out.

Dale G. Breidenbaugh and Richard B. Hubbard, who resigned this month as middle-level executives with General Electric's nuclear division, said a personal search for truth convinced them to warn the public of what they see as a nuclear power plant peril.

The engineers are members of an eight-year-old philosophical group called the Creative Initiative Foundation (CIF), which is based in Palo Alto, Calif., and claims about 2,000 members. Its founders say it is composed largely of young professionals and, like many religious groups, teaches self-examination and responsibility.

Ford Stamp Plan Criticized

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's plan to go around Congress in setting up new rules to change the $5.8 billion food stamp program is being criticized by some lawmakers who say the move is political. Agriculture Department attorneys are to spend the weekend putting Ford's revisions into legal language. Ford unveiled his plan in letters delivered to congressional committee chairmen Friday while he was campaigning in New Hampshire. Ford's plan would trim the food stamp rolls by 25 per cent, cut the program's huge budget by 20 per cent and increase benefits to about 24 per cent of the current recipients. The move came as the Senate Agriculture Committee was finishing work on a set of comprehensive proposals to reform the food stamp program, which both liberals and conservatives have criticized as wasteful.

Six Unsolved Murders

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Jackson County Prosecutor Bruce A. Barton says he may request a one-man grand jury to probe six unsolved murders. Local law enforcement officials say they need grand jury subpoena powers to generate new leads and force testimony from possible witnesses. "There could be a connection between two or more of the murders," Barton said Friday. "Some of the homicides may be connected. We do not believe that all six are connected." Barton declined to say which of the six he believes may be related. He has not yet made a final decision on whether to request the grand jury, he said.

Ex-Mayor Charged

CADILLAC, Mich. (AP) — Raymond "Pete" Wagner, who resigned as Cadillac's mayor Feb. 9, was free on his own recognizance today after being charged with 41 counts of embezzlement. Wagner demanded examination at his arraignment Thursday after being indicted by a one-man grand jury. His examination is set for March 30. The embezzlement charges involve more than $12,000 taken from the Wexford County abstractor's office during the years between 1970 through 1974. Wagner became Cadillac's mayor in 1971 and held both offices concurrently during most of the period in question.

Suit's Cash Demand To Grow

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A $12 million state suit against Consumers Power Co. is expected to swell soon to about $103 million, says Asst. Atty. Gen. Hugh Anderson. Anderson said briefs asking for about $91 million more in rebates for Consumers' customers are expected to be filed because of new information in a Public Service Commission report released this week. Statistics in the report showed the Jackson-based utility collected $103 million from customers in 1974 and 1975 through its fuel adjustment clause to pay for ready-made power it bought from other companies. Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, who believes such automatic charges for purchased power are illegal, asked the Ingham County Circuit Court last month to return $12 million to Consumers' customers.

Anti-Abortion Top Issue

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A Constitutional anti-abortion amendment will be a top issue of Thomas Brennan's Senate campaign, the former state Supreme Court justice has indicated. "The U. S. Supreme Court decision (in 1973 allowing abortion on demand) was about the worst constitutional law since the Dred Scott decision," Brennan, a Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, said this week on WKAR-TV. The Dred Scott decision in 1857 said that blacks had no rights as citizens. Brennan, an Irish Catholic father of six, is now dean of the Cooley Law School. He will announce his formal candidacy for the seat of retiring U. S. Sen. Philip Hart Monday.

OBITUARIES

Thomas Doner

Thomas Doner, 22, late last night was found dead inside the garage of his home, 909 Pearl street, Benton Harbor, city police reported.

Patrolman Dennis Matthews said an autopsy to determine the cause of death was to be performed at Mercy hospital today by Dr. Charles Bonstra, a pathologist.

Matthews said his initial investigation indicates the cause of death is believed to be carbon monoxide poisoning. The body of Doner was found at 11:31 p.m. on the floor of the garage and the doors were closed, Matthews said. The officer reported that the ignition of a pickup truck inside the garage was turned on and the gasoline tank was empty.

Doner was pronounced dead on arrival at Mercy hospital at 11:58 p.m. There has been no ruling yet on whether the death was accidental or suicide, police said.

TRAVEL AT OWN RISK: Trucker tries to navigate Graham avenue morass to get to Graham Metals Corp. Company President Leonard Goldstein said: "Being a taxpayer to the City of Benton Harbor for 25 years, I think we are entitled to a street to allow our vehicles and customers free movement without getting stuck." City commission is seeking a way to pay for complete rebuilding of street. But right now Goldstein says some gravel would really help. Also on Graham avenue are Superior Steel Castings Co. and Twin Cities Metal Finishing located in part of former Benton Harbor Malleable Industries.

said this morning an investigation is continuing as to whether the death was suicide or accidental. There were no witnesses to the shooting, police said.

Bianchi said police believe the victim may have been out hunting squirrels with the weapon prior to the shooting.

He said people in the area heard gunshots about an hour before the shooting took place, and he said the victim was known to hunt squirrels.

Police said Lake lived alone in an apartment at the Beechwood circle residence.

funeral service. He was born Nov. 23, 1916, in Benton Harbor. He was a self-employed carpenter. He was a veteran of World War II and a member of American Legion Post 362, Coloma.

Surviving are two sons,

Thomas and Ronald, both of Boise, Idaho; two brothers, Richard Lake, Olongapo, Philippines, Vernon Lake, South Haven; and two sisters, Mrs. Frank (Virginia) Randall, St. Joseph, Mrs. Alfred (Genevieve) Howarth, Benton Harbor.

Ypsi Man Charged In Ky.

A man accused of trying to turn off a woman's life support system at the University of Kentucky Medical Center here says he doesn't remember what happened, but that if he did tamper with the equipment, it wasn't intentional. James Vanover, 22, who said he was from Ypsilanti, Mich., was charged Friday with first degree assault for allegedly trying to turn off the machinery that keeps Pam Strohl, 28, alive. Mrs. Strohl has been in a coma for four months from viral encephalitis.

Berrien Republicans Will Meet To Decide 'Issues Of Concern'

The Berrien county Republican committee will meet Tuesday night, Feb. 24, to decide on national issues of concern to Republicans in the county, according to Lee Auble, committee chairman. Auble said the committee will choose six issues of concern to Berrien county Republicans, and they will then be presented to the party's state issues committee. The public meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the Royalton township hall, at the corner of John Beers and Scottsdale roads. Among issues to be discussed at the meeting include welfare reform, abortion legislation, defense spending, deficit spending, energy, environment, control of intelligence agencies, anti-busing and campaign laws.

Five Teenagers Arrested In Connection With Threats

NILES — Niles township police said five Niles area teenagers, three adults and two juveniles, have been arrested in connection with bomb threats made to Brandywine schools earlier this week.

Charged with making false bomb threats were John Marazita and Tony Gallimore, both 17, and Alan Bowerman, 18, all of Niles, police said. Police identified the three as Niles high school students.

Police said the two juvenile boys, a 15-year-old Brandywine high school student, and a 16-year-old Niles high school student have been released to the custody of their parents. Both will be petitioned to probate court, police said.

The arrests were made in connection with bomb threats telephoned to the school district's central number on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, police said.

Police said all six schools within the district were evacuated and searched on Monday; the high school and Winkler elementary were searched but not evacuated on Tuesday, and the high school was again evacuated and searched on Wednesday. No bombs were ever found.

Five Killed On State Highways

By Associated Press

Year to date 1972
1975 to date 198

State Police said five people were killed in Michigan traffic accidents in the first 18 hours of the state's weekend traffic count.

It covers the period from 4 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

Two of the victims died when their vehicles collided head-on Friday night in Leoni Township, Jackson County. They were Steven Laderle, 34, of Michigan Center and Dorris Mae Wheland, 58, of Jackson.

Other fatalities included: Richard Dean Jennin, 11, of Dundee injured fatally Friday night in an auto collision on M-50, Cambridge Township, Lenawee County.

Brian Leroy Pacheco, 18, of Trenton, injured fatally early today when his car veered off a Trenton highway.

Michael Stuart McNab, 30, of Fenton, was killed in Holly Township, Oakland County, when his car hit a tree early today.

waste of taxpayers' money. "This job was not done for nothing," he said. "The taxpayers are paying for it." Gabbard said he did not seek the insulation service just because it was free. He said he received no welfare support and lives solely on his social security income of approximately $210 per month. "What's the sense of them picking up a bill for $2-3,000 and then leave it half done?"

Legg said the guidelines prevent them from spending that much on any home. He said the average spent on any home is $500, including labor.

Legg said BCA receives a number of calls from residents who want them to do anything from painting the house to installing new wells. He said guidelines limit their work to installing windows, new doors and storm windows, caulking and weather stripping.

Legg said BCA receives "mostly compliments" after weatherproofing and insulation work is completed.

Benton Woman Shot; Man Held

Motorcyclist Is Injured In Crash

NILES — Robert Scroggins Jr., 19, 806 Carroll street, Buchanan, injured in a motorcycle accident on US-12 west of here last night, was listed in satisfactory condition today at Pawing hospital in Niles.

State police from the Niles post said Scroggins suffered a broken leg and cuts and bruises in the 10:50 p.m. crash near Mayflower road.

Troopers said Scroggins was driving the motorcycle east on US-12 when he apparently lost control of the cycle and was thrown.

No citations were issued and the investigation of the crash is continuing, police said.

Nuclear Safety Protestors Led By New 'Faith'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two nuclear engineers who quit their jobs to dramatize their concern for nuclear safety say their membership in a quasi-religious group influenced them to speak out.

Dale G. Bridenbaugh and Richard B. Hubbard, who resigned this month as middle-level executives with General Electric's nuclear division, said a personal search for truth convinced them to warn the public of what they see as a nuclear power plant peril.

The engineers are members of an eight-year-old philosophical group called the Creative Initiative Foundation (CIF), which is based in Palo Alto, Calif., and claims about 2,000 members. Its founders say it is composed largely of young professionals and, like many religious groups, teaches self-examination and responsibility.

Ford Stamp Plan Criticized

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's plan to go around Congress in setting up new rules to change the $5.8 billion food stamp program is being criticized by some lawmakers who say the move is political. Agriculture Department attorneys are to spend the weekend putting Ford's revisions into legal language. Ford unveiled his plan in letters delivered to congressional committee chairmen Friday while he was campaigning in New Hampshire. Ford's plan would trim the food stamp rolls by 25 per cent, cut the programs huge budget by 20 per cent and increase benefits to about 24 per cent of the current recipients. The move came as the Senate Agriculture Committee was finishing work on a set of comprehensive proposals to reform the food stamp program, which both liberals and conservatives have criticized as wasteful.

Six Unsolved Murders

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Jackson County Prosecutor Bruce A. Barton says he may request a one-man grand jury to probe six unsolved murders. Local law enforcement officials say they need grand jury subpoena powers to generate new leads and force testimony from possible witnesses. "There could be a connection between two or more of the murders," Barton said Friday. "Some of the homicides may be connected. We do not believe that all six are connected." Barton declined to say which of the six he believes may be related. He has not yet made a final decision on whether to request the grand jury, he said.

Ex-Mayor Charged

CADILLAC, Mich. (AP) — Raymond "Pete" Wagner, who resigned as Cadillac's mayor Feb. 9, was free on his own recognizance today after being charged with 41 counts of embezzlement. Wagner demanded examination at his arraignment Thursday after being indicted by a one-man grand jury. His examination is set for March 30. The embezzlement charges involve more than $12,000 taken from the Wexford County abstractor's office during the years between 1970 through 1974. Wagner became Cadillac's mayor in 1971 and held both offices concurrently during most of the period in question.

Suit's Cash Demand To Grow

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A $12 million state suit against Consumers Power Co. is expected to swell soon to about $103 million, says Asst. Atty. Gen. Hugh Anderson. Anderson said briefs asking for about $91 million more in rebates for consumers' customers are expected to be filed because of new information in a Public Service Commission report released this week. Statistics in the report showed the Jackson-based utility collected $103 million from customers in 1974 and 1975 through its fuel adjustment clause to pay for ready-made power it bought from other companies. Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, who believes such automatic charges for purchased power are illegal, asked the Ingham County Circuit Court last month to return $12 million to Consumers' customers.

Anti-Abortion Top Issue

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A Constitutional anti-abortion amendment will be a top issue of Thomas Brennan's Senate campaign, the former state Supreme Court justice has indicated. "The U. S. Supreme Court decision (in 1973 allowing abortion on demand) was about the worst constitutional law since the Dred Scott decision," Brennan, a Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, said this week on WKAR-TV. The Dred Scott decision in 1857 said that blacks had no rights as citizens. Brennan, an Irish Catholic father of six, is now dean of the Cooley Law School. He will announce his formal candidacy for the seat of retiring U. S. Sen. Philip Hart Monday.

OBITUARIES

Thomas Doner

Thomas Doner, 22, late last night was found dead inside the garage of his home, 999 Pearl street, Benton Harbor, city police reported.

Patrolman Dennis Matthews said an autopsy to determine the cause of death was to be performed at Mercy hospital today by Dr. Charles Boonstra, a pathologist.

Matthews said his initial investigation indicates the cause of death is believed to be carbon monoxide poisoning. The body of Doner was found at 11:31 p.m. on the floor of the garage and the doors were closed, Matthews said. The officer reported that the ignition of a pickup truck inside the garage was turned on and the gasoline tank was empty.

Doner was pronounced dead on arrival at Mercy hospital at 11:59 p.m. There has been no ruling yet on whether the death was accidental or suicide, police said.

Five Teenagers Arrested In Connection With Threats

NILES — Niles township police said five Niles area teenagers, three adults and two juveniles, have been arrested in connection with bomb threats made to Brandywine schools earlier this week.

Charged with making false bomb threats were John Marazita and Tony Gallimore, both 17, and Alan Bowerman, 18, all of Niles, police said.

Police identified the three as Niles high school students.

Police said the two juvenile boys, a 15-year-old Brandywine high school student, and a 16-year-old Niles high school student have been released to the custody of their parents. Both will be petitioned to probate court, police said.

The arrests were made in connection with bomb threats telephoned to the school district's central number on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, police said.

Police said all six schools within the district were evacuated and searched on Monday; the high school and Winkler elementary were searched but not evacuated on Tuesday, and the high school was again evacuated and searched on Wednesday. No bombs were ever found.

St. Joe Loses To Last-Place Central, Wins Crown

PORTAGE — Believe it or not... St. Joseph lost to last-place Portage Central 54-49 here Friday night and clinched at least a share of the Big Seven championship.

The Bears' first basketball title in 10 years was made possible when Battle Creek Lakeview dumped Holland 81-79 in overtime.

"There is a Santa Claus," said St. Joe coach George Gaumer in aptly appraising the situation on hearing about Holland's timely setback. "I didn't even think of that possibility."

St. Joseph is now 9-2 in the Big Seven with only a game against Holland, now 8-3, left to play in the regular season.

Gaumer had been in a very somber mood just minutes before. "It kind of hurts when a last-place team beats you," he said. "There's no excuse for that."

The Bears had defeated Portage Central 70-58 less than three weeks ago, but there was no denying the determined Mustangs Friday night.

"The area of biggest damage was, probably, rebounding," continued Gaumer. "They got so many baskets underneath it was pathetic, primarily on second shots."

"We gave them too many outs... four to be exact. We were out-rebounded, out-shot, outlasted and outdefended."

Russ VanDine, a 6-8 senior center, led the Mustangs with 17 points. Bob McKinney and Bruce Whaley added 12 and 10 points, respectively, as Central lifted its records to 2-9 in the conference and 8-10 overall.

St. Joe slipped to 14-5 and had a five-game winning streak snapped while getting 14 points from Mike Collier and 12 from Henry Folgman.

The Bears posted their lowest score of the season while hitting 21 of 50 field goals (42 per cent) and seven of 12 free throws (58 per cent). Portage meshed 24 of 47 from the floor (51 per cent) and six of 12 (50 per cent) at the line.

Respective team charts gave Central a 30 to 25 rebounding edge. Whaley and VanDine had 11 each for the Mustangs and Folgman nine for the Bears.

St. Joe again played an excellent floor game while making just 10 turnovers.

Portage Central held leads of 18-11 after the first quarter and 25-23 at halftime and 39-35 entering the final period, but St. Joe came back to knot the score at 45-45 with 2:07 remaining. But with about 2½ minutes left, VanDine scored off a missed free throw to put the Mustangs on top for good.

"They wanted it more than we did, at least they played that way," concluded Gaumer.

Battle Creek Lakeview evidently wanted its game more than Holland, also. The Dutch blew a seven-point lead with about a minute left in regulation play.

St. Joseph also lost the junior varsity game Friday night.

'Tough' Berrien Topples Galien

Hot Shooting Does Trick

By JERRY DYKSTRA
Staff Sports Writer

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Berrien Springs coach Connie Stover had only one thing to tell his club in the locker room at halftime: "Get tough!"

And you better believe his Shamrocks got the message.

Rampaging Berrien put on a spectacular shooting performance in the last half to come from way behind and gun down Red Arrow leader Galien 73-70 in a honey of a game Friday night at the Shamrock gym.

The Shamrocks, who have now won six of their last seven games, looked liked "heavyweight champs" in the second half as they hit an uncanny 86 per cent (21 of 24) of their shots to make up an 11-point deficit.

Berrien Springs accomplished the following in the last victory:

—Prevented Galien from nailing down a portion of the Red Arrow crown.

—Halted the Gaels' 15-game winning streak.

—Scored 73 points on the No. 1 defensive team in the area.

—Probably knocked No. 6 Galien out of the top 10 in the weekly Class D poll.

Tim Sunday, a junior substitute, was appropriately carried off the floor after the game by happy Shamrock fans as he scored the winning basket on a driving lay-up with 14 seconds left. But the entire Berrien Springs squad really deserves a "lift."

Rick Thiele generated the fantastic firing in the last half when he swished 16 of his 19 points, sinking eight of nine shots afield. Terry Hossein meshed all five of his shots in the second half and finished with 18 points. Dave Elchberg added 12 points and Kirk Hansen 11 with Sunday collecting only four, but both key backsets in the last four minutes of the game.

"Super, just super," hooted an elated Stover. "I'm so proud of these kids. They worked so hard out there. I'm just real happy with the kids. I don't want to single out one player...they all were tremendous."

"They (Galien) just 'out-toughed' us in the first half, so I told the kids to just get tough. We just executed in the second half and kept our pulse after our comeback."

Galien, which got 20 points from Don Kooy, 19 from Dale Luthers and 15 from Rick Basher, now will take on Lake Michigan Catholic next Friday night for the outright "Red Arrow" championship in a climatic regular season finisher. Both are 11-2.

"It's obvious the title will come down to next week's game," stated Galien coach Mike Heckathorn. "If we don't win it we have no one to blame but ourselves. The opportunity is there to get it."

"Those two turnovers in the last few seconds obviously didn't help...we didn't even get a shot away. But we didn't sink our free throws all night...six of 16."

"We just let them back into the game in that third period. We made turnovers and they took advantage of them. They just kept nipping away." Galien, 17-2 overall, popped in 10 of 17 shots in the second quarter while the Shamrocks were making 12 turnovers to grab a comfortable 41-30 at the half. The Gaels topped the margin to 13 points. In the first minute of the third period, but Berrien came barking back as it swished its first 12 shots and 13 of 22 altogether to take a 54-35 edge going into the finale.

The exciting, fast-paced last period produced six deadlocks with Sunday breaking the last tie of 70-70 with his hoop with 14 seconds remaining.

Galien saw its chances for a possible tying basket go down the drain on a traveling violation with five seconds left and a charging foul with two seconds in. Hansen dumped in a free throw with a second on the clock after two Galien technical fouls following the offensive foul call.

"We were just trying to get the ball inside to Sunday, Thiele or Hossein, whoever happened to be there," explained Stover of the last-minute strategy.

Both clubs displayed first-rate shooting. Berrien was 33 of 58 for 56 per cent while Galien was 32 of 62 for 52 per cent with a seven of 18 third period tie lone sub-par quarter. Hossein led the right-on Berrien marksmanship with nine of 12 afield with Thiele nine of 14. Luthers was eight of 15 for Galien. Basher seven of 13 and Kooy 10 of 20.

The Shamrocks, now 9-4 in the league and 12-7 overall, were three of nine at the foul line and made 25 turnovers. The Gaels were six of 16 with 20 floor errors.

Berrien held a 30-18 bounding margin with Thiele hauling away 12 caroms and Kooy 11.

The Berrien Springs jayvees defeated Galien 81-48 with Tom michienzi lifting in 20, Mike Shernberger 17 and Scott Porter 13. Terry Woodrick had 10 for the losers. Berrien and Bridgman are tied for the league lead at 11-2 while Galien slips to 10-3.

Game Has Controversial Ending

Lutheran Nips Lawton, 44-43

Michigan Lutheran concluded regular season play with a controversial 44-43 non-league victory over Lawton Friday night in the Titan gym.

A foul call on Michigan Lutheran, which was ruled after the final buzzer, touched off what Titan coach John Eggert termed a "rather heated debate."

Lawton, which defeated Lutheran 46-39 earlier this season, also declared it would protest the game.

Lutheran, which finished regular season play at 6-12 for the best record in the school's short history, got 14 points from Handy Wolf, 12 from Bob Guse and 10 from John Brink.

John Lepley and Bryan Cronswell netted 18 and 10, respectively, for Lawton as the Blue Devils slipped to their third straight loss in a 6-12 season.

"I would say the key was Lawton made five of 30 (25 per cent) at the line," contended Eggert. "They would have won going away if they would have made some of their free throws."

Lutheran made 10 of 19 free throws (53 per cent) and 17 of 48 field goals (35 per cent). Lawton went 19 for 48 from the floor (35 per cent).

Lutheran had a 40 to 28 rebounding edge, with Wolf, who had been battling the flu, having a season-high 18. Lepley pulled off 10 for Lawton.

Lutheran had 17 turnovers and Lawton 18.

Lutheran led 20-18 at halftime and 35-29 after three quarters, but the Titans trailed by a point with 1:25 left in the game.

Lutheran then worked about a minute off the clock, before a Guse basket put the Titans on top 44-43.

Lawton then worked the clock down to the eight-second mark, where it called time out to set up a final shot. The try missed; the Blue Devils got the rebound and the late foul which touched off the controversy followed.

Lutheran also won the junior varsity preliminary. The little Titans finished their season at 10-10.

tremendous job on the boards and up and down the floor tonight."

Bennie even picked the ball off a couple of times on the half-court press," he added.

Bowers just about single-handedly blew the Sailors off the court in the first quarter. The senior hit eight of his first 10 shots, scoring 16 points as the Tigers raced out to a 25-8 lead after one quarter. His 30-point output was also his career high at Benton Harbor.

Guards Albert Watson and Steve McNutt also drew a pat on the back from their head coach. "McNutt and Watson did an outstanding job of moving the ball down the floor on the break," beamed McKee. "They got the ball out and really fed off well."

McNutt led the Tigers in assists with 10 while Leon Lewis collected six and Watson four. Benton Harbor finished with a whopping 30 assists in the game.

"The difference between this game and the one last Friday (Benton Harbor lost to Traverse City 78-72) was like night and day," said McKee. "It was a super effort from our whole team."

Keith Taylor filled in at the center spot, with Bowers playing a forward, and scored 13 points and pulled down 16 rebounds. McNutt and Charles DeFrance each scored 12 points for Benton Harbor's double-figure scorers.

Steve Best was the only Mona Shores player to crack double digits, scoring 16 points.

Mike Patton, who scored 34 points in the first meeting of the two teams, was ill and did not play.

The Tigers made 44 of 88 field goal attempts for a sizzling 50 per cent. They also pulled down 86 rebounds, according to their charts.

Benton Harbor won the junior varsity game by a 66-50 score. Ronald Page scored 30 points; while Mickey Johnson netted 14 and Ray Jones 12. The trio are all freshmen. The junior Tigers are now 14-5 this season.

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Sam Houston State basketball Coach Dennis Price says the team's third-best rebounder and sixth-ranked scorer, Henry Green, has been dismissed from the squad for failure to attend classes.

LMC, Albert Upset Mott

The half-court trap is quickly becoming Lake Michigan College's favorite weapon.

The Indians' used that defense to overcome their lack of rebounding and squeak by Mott Community College 81-80 Friday night at the Napier gym in college basketball.

It was Eddie Albert who helped make things go for LMC as he scored 20 points, dished out a school-record 11 assists, made seven steals and pulled down five rebounds. "Albert was the individual who played the whole game with a lot of fire," said LMC's head coach Art Crump. "He penetrated their zone defense and came up with the assists."

Rebounding, or the lack of it, has been a constant problem with LMC this season. "They were beating us badly on the offensive boards again," said Crump. "So our strategy going into the game was that we either

Three Lakers Get Full Rides

Three Lake Michigan Catholic football players have been awarded full football scholarships from major colleges.

Quarterback George Welch is receiving a full-ride grant to attend Wisconsin while brothers Chris and John Kasmer are headed for Dayton. All three signed their national letters of intent this week.

Welch, 6-2½, 175-pounds, was a two-time all-Red Arrow pick at quarterback. Last fall he completed 50 of 100 passes for 809 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Wisconsin wanted him because he's a sprint out quick-terback...they can use him on the option," commented Laker head football coach Terry Rose.

Chris, 6-2, 225-pounds, and John, 6-3, 228-pounds, anchored a formidable Catholic offensive line with both gaining all-league honors last fall. Chris also made the first team of the Associated Press all-state squad in Class C.

The pair will likely play defensive end or tackle or offensive guard for Dayton.

Another Red Arrow league product, Don McAfee of Eau Claire, also received a full football scholarship this week to attend Purdue.

Lakers Gain Share Of First

HARTFORD — Lake Michigan Catholic got a little help from its friends Friday night and is now in a position to win the Red Arrow basketball crown outright.

The Lakers, buoyed by a 32-point first quarter, downed Hartford 73-62 here Friday night and, combined with Berrien Springs' win over first-place Galien, are now tied with the Gaels for the conference lead at 11-2.

That sets up the title game next Friday at the Lakers' gym when Catholic hosts the Gaels.

The 13-6 Lakers showed they weren't looking past the Indians, as Catholic made 15 of 21 field goals in the first quarter, eight of them coming on layups, to zoom out to a 32-8 lead.

"We decided not to get flat footed so we went with the full-court press right off the bat," said Lakers' head coach Al Nixon. "We were aware of the fact that we could be caught looking ahead to next week."

Using just a straight man-to-man press, the Lakers forced Hartford into 11 turnovers in that first quarter.

"And we converted nine of them into baskets," beamed Nixon.

"This team was just dedicated to concentrating on Hartford," he added.

Tim Flood led the first quarter scoring attack by netting eight of his team-high 12 points. "Flood did a fine job for us," Nixon commented. "He was just very consistent again."

Guard Steve Gentry also helped out by netting six of his 10 points in the initial stanza.

Don Altie was the only other Laker scoring in double figures, hitting 10 points.

Dave Sexton of Hartford led all scorers with 14 points. Ken Lowe had 13 and Duane Toney 10 as the Indians lost their 25th straight Red Arrow contest.

They are now 6-13 this season in the league and 4-14 overall.

The Lakers made 33 of 71 floor attempts for 46 per cent while Hartford canned 27 of 68 tries for 40 per cent. Catholic held a 39-32 rebounding edge, with Flood leading a balanced attack with seven boards and Mike Masini, playing in his first varsity game, pulling down six.

Hartford was plagued with turnovers again as the Indians, made 33 miscues. The Lakers were guilty of 22 turnovers.

Even though Hartford was blown out of the gym in the first quarter, it refused to give up the ship. The Lakers held a 45-41 halftime lead and a 63-36 lead after three quarters, but the Indians made the game respectable by outscoring Catholic 26-10 in the final quarter. "We really didn't have a letdown," Nixon reported.

"Hartford just refused to fold," Catholic also won the junior varsity game 78-57.

McCarthy Sparkles Against Lakeshore

Bobcats Smear Hapless Lancers

By JOHN VANDEN HEEDER
Sports Editor

When you said Steve McCarthy Friday night, you'd said it all.

The Brandywine center led all scorers with 26 points and all rebounders with 13 while leading the Bobcats to a 67-49 Blossomland victory over Lakeshore in the Lancer gym.

The victory was the third in the row for coach Frank Standley's cagers, secured second place for Brandywine and ended a long Bobcat losing string of eight straight years in the Lakeshore gym.

Hilary Campbell added 13 points to the Brandywine cause as the Bobcats lifted their records to 10-3 in the Blossomland and 14-5 overall.

Tom Jager and Mike Mason netted 19 and 11, respectively, as Lakeshore slipped to 3-10 in the league and 3-16 on the season.

McCarthy, who carried a 15.9 average into the game, personally matched the whole Lakeshore team in the first half with 17 points. Brandywine led 35-17 at the break.

McCarthy finished with 10 for 18 field goal shooting before going to the bench early in the fourth quarter when the Bobcats had a lock on the victory.

"He's really an underrated ballplayer," said Standley of McCarthy. "Every week he has to draw the big center, and he's only 6-2. I thought he did an excellent job against Mason and Jager."

Brandywine opened a commanding lead in the first quarter by scoring 13 of 15 points over one stretch, including nine by McCarthy.

The Bobcats led 22-7 after the first quarter, 35-17 at halftime and 57-34 entering the fourth period. The biggest lead was by a 28-point margin at 57-29 late in the third quarter.

The beginning and end of the game were perfect examples of what a frustrating night it was for the Lancers.

Lakeshore's Mason was caught making an illegal dunk during the warm ups, so Brandywine started the game with a technical free throw shot and the ball out of bounds. And the last bucket of the game came on a shot from behind the mid-court line at the final buzzer by Pat Grunds.

"We have been progressing very nicely, and then all of a sudden we go flat on our faces...that's what's frustrating," declared Lakeshore coach Lloyd MacTavish. "Two weeks of good practice, and then we go out and play like that...what is this game?"

Brandywine put together an excellent shooting game (27 of 52 field goals for 52 per cent) while working the ball inside time after time for easy baskets.

"They kids have finally developed that," continued Standley. "After two years they are learning to run the offense. The main thing is that they are patient."

Meanwhile, Lakeshore's shooting, outside the efforts of Jager and Mason, was what MacTavish aptly described as: "Stinko."

Jager meshed nine of 13 and Mason four of seven, but the rest of the team had a 22 per cent average. The Lancers were 20 for 52 overall from the floor (39 per cent).

At the free throw lines, Brandywine connected on 13 of 21 (62 per cent) and Lakeshore made nine of 16 (56 per cent).

Brandywine had a 35 to 29 rebounding edge. Turnover totals showed Lakeshore with 21 and Brandywine with 23.

It game marked the third victory this year by the Bobcats over the Lancers. The earlier wins were by 66-44 and 64-50.

The junior varsity preliminary offered some consolation for Lakeshore fans. The little Lancers won 72-68 in overtime.

Odell Brister, who finished with 27 points, hit a shot at the final buzzer to tie the game at 64-64 in regulation time. And Scott Lee, who added 21 points, made two free throws to put Lakeshore ahead for good in the overtime.

Norm Hollins was the top pointmaker for Brandywine with 22.

Both teams are now 14-5.

San Francisco Rehires Beard

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — Ed Beard, a former linebacker for the San Francisco 49ers and an assistant coach for the past three years, was rehired by the football team's new head coach, Monte Clark.

Clark announced Friday that Beard will stay on as linebacker coach, the spot he held for two years under former head coach Dick Nolan. Clark, who replaced Nolan last month, said Beard will be the only holdover from Nolan's staff.

Beard played eight seasons with the 49ers until a knee injury ended his playing career in 1972. He coached the special teams the next year and became linebacker coach in 1974.

Streaking Mustangs Kick Coloma

THREE OAKS — Two streaks were kept intact here Friday night in River Valley's 65-48 win over Coloma.

The Mustangs carved their fifth straight win to up their Blossomland mark to 8-5 and overall record to 10-9 while the Comets lost their ninth in a row to fall to 2-11 in the league and 2-17 overall.

River Valley only led 12-10 after the first period but then outscored Coloma 36-20 over the next two periods to win going away.

"We just played better basketball in the second and third periods," noted Valley coach Jerry Schaffer. "We also had good control of the boards. We had good steady performances from everybody. We had a good team effort on defense and a lot of people scored on offense."

Greg Johnson banged in 26 points, including 12 free throws, while Dave North netted 12 to pace the Mustangs.

Dennis Nitz turned in a fine job off the bench for Coloma to lead the team with 15 points. Gregg Woodward had 14 and Joe Jones 12.

"We had the shots but just couldn't hit them," stated Coloma coach Sam Wright. "It was just about a reverse from when they were at our place."

"I'm pretty pleased with the kids...they never gave up. Woodward did a fine job on the boards. He was jumping the best he has all year."

Coloma, which beat Valley 54-39 earlier, got 19 rebounds from Woodward but the Mustangs held an overall 35-32 edge on the boards with Kevin Grifendorf getting 12 caroms.

River Valley hit 22 of 61 shots for 36 per cent and 21 of 32 free throws. Coloma, playing without Joel Carlson (flu) and Mike Schmidt (bad ankle), was 19 of 47 for 40 per cent and 10 of 19 from the lines.

Valley had 14 turnovers, Coloma 26.

Valley won the jayvee game 66-37 with JoJo White collecting 21 and Don Arent 15 for Coloma. Valley is now 15-4.

Buchanan's Ken Garrett Hits Career-High 34 Points

BUCHANAN — Ken Garrett tossed in a career-high 34 points and also pulled down 16 rebounds to pace No. 1 rated (Class C) Buchanan to an easy 99-56 win over Edwardsburg here Friday night.

The Bucks, now 18-0 this season and 13-0 in the Blossomland standings, also got 17 points from Gerald Busby and 14 from brother Mike Busby.

Buchanan only led 21-16 after the first period but then outscored the Eddie 30-15 in the second period to take a commanding 51-31 margin at intermission.

The Eddie got 13 points apiece from Jim Case and Scott Hammon in seeing their record dip to 2-11 in the league and 3-16 overall. Steve Staal, who had hit double figures in 14 straight games, managed only two.

Buchanan, which has already locked up the Blossomland championship, hit on 40 of 75 shots for 54 per cent and canned 19 of 29 free throws. Edwardsburg was 19 of 46 for 39 per cent.

Buchanan dominated the boards with a 47-22 hold. Mike Busby helped Garrett with 10 rebounds.

The Bucks only made 12 turnovers while the Eddie produced 20. alt Vanderbush ended with seven assists while Garrett had four.

Buchanan needs wins over Bronson and Brandywine next week to close with an undefeated regular season slate.

Chiefs Roll Past Slumping Rangers

DOWAGIAC — Dowagiac put five players in double figures to romp to an 82-69 Blossomland win over slumping Cassopolis here Friday night.

Kim Mulder swished 22 points, Oran Danzy 17, Brad Manley 15 and Jim Laing and David Sprague 12 each as the Chiefs upped their league mark to 6-7 and overall record to 9-8.

Cassopolis, now 8-5 in the Blossomland with three straight setbacks, got 22 from Alvin Vanzant, 16 from Kevin Loder and 10 from Glen Hawkins.

The Chiefs, who had the game in control all the way, dumped in 30 of 37 shots for 53 per cent and added 22 of 34 free throws.

Bob Waalkes had only four points for Dowagiac but pulled down 11 rebounds with Danzy and Mulder getting eight each. Manley made eight assists.

The Chiefs, who hit 60 per cent from the field the last half, played without Scott Wiltse, who was suspended for one game.

Niles Loses Overtime Thriller

NILES — A long shot at the final buzzer by Loy Norrix John Sutton, which hit the rim, bounced more than 10 feet above the hoop and then fell straight through the net, beat Niles 69-68 in overtime here Friday night.

Tom Donley had put Niles ahead at 68-67 just six seconds before in the Big Seven thriller which reversed an earlier 54-53 Viking victory over the Knights.

Niles' Tim Garner had forced the overtime with a three-point play which left the game deadlocked 62-62 at the end of regulation time. He made a free throw with nine seconds left, missed the second, but got the rebound and made the tying basket.

Niles also had a chance to win the game in regulation time when Arnie White got a free throw opportunity with four seconds left. But he missed on the one-and-one opportunity.

Norrix got 16 points from Al Moorhead, 14 each from Berdell Whitfield and Sutton and 12 from Jim Caper while lifting its records to 5-6 in the Big Seven and 12-5 overall.

Niles slipped to 6-6 in the league and 10-8 on the season while getting 18 points from Bill Brenner, 13 from Garner, 11 from Kevin Seitz and 10 apiece from Tim Gowen and White.

The Vikings made 27 of 47 field goals (55 per cent) and 14 of 20 free throws (70 per cent), while the Knights meshed 32 of 66 from the floor (49 per cent)

South Haven Sets Wolverine Record

COMSTOCK — South Haven set a new Wolverine conference win record here Friday night by blitzing Comstock 86-72.

The Rams, charged by a big 30-point third period, now have a 15-0 loop record with the 15 victories the most ever by a Wolverine team. South Haven can finish with a perfect 16-0 mark with a win next Friday night against Vicksburg.

The 18 overall wins this season are also a South Haven record for regular season triumphs.

South Haven led 38-33 at the half but then broke open the game in the third quarter by outscoring the hosts 30-14. Nathan Goodwin hit 16 of his 18 points in the big period with an eight of 10 effort from the field.

"We just started to run and press in that third period," stated Rams coach M.H. White. "This wasn't one of our better games of the year but it was one of our worse either. We really came out and hustled in that third period to put the game away."

The Rams, now 18-1, piled up a 25-point lead in the fourth period before giving way to the reserves.

William Ombile also had a solid night with 18 points (nine of 15 afield); 16 rebounds and three assists. Mike Grimes looked good with 16 points (seven of 10), four assists and tough defensive play. Rick Bus added 10 points.

The Wolverine champs hit on 40 of 79 shots for 51 per cent and made six of 15 free throws. Comstock, 4-11 in the loop and 4-15 overall, was 25 of 90 for 36 per cent. The losers did manage 22 of 36 free throws as the Rams were called for 30 personal fouls to 18 for Comstock.

South Haven held a 50-38 board margin.

The Rams' upped their mark to 12-7 with a 62-60 win. It was only Comstock's second loss of the season.

Bees Edge Beavers Despite Adams' 36

EAU CLAIRE — Bridgman's young basketball team is quickly coming of age.

Combining the play of an awesome all-junior front line with the brilliant floor game of two veteran guards, the Bees edged Eau Claire 68-66 here Friday night.

The win was Bridgman's 10th in 12 games since Christmas and upped the Bees' Red Arrow mark to 8-5 and overall slate to 13-9. Eau Claire fell to 7-6 and 11-8, respectively.

"We had that good inside game again," Bridgman coach Doug Hendricks smiled. "The front line missed too many easy shots, but other than that I was pleased. We're still playing with a lot of juniors and they still make some young mistakes."

Those three juniors, 6-6 center Bob Linke, 6-5 Wolf Wolf and 6-4 Howie Mutz, combined for 63 of the Bees' 68 points. Linke poured in 28, Mutz added 21 and Wolf had 16.

Probably overlooked in the game was life play of senior guards Dave Zilke and Mike Schaller. The two dished out 21 assists between them with deft passes into the Bee big men.

"It's totally a question of timing," Hendricks said of his guards' pinpoint passes. "And the nice thing about our guards is that they're unselfish. They know of the scoring potential of our front line and they're not afraid to get them the ball."

The win spoiled a brilliant effort by Eau Claire's Torry Adams, who is finally back to full strength following a pair of injuries. Adams swished 14 of 26 shots from the floor and finished with a career-high 36 points.

"Torry is the type of kid who can dominate a game when he's healthy," Eau Claire coach Dave Gray said. "It's great to see him healthy again, too. That's what has hurt us the last couple of weeks."

Hendricks was quite impressed with Adams, also.

"Adams played an excellent basketball game," he said. "We tried a box-and-one and everything else on him and nothing worked. It seemed like the tighter we were on him the better he felt."

The game saw 22 lead changes, including 14 during the hectic final quarter. Adams, who tossed in 12 fourth-quarter points, gave the Beavers their last lead when his basket with 1:04 left made it 68-66.

Eau Claire twice had chances to ice the game after that, but instead of stalling, Nathan Lanier and Brian Flowers each missed jump shots from outside and Mutz grabbed the rebound.

Linke scored from underneath with just 35 seconds left to give Bridgman the lead for good at 67-66. Lanier, who finished with 13 points for Eau Claire, missed a 15-footer from the corner with 20 seconds left. Mutz' rebound of the miss sealed the Beaver hopes.

Mutz was fouled with seven seconds left to play. Although he missed the first of a one-and-one, Linke grabbed the rebound and rolled it in to ice the game.

"I told the kids to sit on it and make them come out of their zone," Gray said. "Those two shots were probably the turning point."

Eau Claire's second-leading scorer, Jerry McAfee, did not play.

"I felt we had to try and go with the tuffier lineup," Gray explained. "And as it turned out the kids did such a good job that Jerry didn't get in."

Both teams finished with 28 field goals. Bridgman took just 57 shots for 49 per cent, while Eau Claire shot 77 times for 36 per cent.

The game was decided at the free throw line where the Bees hit 13 of 17 (76 per cent) to the Beavers' 10 of 13 (77 per cent).

Bridgman held a slim 33-29 rebounding edge, with Linke pulling down 12 and Mutz nine. Adams came away with eight caroms for the Beavers.

Eau Claire possessed the better floor game, turning the ball over just nine times to 20 turnovers for the Bees.

Bridgman's junior varsity remained in a tie for the Red Arrow lead with a 63-47 win over the Beavers in the preliminary. The win upped the Bees' league mark to 11-2 and overall slate to 16-2.

Bill Moreland pumped in 22 and Phil Ott 10 for Bridgman. Chuck Hunter scored 16 for Eau Claire.

Shoot 53 Per Cent In 75-64 Win

NEW BUFFALO — Watervliet shot a sizzling 53 per cent from the field to down New Buffalo 75-64 here Friday night in a Red Arrow league contest.

The Panthers, who carried 32 of 61 shots, put four players in double figures in raising their league mark to 5-8 and overall record to 8-10. Tom Hutchinson paced the pack with 18 points, Jeff Weaver and Ken Mitzka had 17 each and Jim Hinkelman 14.

New Buffalo, now 1-12 in the Red Arrow and 3-15 overall, was led by Fritz Moss with his 12 points. Bob Kerns added 10.

"They just shot real well all night," commented New Buffalo coach Mike Oakes.

Hinkelman hit all seven of his shots outside.

The Panthers led 19-14 after the first period, 39-28 at the half and 55-42 after three quarters.

New Buffalo, which had lost six in a row, was 28 of 71 out-court for 40 per cent and sank eight of 20 free throws.

Watervliet had the boards 32-33 with Hutchinson getting 12 caroms and Brian Pahl eight for the losers. New Buffalo ended with 16 floor errors, Watervliet 27.

Decatur Decks Cardinals, 88-64

BLOOMINGDALE — Decatur held on to a share of the Southwestern Athletic Conference lead while destroying Bloomingdale here Friday night.

The Raiders are now 10-1 in league play and tied with Marcellus for first place. The Cardinals fall out, at 8-3. Decatur closes out its league slate next week at Gobles while Marcellus goes to Bloomingdale.

Kurt Wiese led the Raiders with 20 points. Davo Mroczek had 18, Jim Overley 18 and Steve Groendyk 10 as Decatur extended its win streak to 12 in a row.

Bloomington's Goldman Gruno and Bill Rowlinson both sank 14 points.

"They really hurt us with the half-court press," noted Cardinal coach Ray Lisco.

Bloomington was 21 of 51

afield for 41 per cent and put in 22 of 26 free throws. Decatur held a 33-24 edge on the boards.

The tough Decatur press forced Bloomingdale into 33 turnovers, 17 in the first half.

Decatur is now 17-2 on the season.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — University of Arkansas basketball center Jack Schulte will undergo back surgery next week and will be out of action for the rest of the Razorbacks' 1976 season, a university spokesman said Friday.

Late Gobles Spree Downs Lawrence

GOBLES — Gobles, the worst offensive team in the area, scored a season-high 62 points to nip Lawrence 62-60 here Friday night in a Southwestern Athletic Conference clash.

Gobles, which had scored 60 or less in 19 straight games, put on a big last-period explosion by outscoring the visitors 24-10.

Jeff Queen hit a three-point play with 13 seconds left to put Lawrence behind by 59-58. Gobles' Mike Erickson was then fouled, and he hit the first of an one-and-one. He missed the second shot, but Jim Hansen put in the rebound with 11 ticks left. Lawrence got a basket at the buzzer.

Northern Illinois Fires Cage Coach

DEKALB, Ill. (AP) — Northern Illinois University Athletic Director Robert J. Brigham says the contract of NIU basketball Coach Emory F. Luck will not be renewed at the end of the 1975-76 season.

Luck, 45, who has been head coach at Northern since March 1973, has an over-all mark at NIU of 20-18.

When the announcement was made Friday, Luck's Huskies, with five Mid-American Conference games left to play, were 1-10 in conference play and 4-17 overall.

Erickson ended with all nine points in the last period. Sub Hansen also capped all his 11 points in the second half.

Kendall Smith and Bryan Clement led the winners with 13 points each. Dave Congdon swished 18 and Dennis Kidd and Jim Mason 15 each for Lawrence. But the loss of Mason and Congdon in the last period on fouls was costly.

Gobles was 23 of 71 for 32 per cent afield and 18 of 32 from the foul lines. Lawrence was 21 of 63 for 33 per cent and 16 of 30 in foul shooting.

Lawrence, which had won seven in a row over Gobles, has now lost seven straight to drop to 2-8 in the league and 2-16 overall. Gobles is 8-8 in the SAC and 5-13 overall.

Gobles won the Jayvee and freshmen games.

SMC Warms Up With Big Win

DOWAGIAC — Southwestern Michigan College warmed up for its district tournament playoff game next Tuesday by thumping out-manned Northwestern Michigan College 112-59 here Friday night in college basketball.

The win was SMC's 20th in a row this season and increases the record to 22-2 on the year.

The contest was never really in doubt as SMC's defense held its foes outcourt most of the game and forced them to shoot the low percentage shot. On the other end of the floor, the Roadrunners penetrated and scored at will.

Coach Jim Tansey played his starters for the first 10 minutes of the initial half and then mercifully pulled them when the Roadrunners amassed a 20-point lead.

After leading by a 48-22 score at halftime, Tansey put his regulars in just long enough to work up a sweat before letting the reserves take over again.

The Roadrunners had seven men in double figures, led by Wayne Batteast's 18 points. Others in double digits included Jim Powers 16, Barry Kline 14, Bill Carson, Kimpy Sanders and Kevin O'Connell 12, and Greg Harges 10.

Scott Walker and Tom Snook each notched 16 points for Northwestern and Dave Bergh added 12.

Late Gobles Spree Downs Lawrence

GOBLES — Gobles, the worst offensive team in the area, scored a season-high 62 points to nip Lawrence 62-60 here Friday night in a Southwestern Athletic Conference clash.

Gobles, which had scored 60 or less in 19 straight games, put on a big last-period explosion by outscoring the visitors 24-10.

Jeff Queen hit a three-point play with 13 seconds left to put Lawrence behind by 59-58. Gobles' Mike Erickson was then fouled, and he hit the first of an one-and-one. He missed the second shot, but Jim Hansen put in the rebound with 11 ticks left. Lawrence got a basket at the buzzer.

Erickson ended with all nine points in the last period. Sub Hansen also capped all his 11 points in the second half.

Kendall Smith and Bryan Clement led the winners with 13 points each. Dave Congdon swished 18 and Dennis Kidd and Jim Mason 15 each for Lawrence. But the loss of Mason and Congdon in the last period on fouls was costly.

Gobles was 23 of 71 for 32 per cent afield and 18 of 32 from the foul lines. Lawrence was 21 of 63 for 33 per cent and 16 of 30 in foul shooting.

Lawrence, which had won seven in a row over Gobles, has now lost seven straight to drop to 2-9 in the league and 2-16 overall. Gobles is 3-8 in the SAC and 5-13 overall.

Gobles won the jayvee and freshmen games.

Decatur Decks Cardinals, 88-64

BLOOMINGDALE — Decatur held on to a share of the Southwestern Athletic Conference lead while destroying Bloomingdale hopes with an 88-64 victory here Friday night.

The Raiders are now 10-1 in league play and tied with Marcellus for first place. The Cardinals fall out at 8-3. Decatur closes out its league slate next week at Gobles while Marcellus goes to Bloomingdale.

Kurt Wiese led the Raiders with 20 points. Dave Mroczek had 19, Jim Overley 18 and Steve Groendyk 10 as Decatur extended its win streak to 12 in a row.

Bloomingdale's Goldman Greene and Bill Rowlinson both sank 14 points.

"They really hurt us with the half-court press," noted Cardinal coach Ray Lasco.

Bloomingdale was 21 of 51 afield for 41 per cent and put in 22 of 26 free throws. Decatur held a 33-24 edge on the boards. The tough Decatur press forced Bloomingdale into 33 turnovers, 17 in the first half.

Decatur is now 17-2 on the season.

Fifth-Round KO 'No Sweat'

Ali Flattens Coopman

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
AP Sports Writer

SAN JUAN, P. R. (AP) — The only thing that bothered Muhammad Ali in Puerto Rico was a cold. Jean-Pierre Coopman turned out to be nothing more than a million-dollar baby for the champion.

In fact, Ali reached around the Belgian challenger in the first round Friday night and spanked him with an open glove.

Then four rounds later, Ali concluded the $1.1 million venture that brought him here, crashing a series of punches off Coopman's head that left him in a heap in his corner, a knockout victim at 2:46 of the fifth round.

Ali, who hardly broke a sweat in one of the easiest paydays of his career, said that Jimmy Young would be his next opponent and then Ken Norton.

Don King, who has promoted Ali's last six fights, wants to put Young in against Ali on April 23 in Costa Rica in a bout which would be shown on home television in the United States as the Coopman match was.

Young pounded out an easy 10-round decision over Joe "King" Roman at the Roberto Clemente Coliseum prior to Ali's fight.

"He's a pretty good fighter, but he has no hitting power," Ali said of Young, who is from Philadelphia.

As for Coopman, the 29-year-old sculptor of religious statues not only didn't hit with power, he hardly hit at all.

"It may not look like it, but it was a tough fight," said Ali. "It was tough for Ali, it was downright brutal for Coopman, who had his features reshaped by darting left jabs and crisp rights."

Ali did what he pleased, sometimes moving and sticking, sometimes leaning back on the ropes, other times going flatfooted and firing combinations.

The champion, who had a five-inch reach advantage and, at 228 a 20-pound weight pull over Coopman, spent most of the fifth round circling and peppering the challenger with jabs.

Then Ali drew a roar from the crowd which jammed the 12,000-seat arena as he came down off his toes to fire a series of head shots that left Coopman over his left eye and dropped him in his corner to be counted out by referee Ismael Quinones Fala.

"I felt like 500 pounds were falling on me and I fell down," Coopman, who speaks only Flemish, said through an interpreter.

When the fight was formally announced, Ali had said Coopman, nicknamed the Lion of Flanders, would be known as the Pussycat of Flanders. But after Coopman succumbed with barely a whimper, Ali was full of praise for him.

"He was hard to hit. He is a scientific defensive fighter," Ali said at the post-fight news conference while Coopman sat next to him, his left eye beginning to blacken.

"He's a gentleman...he smiled at me every day," said Ali. "I'm glad he's not hurt."

One Stroke Of Pen Almost Fells Snead

LOS ANGELES (AP) — British Open champion Tom Watson leads the Los Angeles Open today by two strokes, but a stroke of the pen nearly put 55-year-old Sam Snead out of the $185,000 event.

Watson, the 29-year-old star from Kansas City and a product of Stanford, fired a five-under-par 66 in his second round for a 133 total at the 36-hole midway point. His 29 on the first nine set a competitive record for that distance at the Riviera Country Club.

Snead, who had been tied with Watson in second place after the first round, shot an even par 71 on Friday with bogeys on both the 16th and 18th holes. In the 18th hole, he checked and signed the card given to him. It was the wrong one, but identical with the correct one—with one major exception.

Mary Margaret Storey, the official scorer with Snead's threesome, had signed one that kept and golfer Pat Fitzsimmons had signed the other.

Snead was supposed to have signed the official card kept by his partner, but instead signed the one kept by Mrs. Storey.

A scorer in the tent noted the error and took the right card to Snead in the locker room where he signed that one.

Although golfers are disqualified on signing in incorrect scorecards, the PGA decided this error wasn't Sam's fault, said Clyde Mangum, assistant tournament director in charge of this event.

Fitzsimmons, the defending champion, shot a 70-69—139, and his card wasn't in question.

Sam remains in with his 67-71 that puts him in a fourway tie at 138. Ahead of the West Virginians are Watson with his 133, Don January at 135 and Dave Hill at 137. Tied with Sam are Lyn Lott, Tom Jenkins, the first round leader, and former U.S. Open Champion Hale Irwin.

And the way the scoring has gone the first two days, the LA Open record of 270 set by Ben Hogan in 1948 and equalled by Fitzsimmons last year, appears set to fall.

January, who finished in a third place tie at San Diego just last week, credited putting for his success. He dropped six for birdies ranging to 18 feet. J.C. Snead, Sam's nephew, won at San Diego but shot 148 for his first two rounds at Los Angeles and missed the cut. Only those at 140 or better stayed in.

Also missing the cut were Lee Trevino at 149 and Billy Casper at 150. Johnny Miller, a two-time winner in 1976, just stayed in with 146. The other two-time winner, Ben Crenshaw, was just one stroke better.

Tech On Course To Hockey Title

Michigan Tech, sprinting to the Western Collegiate Hockey Association championship while the other nine teams scramble for their lives with hopes of landing favorable playoff matchups, has served notice it's not coasting down the stretch run.

Tech's riddled North Dakota 12-2 Friday night while Michigan State tripped Notre Dame 7-6 to keep its hold on second place.

In other games, Minnesota-Duluth defeated Denver 4-2, Wisconsin nudged Michigan 4-3 in overtime and, Minnesota defeated Colorado College 4-1.

Tech's Stu Ostlund scored four goals and Mike Zuke added two to pace the Huskies' romp over North Dakota. The victory gave Tech a 20-7 mark in the WCHA. All American Tom Ross scored a pair of goals and assisted on Daryl Rice's gamewinning goal to help Michigan State past Notre Dame.

Tom Vannelli, Reed Larson and Don Madison scored final period goals to lift Minnesota past Colorado College. The Gophers are now 16-10-1 in the league and one point back of second-place Michigan State.

Sophomore Mark Capouch fired the game-winning shot for Wisconsin, which crawled into a three-way tie for eighth place with North Dakota and Denver with 20 points.

Freshman Bruce Olson scored one goal and two assists to help Duluth past Denver pulling the Bulldogs to two points within the first division.

Court Dismisses NFL Suit
Expansion Draft Will Be Held Soon

MIAMI (AP) — Commissioner Pete Rozelle says the National Football League's expansion player draft will be held in the near future now that a judge has thrown out a suit against the NFL Players' Association.

"We'll definitely proceed with both the allocation of veteran players and the college draft, and will announce dates for both sometime in the near future," Rozelle said from his New York office.

The league's expansion teams, Tampa Bay and Seattle, had filed suit seeking a ruling to uphold the legality of the draft of veteran players and an injunction to prevent the NFLPA from interfering with the draft.

But U.S. District Judge

Joe Eaton ruled Friday in favor of the NFLPA's motion to dismiss the suit, noting the court could not rule "on behalf of some yet undetermined guard who may decide that he doesn't want to go to Tampa."

During the court hearing, NFLPA attorney Ed Glennon promised that the union would not challenge the draft, but said he could not speak for individual players.

"There is no threat, according to (NFLPA executive director Ed) Garvey," said Glennon. "I can assure you that the Players Association is not going to commence action to challenge the expansion draft."

The expansion clubs' suits, filed the week before the Super Bowl, caused the league to postpone both the Jan. 23 expansion draft and the Feb. 24 college draft.

"We are pleased that the NFL players union clearly retracted earlier public and written threats to legally block the veteran player allocation to the Tampa Bay and Seattle franchises," Tampa owner Hugh Culverhouse and John Thompson, general manager of Seattle, said in a joint statement.

"The union committed to neither institute nor finance such litigation, and Judge Eaton expressed the view in dismissing the case that the clubs should now be able to proceed," the statement said.

Glennon charged that the suit filed by Tampa and Seattle was a delay tactic so NFL owners could hold their March meeting, when the applications for admission from Memphis and Birmingham are to be reconsidered, before having to conduct the drafts.

Garvey said in a statement from his Washington office: "We are pleased with the court's decision. Once again we repeat our hope that the owners come to the bargaining table and resolve all issues, including expansion."

"The league has tremendous problems right now and they don't seem to be doing anything about them," said Garvey. "Sooner or later, they must realize that the only way to solve these problems is to deal with us."

Baseball Players Awaiting 'Pitch'

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball's negotiating road trip continues here today while the prospects of making a Florida stop for spring training by March 1 appeared to be dimming.

Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, said Friday the next pitch in the negotiations for a new labor contract was up to the owners.

Miller was to meet here today with the owners' negotiating team, headed by John J. Gaherin. Miller has met this week with the owners in Los Angeles and Chicago, where he was appraising the players of the progress of the negotiations.

"The owners recently made a proposal to change the reserve clause—allow a player to play out his option after eight full major league seasons, allow him to deal with a maximum of eight teams and provide a plan of compensation to the old team that would include draft choices and money ranging from $54,500 to $528,600."

Miller said those concepts were "constructive, but way out of line in numbers and figures."

But Miller said he wasn't planning to respond to that offer with a specific one of his own because "the owners are the ones trying to avoid the present rights, and they are the ones refusing to acknowledge the present rights of players without contracts."

Miller says the present stance of the owners does not take into account the fact that these players already have the right of free agency.

The owners have asked Miller to commit his players to waive the right of free agency if and when they agree to a new contract. But Miller said he would then be open to damage suits from players.

The owners minimized the danger, but when Miller asked them to accept the liability, they closed the discussion.

Meanwhile, the owners have been threatening to not open spring training until there is a signed contract or the players pledge not to strike. Miller says the players want to go in spring training.

The owners are expected to decide on Tuesday whether or not to open the camps.

Bulls Rout Portland By 56!

By The Associated Press — A funny thing happened to the Chicago Bulls on the way to a National Basketball Association victory. They won by 56 points.

"This is the second 'laugh' I've had in seven NBA seasons," Chicago Coach Dick Motta said Friday night after a free-wheeling 130-74 victory over the Portland Trail Blazers.

Motta has been on the other side enough times, so he didn't mind too much embarrassing the Trail Blazers.

"I don't mean to take advantage of Lenny Wilkens (the Portland coach), because I told my guys to take it easy," said

Motta. "But I remember in Philadelphia earlier in the year when we got bombed out and all the headlines in Chicago said 'Bulls Lose In A Laugher.'"

Wilkens and his players took the lopsided loss with grace. Bob Love scored 14 first-quarter points and Mickey Johnson poured in 17 during the third quarter as Chicago rolled up its largest winning margin in 10 NBA seasons.

In the other NBA games, it was Detroit 102, Washington 98; Houston 110, Milwaukee 98; Phoenix 103, New Orleans 102; Boston 125, Los Angeles 113 and Seattle 111, Philadelphia 82.

Eric Money and Curtis Rowe sparked a second-half comeback which saw Detroit outscore Washington 61-31 and wind up an easy win.

After a stumble-bum first half, the Pistons spent 15 minutes in the lockerroom and came out fighting. The Bulls, who had a 34-41 lead at the half, couldn't keep up for the rest of the game.

In the third quarter, the Pistons forced Washington into 14 turnovers. Detroit went on a 14-0 spree to pull within one, 62-61, and then a 10-0 spree that put the Bulls down, 71-66, as the period ended.

Exciting Fennville Loses At Buzzer

SAUGATUCK — Fennville has got to be the most exciting 11-7 cage team around this season.

The Blackhawks lost another one of their right-down-to-the-wire battles Friday night, this time to Saugatuck 67-45 here in an Allegan-Oakland conference game.

Fennville, now 3-5 in the league, has now lost five of its seven games this season by a total of 10 points.

With three seconds left, the Blackhawks were up by a 65-64 score. The Indians' Larry Smith got off a shot that missed but Saugatuck kept the ball alive and finally put it in with time running out.

Coach Tom Pelon of Fennville then related that a technical foul was called on his team for a reason that is a mystery to him. Saugatuck then canned that loss to give it the final victory margin.

The Blackhawks' senior forward Marc Moeller again led all scorers, netting 31 points and pulled down 19 of his team's 33 rebounds. Lyle Schut was the only other Blackhawk in double figures, scoring 10 points.

Doug Forrester led Saugatuck, now 4-4 in the league and 8-9 overall, with 18 points. Joel White added 12 points and Larry Smith 10 for the Indians.

Both squads shot about the same from the floor, Fennville making 28 of 67 tries for 41.8 per cent and Saugatuck canning 27 of 64 attempts for 42.3 per cent. Turnovers hurt the Blackhawks as they committed 27 miscues to Saugatuck's 15.

FOOTBALL — DETROIT — The Detroit Lions defeated the Washington Redskins 28-13 in a game that was a defensive struggle. The Lions' defense held the Redskins to 13 points and 273 yards. The Lions' offense scored on a 14-play drive in the fourth quarter.

UP IN THE AIR: Dwight Stones, of Long Beach State University, shatters his world indoor high jump record with a leap of 7 feet, 6 1/4 inches Friday night at New York's Madison Square Garden. Stones cleared the bar for the record on his first attempt at the U.S. Olympic Invitational Track Meet. He also holds the outdoor record of 7 feet, 6 1/4 inches. Dan Ripley topped the indoor pole vault record with a vault of 18 feet, 3 3/4 inches in the same meet. (AP Wirephoto) postpone both the Jan. 23 expansion draft and the Feb. 3-4 college draft.

"We are pleased that the NFL players union clearly retracted earlier public and written threats to legally block the veteran player allocation to the Tampa Bay and Seattle franchises," Tampa owner Hugh Culverhouse and John Thompson, general manager of Seattle, said in a joint statement.

"The union committed to neither institute nor finance such litigation, and Judge Eaton expressed the view in dismissing the case that the clubs should now be able to proceed," the statement said.

Glennon charged that the suit filed by Tampa and Seattle was a delay tactic so NFL owners could hold their March meeting when the applications for a mission from Memphis a Birmingham are to be considered, before having to conduct the drafts.

Garvey said in a statement from his Washington office. "We are pleased with the court's decision. Once again we repeat our hope that the owners come to the bargaining table and resolve all issues, including expansion."

"The league has tremendous problems right now and they don't seem to be doing anything about them," said Garvey. "Sooner or later, they must realize that the only way to solve these problems is to deal with us."

prospects of making a Florida stop for spring training by March 1 appeared to be dimming.

Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, said Friday the next pitch in the negotiations for a new labor contract was up to the owners.

Miller was to meet here today with the owners' negotiating team, headed by John J. Gaherin. Miller has met this week with the owners in Los Angeles and Chicago, where he was appraising the players of the progress of the negotiations.

The owners recently made a proposal to change the reserve clause — allow a player to play out his option after eight full major league seasons, allow him to deal with a maximum of eight teams and provide a plan of compensation to the old team that would include draft choices and money ranging from $54,500 to $520,000.

Miller said those concepts were "constructive, but way out of line in numbers and figures."

But Miller said he wasn't planning to respond to that offer with a specific one of his own because "the owners are the ones trying to avoid the present rights, and they are the ones refusing to acknowledge the present rights of players without contracts."

Miller says the present stance of the owners does not take into account the fact that these players already have a right of free agency.

The owners have asked Miller to commit his players to waive the right of free agency if and when they agree to a new contract. But Miller said he would then be open to damage suits from players.

The owners minimized the danger but when Miller asked them to accept the liability they closed the discussion.

Meanwhile, the owners have been threatening to not open spring training until there is a signed contract or the players pledge not to strike. Miller says the players want to go spring training.

The owners are expected to decide on Tuesday whether to open the camps.

Bulls Rout Portland By 56!

By The Associated Press
A funny thing happened to the Chicago Bulls on the way to a National Basketball Association victory. They won by 56 points.

"This is the second 'laugh' I've had in seven NBA seasons," Chicago Coach Dick Motta said Friday night after a free-wheeling 130-74 victory over the Portland Trail Blazers.

Motta has been on the other side enough times, so he didn't mind too much embarrassing the Trail Blazers.

"I don't mean to take advantage of Lenny Wilkens (the Portland coach), because I told my guys to take it easy," said

Motta. "But I remember in Philadelphia earlier in the year when we got bombed out and all the headlines in Chicago said 'Bulls Lose In A Laugh'."

Wilkens and his players took the lopsided loss with grace.

Bob Love scored 14 firstquarter points and Mickey Johnson poured in 17 during the third quarter as Chicago rolled up its largest winning margin in 10 NBA seasons.

In the other NBA games, it was Detroit 102, Washington 88; Houston 110, Milwaukee 108; Phoenix 103, New Orleans 102; Boston 125, Los Angeles 113 and Seattle 111, Philadelphia 92.

Eric Money and Curtis Ro sparked a second-half comeback which saw Detroit outscore Washington 61-31 a wind up an easy winner.

After a stumble-bum first half, the Pistons spent minutes in the locker room a came out fighting. The Bulls who had a 56-41 lead at the half couldn't keep up for the rest of the game.

In the third quarter, the Pistons forced Washington into turnovers. Detroit went on a 12-0 run to pull within one, 62-50, and then a 10-0 spree that put the Bulls down, 71-66, as the period ended.

Exciting Fennville Loses At Buzzer

SAUGATUCK — Fennville has got to be the most exciting 11-7 cage team around this season.

The Blackhawks lost another one of their right-down-to-the-wire battles Friday night, this time to Saugatuck 67-65 here in an Allegan-Ottawa conference game.

Fennville, now 3-5 in the league, has now lost five of its seven games this season by a total of 10 points.

With three seconds left, the Blackhawks were up by a 65-64 score. The Indians' Larry Smith got off a shot that missed but Saugatuck kept the ball alive and finally put it in with time running out.

Coach Tom Pelon of Fennville then related that a technical foul was called on his team for a reason that is a mystery to him. Saugatuck then canned that toss to give it the finally victory margin.

The Blackhawks' senior forward Marc Moeller again led all scorers, netting 31 points and pulled down 19 of his team's 32 rebounds. Lyle Schut was the only other Blackhawk in double figures, scoring 10 points.

Doug Forrester led Saugatuck, now 4-4 in the league and 8-9 overall, with 18 points. Joel White added 12 points and Larry Smith 10 for the Indians.

Both squads shot about the same from the floor, Fennville making 28 of 67 tries for 41.8 percent and Saugatuck canning 64 of 144 attempts for 44.4 percent.

Police Reservists Training In Cass

DOWAGIAC — Some 10 volunteer reserve police officers from Cass county and the White Pigeon area have embarked on a 96-hour, six-month training course aimed at increasing their value to the departments which they serve.

The reserve officers, including men and women, will get instruction on various aspects of police work, from police-community relations to civil defense and crowd control.

The first session of the class was held Thursday night at the Dowagiac high school library where Dowagiac Police Chief Michael Schott gave class members a summary of what the course will include.

The course is being sponsored by the Cass county Law Enforcement Advisory Council and the main instructor will be U. Michael Devine, a Berrien county sheriff's deputy assigned as coordinator of Lake Michigan college's law enforcement program.

Graduates of the course will get a certificate of completion from the council and six hours of credit from the college, Schott said.

Along with Devine, other instructors will include Cass Sheriff James Northrop, who is president of the advisory council, and Cass Prosecutor Michael Dodge, Schott said.

He said trainees include reserve officers from the Dowagiac, Cassopolis, Marcellus and Edwardsburg police departments, the sheriff's posse and high school and college students in the sheriff's cadet program.

There are also several trainees from the White Pigeon area, Schott added.

Police reserves ride as second men in a patrol car with full-time officers, provide security at athletic events and head traffic control programs through the county, the Dowagiac police chief said.

The 96-hour course is a shortened version of a 256-hour basic course people planning on becoming fulltime officers must take.

Schott said classes will include instruction in police-community relations, laws of arrest, criminal law and procedures, patrol techniques, mechanics of arrest, blockade and road block procedure, defensive tactics, criminal investigation, motor vehicle laws, accident investigation, traffic control, search and seizure, crime scene search, juvenile law, crime prevention, firearms instruction, first aid, narcotics and dangerous drugs, civil defense and crowd control.

Off-Track Bet Bill Friction

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Legislation allowing counties to create off-track horse betting is positioned for a final House vote next week and opponents have promised a fight. The measure, sponsored by Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, would allow counties to create parimutuel authorities to set up and operate off-track betting on horse races. People would be able to bet on horse races in Michigan and on contests outside of the state where the winning purses exceed $80,000. Supporters of the bill have said that legalizing off-track betting will reduce the amount of illegal gambling in the state. But opponents say few people bet on horses anyway and that at least 75 per cent of illegal gambling involves other sports. They argue that legalizing off-track betting of horses would do nothing to decrease the major portion of illegal gambling.

Science Says Dentistry Over 4,000 Years Old

By GENE SCHROEDER, Associated Press Writer

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — New evidence has been discovered providing conclusive proof that the specialty of dentistry was practiced in ancient Egypt at least 4,500 years ago, according to researchers.

The scientists believe their finding should end once and for all a controversy among Egyptologists about whether denistry was a significant profession in the Old Kingdom, which existed about 25 centuries before Cleopatra.

The discovery was reported in the Journal of the Michigan Dental Association by Dr. James E. Harris of the University of Michigan, Prof. Zaki Iskander of the American University in Cairo and Dr. Shafik Farid, retired member of Egypt's Department of Antiquities.

The scientists said their proof turned up in a 19th Dynasty tomb located in the El-Qatta cemetery on the edge of the Western Desert about 25 miles northwest of Cairo.

In the tomb, or mastaba, was found the bones of a human skeleton "almost completely crushed by large pieces of stone which fell on the body," the scientists reported.

"Among the crushed bones of the skull was a gold wire binding three teeth in good state, with the middle tooth being pierced," they said.

This gold device, they explained, was a mixed dental bridge consisting of gold wire and artificially prepared natural teeth. The three teeth appeared to be part of a four-unit bridge, the scientists said.

The significance of the gold bridge, discovered in 1952 by Farid, was not recognized at first. According to the report, the specimen was overlooked until 1974, when it was brought to Dr. Harris for examination and study.

Harris, chairman of the U-M orthodontics department, has gained widespread recognition among Egyptologists for his work in examining royal mummies by X-ray.

"The specimen," Dr. Harris reported, consisted of a cuspid around which had been placed a double strand of gold wire twisted into a knot on the distal surface.

"This tooth (cuspid) appears to have been vital and represents one of the abutments for a bridge."

Two other teeth placed on a long gold wire completed the specimen, he said. One appeared to be a central incisor in which a hole had been drilled through the crown and the other had the gold wire wrapped around it with a groove prepared to accommodate the wire.

Tartar was found on the teeth, indicating that the bridge had been in place for some time, according to the report.

"There is no question, therefore, that the device is a dental bridge which was worn by the patient for a relatively long period before he died," the scientists concluded.

Sheriff Asks Court To Bar Deputy

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Kalamazoo County sheriff Ronald Keim is seeking a court ruling to keep John R. Cross, a former deputy, from rejoining the department.

The dispute began more than a year ago when Keim dismissed the 28-year-old Cross for what Keim said were his attitude and work habits. Cross, however, said he was fired for his lodge and union activities. He holds local Fraternal Order of Police.

The former deputy was reinstated last May by a state arbitrator, but Keim refused to accept the ruling and Cross sued in Circuit Court to regain his job.

Judge Robert Borsos at that time ordered Cross's $240 per week paycheck be reinstated pending the outcome of lawsuit, and Thursday the judge ordered Cross back to work.

However, Keim said today he still refuses to take Cross back and will have his attorney appeal the judge's ruling.

Keim claims state laws say a deputy serves at the pleasure of the sheriff, but Judge Borsos in his ruling said employee labor relations have modified those statutes.

U.P. Town Gets On The Map--Literally

By SUSAN AGER, Associated Press Writer

GARDEN CORNERS, Mich. (AP) — It took 25 years and a letter full of pride to get this Upper Peninsula town of 3129 people on the Michigan map.

For the first time in state highway map history, there's an official-looking speck in Delta County between Thompson and Isabella on U.S. 2.

That's Garden Corners.

The town has existed for a quarter century — and, old-timers claim, was dubbed the "Wallace Capital of the World" 20 years ago. But now tourists won't drive right by it.

Its map spot is another plus in the town's plans to upturn 25 years of "status quo" and make it big as a resort area, say townsfolk.

"When people are looking for Garden Corners, we want them to know when they get to it," said Donald Bliven, the town's only bar owner. "We thrive on tourists."

State highway officials agreed, at the very last minute, to insert the small town's name in an open space just above Lake Michigan's Big Bay de Noc.

It was the only new town to appear on the Bicentennial map, which bumped no towns off this year either.

A letter signed by U.P. Garden Corners' entrepreneurs and boosters was what convinced them, officials said, despite reservations about whether the town actually qualified for cartographical recognition.

"For a long time we have felt we deserved to be put on the state highway map," the letter said. "Now we feel it is a necessity."

Sent last October to John Woodford, head of the State Highways and Transportation Department, it boasted of a "small but growing community" and "the only concentration of businesses between Manistique and Rapid River."

Businesses in the quarter-mile square town include three restaurants, three motels, four resorts, one bar-lounge, a gas station, a beauty shop and an excavating company.

Legally, say highway officials, unincorporated Garden Corners may not really qualify under state requirements. "The requirements are that a town be incorporated or have a U.S. Post Office before it is map-worthy."

The so-called post office is sort of a person designated in a grocery store to handle mail and sell stamps, said one highway official.

"But rather than argue, and because we had lots of empty space up there, we put it on," he said.

The maps just came out in January, and so far their effect is not noticeable, says Bliven.

But already two signs are up on U.S. 2, at opposite ends of the town, by order of the state highway department.

They say "Garden Corners," and that's enough, Bliven says.

Midland County Board Asks Grand Jury Probe Of Resigned Sheriff

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Jackson County Circuit Judge Gordon W. Britten will travel to Midland next Wednesday to hear requests for creation of a grand jury to probe alleged misconduct by former Midland County Sheriff William E. Maxwell.

Midland County Prosecutor Edward G. Durancé has alleged that Maxwell accepted a $4,700 gift from deputy Kris Arbury in April of 1973, and that Arbury was then promoted to deputy administrative assistant.

The grand jury request was filed by the Midland County Board of Commissioners and former undersheriff Larry Smith, who was fired by Maxwell on Feb. 2. At the request of Durancé, Maxwell resigned the following day after more than 13 years in office.

County commissioners also want an investigation into alleged wrongdoing in the disposal of confiscated weapons, purchasing and the disposal of other public property by Maxwell's department.

New Chrysler Auto Sheds 600 Pounds

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. says its engineers have developed an experimental lightweight intermediate car that weighs 600 pounds less than the company's conventional mid-size models.

If tests of the car are successful, the firm says, the prototype "XL" — which stands for Extra Light — would join two lightweight compact cars Chrysler introduced last fall. Mass production of the new car, however, is at least three years off, Chrysler said.

Frank Winders, chief materials engineer, said Thursday that the car weighs about 3,375 pounds, compared with 4,000 pounds for the regular intermediate.

He said much of the weight reduction has been accomplished by substituting higher-strength materials — such as aluminum and high-strength steel — for conventional rolled steel.

Winders called the prototype "a laboratory success, even though its mass production feasibility is yet to be determined."

He added that the car has not undergone extensive road testing, which would have to precede a final design. Even if the tests dictate a minimal amount of design change, he said, it would be at least three years before mass production could begin.

Chrysler's new lightweight compacts, the Plymouth Feather Duster and Dodge Lite, weigh about 150 pounds less than their untrimmed counterparts. The weight reduction allowed Chrysler to improve the cars' fuel economy by three miles per gallon in city driving and five m.p.g. on the highway.

Winders declined to predict how much of an improvement in fuel economy the XL would show until further tests are conducted.

Police Reservists Training In Cass

DOWAGIAC — Some 65 volunteer reserve police officers from Cass county and the White Pigeon area have embarked on a 96-hour, six-month training course aimed at increasing their value to the departments which they serve.

The reserve officers, including men and women, will get instruction on various aspects of police work, from police-community relations to civil defense and crowd control.

The first session of the class was held Thursday night at the Dowagiac high school library where Dowagiac Police Chief Michael Schott gave class members a summary of what the course will include.

The course is being sponsored by the Cass county Law Enforcement Advisory Council and the main instructor will be Lt. Michael Devine, a Berrien county sheriff's deputy assigned as coordinator of Lake Michigan college's law enforcement program.

Graduates of the course will get a certificate of completion from the council and six hours of credit from the college, Schott said.

Along with Devine, other instructors will include Cass Sheriff James Northrop, who is president of the advisory council, and Cass Prosecutor Michael Dodge, Schott said.

He said trainees include reserve officers from the Dowagiac, Cassopolis, Marcellus and Edwardsburg police departments, the sheriff's posse and high school and college students in the sheriff's cadet program.

There are also several trainees from the White Pigeon area, Schott added.

Police reserves ride as second men in a patrol car with full-time officers, provide security at athletic events and head traffic control programs through the county, the Dowagiac police chief said.

The 96-hour course is a shortened version of a 256-hour basic course people planning on becoming fulltime officers must take.

Schott said classes will include instruction in police-community relations, laws of arrest, criminal law and procedures, patrol techniques, mechanics of arrest, blockade and road block procedure, defensive tactics, criminal investigation, motor vehicle laws, accident investigation, traffic control, search and seizure, crime scene search, juvenile law, crime prevention, firearms instruction, first aid, narcotics and dangerous drugs, civil defense and crowd control.

Off-Track Bet Bill Friction

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Legislation allowing counties to create off-track horse betting is positioned for a final House vote next week and opponents have promised a fight. The measure, sponsored by Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, would allow counties to create parimutuel authorities to set up and operate off-track betting on horse races. People would be able to bet on horse races in Michigan and on contests outside of the state where the winning purses exceed $20,000. Supporters of the bill have said that legalizing off-track betting will reduce the amount of illegal gambling in the state. But opponents say few people bet on horses anyway and that at least 75 per cent of illegal gambling involves other sports. They argue that legalizing off-track betting of horses would do nothing to decrease the major portion of illegal gambling.

Science Says Dentistry Over 4,000 Years Old

By GENE SCHROEDER
Associated Press Writer

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — New evidence has been discovered providing conclusive proof that the specialty of dentistry was practiced in ancient Egypt at least 4,500 years ago, according to researchers.

The scientists believe their finding should end once and for all a controversy among Egyptologists about whether dentistry was a significant profession in the Old Kingdom, which existed about 25 centuries before Cleopatra.

The discovery was reported in the Journal of the Michigan Dental Association by Dr. James E. Harris of the University of Michigan, Prof. Zaki Iskander of the American University in Cairo and Dr. Shafik Farid, retired member of Egypt's Department of Antiquities.

The scientists said their proof turned up in a IVth Dynasty tomb located in the El-Qatta cemetery on the edge of the Western Desert about 25 miles northwest of Cairo.

In the tomb, or mastaba, was found the bones of a human skeleton "almost completely crushed by large pieces of stone which fell on the body," the scientists reported.

"Among the crushed bones of the skull was a gold wire binding three teeth in good state, with the middle tooth being pierced," they said.

This gold device, they explained, was a mixed dental bridge consisting of gold wire and artificially prepared natural teeth. The three teeth appeared to be part of a four-unit bridge, the scientists said.

The significance of the gold bridge, discovered in 1952 by Farid, was not recognized at first. According to the report, the specimen was overlooked until 1974, when it was brought to Dr. Harris for examination and study.

Harris, chairman of the U-M orthodontics department, has gained widespread recognition among Egyptologists for his work in examining royal mummies by X-ray.

"The specimen," Dr. Harris reported, consisted of a cuspid around which had been placed a double strand of gold wire twisted into a knot on the distal surface.

"This tooth (cuspid) appears to have been vital and represents one of the abutments for a bridge."

Two other teeth placed on a long gold wire completed the specimen, he said. One appeared to be a central incisor in which a hole had been drilled through the crown and the other had the gold wire wrapped around it with a groove prepared to accommodate the wire.

Tartar was found on the teeth, indicating that the bridge had been in place for some time, according to the report.

"There is no question, therefore, that the device is a dental bridge which was worn by the patient for a relatively long period before he died," the scientists concluded.

Sheriff Asks Court To Bar Deputy

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Kalamazoo County sheriff Ronald Keim is seeking a court ruling to keep John R. Cross, a former deputy, from rejoining the department.

The dispute began more than a year ago when Keim dismissed the 28-year-old Cross for what Keim said were his attitude and work habits. Cross, however, said he was fired for his lodge and union activities. He heads local Fraternal Order of Police.

The former deputy was reinstated last May by a state arbitrator, but Keim refused to accept the ruling and Cross sued in Circuit Court to regain his job.

Judge Robert Borsos at that time ordered Cross's $240 per week paycheck be reinstated pending the outcome of lawsuit, and Thursday the judge ordered Cross back to work.

However, Keim said today he still refuses to take Cross back and will have his attorney appeal the judge's ruling.

Keim claims state laws say a deputy serves at the pleasure of the sheriff, but Judge Borsos in his ruling said employee labor relations have modified those statutes.

FITTING FOR A KING: Here's three teeth researchers say shows dentistry was practiced in Egypt at least 4,500 years ago. Gold wire links presumably healthy tooth, top, to two replacement teeth, which in turn were anchored to another healthy tooth (not pictured at bottom). Bottom tooth has wire threaded through drilled hole. (AP Wirephoto)

New Chrysler Auto Sheds 600 Pounds

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. says its engineers have developed an experimental lightweight intermediate car that weighs 600 pounds less than the company's conventional mid-size models.

If tests of the car are successful, the firm says, the prototype "XL" — which stands for Extra Light — would join two lightweight compact cars Chrysler introduced last fall. Mass production of the new car, however, is at least three years off, Chrysler said.

Frank Winders, chief materials engineer, said Thursday that the car weighs about 3,375 pounds, compared with 4,000 pounds for the regular intermediate.

He said much of the weight reduction has been accomplished by substituting lighterweight materials — such as aluminum and high-strength steel — for conventional rolled steel.

Winders called the prototype "a laboratory success, even though its mass production feasibility is yet to be determined."

He added that the car has not undergone extensive road testing, which would have to precede a final design. Even if the tests dictate a minimal amount of design change, he said, it would be at least three years before mass production could begin.

Chrysler's new lightweight compacts, the Plymouth Feather Duster and Dodge Lite, weigh about 150 pounds less than their unlimbed counterparts. The weight reduction allowed Chrysler to improve the cars' fuel economy by three miles per gallon in city driving and five m.p.g. on the highway.

Winders declined to predict how much of an improvement in fuel economy the XL would show until further tests are conducted.

U.P. Town Gets On The Map--Literally

By SUSAN AGER

Associated Press Writer
GARDEN CORNERS, Mich. (AP) — It took 25 years and a letter full of pride to get this Upper Peninsula town of 129 people on the Michigan map.

For the first time in state highway map history, there's an official looking speck in Delta County between Thompson and Isabella on U.S. 2.

That's Garden Corners. The town has existed for a quarter century — and, old-timers claim, was dubbed the "Walleye Capital of the World" 20 years ago. But now tourists won't drive right by.

Its map spot is another plus

in the town's plans to upturn 25 years of "status quo" and make it big as a resort area, say townsfolk.

"When people are looking for Garden Corners, we want them to know when they get to it," said Donald Bliven, the town's only bar owner. "We thrive on tourists."

State highway officials agreed, at the very last minute, to insert the small town's name in an open space just above Lake Michigan's Big Bay de Noc.

It was the only new town to appear on the Bicentennial map, which bumped no towns off this year either.

A letter signed by 11 Garden Corners entrepreneurs and boosters was what convinced them, officials said, despite reservations about whether the town actually qualified for cartographical recognition.

"For a long time we have felt we deserved to be put on the state highway map," the letter said. "Now we feel it is a necessity."

Sent last October to John Woodford, head of the State Highways and Transportation Department, it boasted of a "small but growing community" and "the only concentration of businesses between Manistique and Rapid River."

Businesses in the quarter-mile square town include three restaurants, three motels, four resorts, one bar-lounge, a gas station, a beauty shop and an excavating company.

Legally, say highway officials, unincorporated Garden Corners may not really qualify under state requirements. The requirements are that a town be incorporated or have a U. S. Post Office before it is map-worthy.

"The so-called post office is sort of a person designated in a grocery store to handle mail and sell stamps," said one highway official.

"But rather than argue, and because we had lots of empty space up there, we put it on," he said.

The maps just came out in January, and so far their effect is not noticeable, says Bliven.

But already two signs are up on U.S. 2, at opposite ends of the town, by order of the state highway department.

They say "Garden Corners," and that's enough, Bliven says.

Midland County Board Asks Grand Jury Probe Of Resigned Sheriff

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Jackson County Circuit Judge Gordon W. Britten will travel to Midland next Wednesday to hear requests for creation of a grand jury to probe alleged misconduct by former Midland County Sheriff William E. Maxwell.

Midland County Prosecutor Edward G. Durance has alleged that Maxwell accepted a $4,700 gift from deputy Kris Arbury in April of 1973, and that Arbury was then promoted to deputy administrative assistant.

The grand jury request was filed by the Midland County Board of Commissioners and former undersheriff Larry Smith, who was fired by Maxwell on Feb. 2. At the request of Durance, Maxwell resigned the following day after more than 13 years in office.

County commissioners also want an investigation into alleged wrongdoing in the disposal of confiscated weapons, purchasing and the disposal of other public property by Maxwell's department.

Boeing New Target Of Federal Probers

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Securities and Exchange Commission investigators are preparing to sift through the financial records of the Boeing Corp. in a continuing probe of giant American corporations suspected of making improper payments overseas.

A U.S. District Court judge on Friday ordered Boeing to turn over to the SEC any documents that might bear on foreign payoffs by the aircraft manufacturer.

Meanwhile, Senate multinational corporations subcommittee sources said senators are considering expanding their ongoing investigation to include Boeing and certain other firms. The source stressed that no decision has been made.

Boeing spokesmen repeatedly have denied making any improper or illegal payments similar to those admitted by the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. and other large U.S. firms.

In Los Angeles, Northrop Corp. officials told the SEC on Friday that an Italian subsidiary company it owns indirectly apparently continued making improper commission payments even after Northrop had agreed to stop such payments.

Northrop officials told the SEC the Italian subsidiary, Page-Europa, S.P.A., of Rome, doled out more than $800,000 between 1969 and 1975 and that some of the payments were made after Northrop signed a consent decree in April 1975 barring such payments.

The exact nature of the payments was not disclosed, but a Northrop spokesman said some foreign government employees were involved.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the Senate's multinational subcommittee, said he had no knowledge of an $8.3 million payment said by the Senate banking committee to have been made to a mysterious and unidentified official of a foreign government in exchange for help in selling Lockheed airplanes.

In a meeting with news reporters from several countries, Church denied as "baseless" suspicions in such countries as Japan that the committee and the United States may be helping foreign governments conceal the names of local officials involved in the Lockheed payoff scandal.

Japan especially has pressed demands for the identities of government officials involved in payoffs. Church said if his committee's expanded investigation produces the names they will be made available to the Japanese government through the State Department.

In San Francisco, a public research group, Military Audit Project, filed suit against Lockheed for at least $44 million, saying Lockheed had claimed illegal bribes and political contributions as legitimate business expenses against federally subsidized projects.

In the Boeing case, U.S. Dist. Judge Thomas A. Flannery said the SEC must keep secret for the time being the results of the Boeing investigation.

The United States, Flannery ruled, "has an interest in preventing untimely disclosures of information contained in documents covered by this order since said information could have an impact on the foreign policy of the United States."

A lawyer for Boeing said most of the material sought for the investigation could be made available by next Monday and all of it by March 8.

Accused Landlord Demands Hearing

A Watervliet landlord charged with assault with a deadly weapon against two of his tenants demanded preliminary examination Friday in Berrien Fifth District court at St. Joseph.

Jailed under $1,000 bond was James W. Turner, 54, of 337 East Red Arrow highway, Watervliet. A warrant charges he assaulted tenants Roscoe and Louise Whitmore with a wine bottle last Tuesday in Watervliet.

Brought over to Circuit court was Willie J. Campbell, 30, of 334 Payne, Benton Harbor, on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property valued over $300 Feb. 4 in Benton Harbor. He waived preliminary examination and was released on $2,000 bond.

Sentenced for the following violations were:

Disorderly person, possession of a weapon — Larry C. Heumiller, 28, of Beloit, Wis., fine and costs of $200 involving a pistol; Larry A. Johnson, 17, of 1290 Highland, Benton Harbor, 20 days in jail, $105 and six months probation involving a straight razor.

Assault and battery — Robert C. High, 20, of 1235 Ogden avenue, Benton Harbor, $55 or 10 days in jail; John R. Brown, 66, of 230 South Crystal, Benton township, 30 days in jail (jail time suspended) and $132; Kelly B. O'Brien, 20, of 404 LaSalle, St. Joseph, 20 days in jail, $105 and one year probation.

Use of marijuana — Bobby J. Williams, 25, of 1946 East Britain, Benton township, $50 or 10 days in jail; Johnnie Rivera, 21, of Michigan City, Ind., $72 or 30 days in jail.

Petty larceny — Antonietta K. Patterson, 22, of Lawrence, $125; Henry R. Grier, 25, of 706 Pipestone, Benton Harbor, $125 or 30 days in jail; Roland Price, 44, of 1376 Agard avenue, Benton township, 30 days in jail and six months probation.

Impaired driving — Joel E. Staffel, 25, of Michigan City, Ind., $102; Ryan D. Lausch, 24, of Buchanan, 90 days in jail and one year probation; Sidney A.

Brazilian Pact

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — Secretary of State Henry Kissinger was to sign an accord in this Brazilian capital today before flying on to Rio de Janeiro to continue his Latin American tour. The U.S.-Brazilian agreement promises U.S. consultation with Brazil on any major global decision and accelerates the movement of advanced American technology to Brazil.

Hickmott, 21, of Portage, $151; Roy H. Taylor, 27, of Coloma, $102; Donald L. Pechtel, 40, of 1280 Colfax, Benton Harbor, three days in jail, $220 and two years probation for second offense.

Others sentenced were: Gary L. Wickam, 17, of 214 West Merchant street, New Buffalo, 30 days in jail for attempted unauthorized use of an auto in New Buffalo Jan. 28.

Gladys Bell, 71, of 411 South Center street, Hartford, $90 for allowing two apartments in Benton Harbor to be occupied without inspection.

Steve W. Southard, 20, of LaPorte, Ind., $155 for driving while intoxicated Feb. 16 in New Buffalo.

Bradley B. McAllister, 20, of Northville, three days in jail and $80 or 30 days in jail total for driving while license suspended Feb. 20 in New Buffalo township.

Rocky Says Reagan 'Peaked Too Early'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Vice President Nelson Rockefeller attended a Republican fund-raiser Friday night with a boost for President Ford, a blast at Congress and some evasive answers on former President Nixon's China trip.

The vice president told reporters Ronald Reagan peaked too early and will be beaten by Ford in next Tuesday's New Hampshire primary. Rockefeller told reporters that Congress is "under intense pressure from special interest groups" and is seriously limiting the ability of the President to deal with international relations.

In an apparent reference to the Soviet and Cuban-backed victories in Angola, Rockefeller said, "In a very real sense, freedom is again endangered by the Soviets' relentless expansion and military power posing ominous threats to freedom's future."

The vice president addressed the Michigan State Republican Committee Bicentennial dinner in Lansing.

Referring to Congress, he said, "Five-hundred-thirty-six persons can't be at the wheel of the ship of state." He said it is essential for Congress to review foreign policy but it should not try to conduct foreign policy.

On another topic, Rockefeller said the timing of former President Nixon's trip to China is "unusual," but he refused to openly criticize Nixon's trip.

"I don't think it will have any effect on President Ford's showing in New Hampshire," Rockefeller said.

Rockefeller said he is not sure Nixon intended to hurt Ford's chances in New Hampshire.

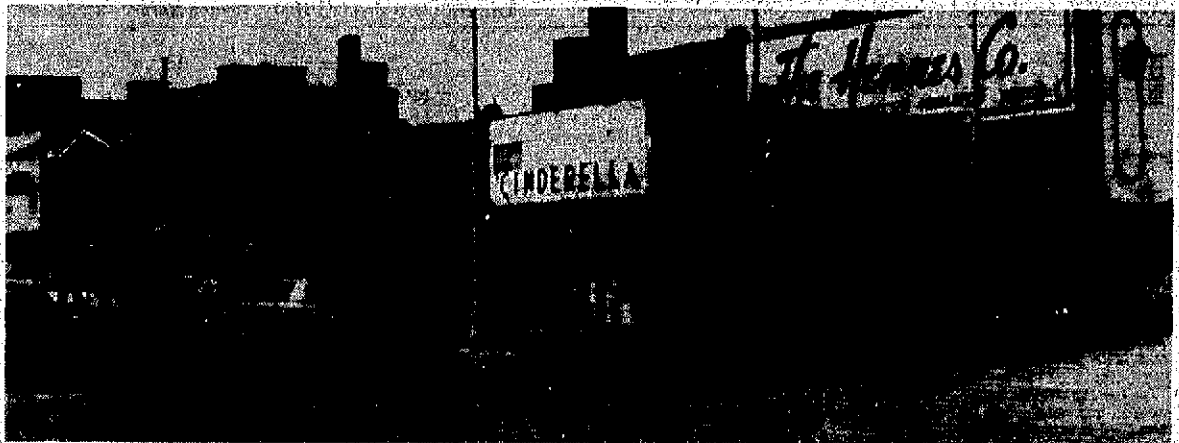

"Whether that was the intent or not is another question," Rockefeller said. The New Hampshire primary is next Tuesday. Nixon's trip has been viewed by some as a possible embarrassment to Ford at a crucial time in his campaign.

Rockefeller predicted that Reagan, Ford's biggest threat for the GOP nomination, started his campaign "too early," and may have to consider dropping out after Ford wins the nation's first three primaries, as Rockefeller said he expects Ford to do.

"I'm afraid to say Reagan peaked too soon," Rockefeller said to a group of reporters when he arrived at an airport near Lansing.

Rockefeller said Ford will win in New Hampshire, Florida and Massachusetts.

After those losses, said Rockefeller, it will be "very difficult for Mr. Reagan to maintain any momentum" at all.

Rather Be The Appointer: Reagan

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Special Correspondent

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Ronald Reagan wants to appoint a cabinet, not join one, so he is wrapping up a New Hampshire primary campaign against President Ford — who twice tried to hire him.

Reagan played what clearly was one of his campaign hole cards Friday in rebuttal to President Ford's statement that Reagan is too far to the right to win a presidential election.

Ford and Reagan meet Tuesday in New Hampshire's season opening presidential primary. "Well, I am a little surprised by his statement about my so-called extremism," Reagan said. "It does come a little strange since he tried on two different occasions to persuade me to accept any of several cabinet positions in his administration."

White House press secretary Ron Nessen confirmed that Ford had offered Reagan positions in the administration.

Reagan campaigned in Manchester today, staging a campaign rally here tonight, and putting in a final round of appearances Sunday to conclude his personal hunt for New Hampshire votes.

Ford concluded his New Hampshire campaign Friday with a forecast of victory. "We're going to win not only in New Hampshire but elsewhere," he said in Dover.

Reagan was more guarded in his forecast. "I don't think that when you run against an incumbent you come to New Hampshire in the first primary with the expectation of winning at all," he said. "The people here who have been campaigning for me have expressed their belief that a percentage somewhere in the 40s would be an extremely fine showing on my part."

Reagan said the President telephoned him during his final weeks as governor of California, which would put the date late in 1974, to offer him appointment as secretary of transportation or another post. Then, he said, in the spring of 1975, Donald Rumsfeld, then a presidential aide, relayed an offer to make him secretary of commerce.

Reagan at that time was rated a likely Republican challenger for the White House.

Reagan said "actually, I was offered a choice of several" cabinet positions. He said Ford told him some were for vacant positions "that then existed and some that were going to come up in the near future."

In Washington, Nessen said, "The President has sought to unify the Republican party and bring to the administration a wide range of views. On two occasions, the President did explore the possibility of former

Gov. Reagan taking on an administrative post."

"I didn't want to be in the cabinet," Reagan said. He said he told Ford that instead he wanted to speak and write on political, social and economic issues. Those speeches, columns and radio broadcasts were part of the preface to the presidential challenge Reagan formally announced on Nov. 21.

With a muffled laugh, Reagan said he certainly didn't suspect Ford of making the job offers in an effort to keep him out of the presidential race. "No," he said, "I just thought that he recognized my administrative ability."

AREA POLICE ROUNDUP

Pair Arrested On Weapons Charge

State troopers from the Benton Harbor post arrested two men after confiscating a .22-caliber pistol from an auto the officers stopped for speeding on I-94, St. Joseph township, about 6 p.m. Friday.

Booked on charges of carrying a concealed weapon were James H. Bailey, 25, and Ennis Blackman, 25, both of Saginaw.

Twin Cities area police Friday investigated seven reports of thefts including cash and property totaling an estimated $1,632.

Doris Frobel told St. Joseph police at 8:30 p.m. Friday that a purse, containing nearly $35 was snatched from the front seat of her car, parked at her home, 904 Wolcott avenue. Mrs. Frobel told police she took a sack of groceries into her home and was returning for the purse when a man appeared, grabbed the purse and fled on foot.

Benton township police said they investigated the reported theft of property valued at about $600 from the residence of Tryce Wilburn, 227 North Fair avenue. Loot was listed to include a television set, radio, lamp, blanket and two rolls of carpeting.

Thefts reported to Benton Harbor police were:

A purse containing a $231 check and $4 cash, owned by Janet Riesen, a teacher at Calvin Britain school and stolen from her classroom.

Whitfield, 344 South McCord street.

A television set, clock and assorted jewelry, worth an estimated $88, from the residence of James Nichols, 133 Oden street.

Thefts reported to Berrien sheriff's officers:

A citizen band radio and tape deck from a semi truck tractor owned by Edward Kuch, 7019 Jericho road, Stevensville, and parked at Red Arrow highway and DeRay road, Stevensville. Value of the stolen items was reported to be $225.

A set of golf clubs valued at $210, from the garage of the Daniel J. Knuth residence, 2743 Lane court, Lincoln township.

Three reports of vandalism were investigated Friday by Berrien sheriff's deputies and Benton township police.

Lower Kelly of 2334 Juni lane, Stevensville, told deputies BB pellets were fired through a total of eight windows of two houses under construction at 2322 and 2308 Juni lane. Kelly, who is building the houses, listed the value of the windows at $150.

Norma Turner told deputies gold-colored paint was sprayed over the back of her house, Box 415 North Branch road, Route 2, Watervliet.

Ruby Swin told Benton township police BB pellets were fired through a picture window at her house, 1909 North Euclid avenue. Value of the window was listed at $120.

Boeing New Target Of Federal Probers

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) —

Securities and Exchange Commission investigators are preparing to sift through the financial records of the Boeing Corp. in a continuing probe of giant American corporations suspected of making improper payments overseas.

A U.S. District Court judge on Friday ordered Boeing to turn over to the SEC any documents that might bear on foreign payoffs by the aircraft manufacturer.

Meanwhile, Senate multinational corporations subcommittee sources said senators are considering expanding their ongoing investigation to include Boeing and certain other firms. The source stressed that no decision has been made.

Boeing spokesmen repeatedly have denied making any improper or illegal payments similar to those admitted by the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. and other large U.S. firms.

In Los Angeles, Northrop Corp. officials told the SEC on Friday that an Italian subsidiary company it owns indirectly apparently continued making improper commission payments even after Northrop had agreed to stop such payments.

Northrop officials told the SEC the Italian subsidiary, Page-Europa, S.P.A., of Rome, doled out more than $860,000 between 1969 and 1975 and that some of the payments were made after Northrop signed a consent decree in April 1975 barring such payments.

The exact nature of the payments was not disclosed, but a Northrop spokesman said some foreign government employees were involved.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the Senate's multinational subcommittee, said he had no knowledge of an $8.3 million payment said by the Senate banking committee to have been made to a mysterious and unidentified official of a foreign government in exchange for help in selling Lockheed airplanes.

In a meeting with news reporters from several countries, Church denied as "baseless" suspicions in such countries as Japan that the committee and the United States may be helping foreign governments conceal the names of local officials involved in the Lockheed payoff scandal.

Japan especially has pressed demands for the identities of government officials involved in payoffs, Church said if his committee's expanded investigation produces the names they will be made available to the Japanese government through the State Department.

In San Francisco, a public research group, Military Audit Project, filed suit against Lockheed for at least $44 million, saying Lockheed had claimed illegal bribes and political contributions as legitimate business expenses against federally subsidized projects.

In the Boeing case, U.S. Dist. Judge Thomas A. Flannery said the SEC must keep secret for the time being the results of the Boeing investigation.

The United States, Flannery ruled, "has an interest in preventing untimely disclosures of information contained in documents covered by this order since said information could have an impact on the foreign policy of the United States."

A lawyer for Boeing said most of the material sought for the investigation could be made available by next Monday and all of it by March 8.

WINS AWARD

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP) — Nobel prize-winning author Alexander Solzhenitsyn is among eight persons named today to receive special awards from the Freedoms Foundation.

Others sentenced were:

Gary L. Wickam, 17, of 214 West Merchant street, New Buffalo, 30 days in jail for attempted unauthorized use of an auto in New Buffalo Jan. 26.

Gladys Bell, 71, of 411 South Center street, Hartford, $50 for allowing two apartments in Benton Harbor to be occupied without inspection.

Steve W. Southard, 20, of LaPorte, Ind., $155 for driving while intoxicated Feb. 16 in New Buffalo.

Bradley B. McAllister, 20, of Northville, three days in jail and $90 or 30 days in jail total for driving while license suspended Feb. 20 in New Buffalo township.

Rocky Says Reagan 'Peaked Too Early'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Vice President Nelson Rockefeller attended a Republican fundraiser Friday night with a boost for President Ford, a blast at Congress and some evasive answers on former President Nixon's China trip.

The vice president told reporters Ronald Reagan peaked too early and will be beaten by Ford in next Tuesday's New Hampshire primary.

Rockefeller told reporters that Congress is "under intense pressure from special interest groups" and is seriously limiting the ability of the President to deal with international relations.

In an apparent reference to the Soviet and Cuban-backed victories in Angola, Rockefeller said, "In a very real sense, freedom is again endangered by the Soviets' relentless expansion and military power posing ominous threats to freedom's future."

The vice president addressed the Michigan State Republican Committee Bicentennial dinner in Lansing.

Referring to Congress, he said, "Five-hundred-thirty-six persons can't be at the wheel of the ship of state." He said it is essential for Congress to review foreign policy but it should not try to conduct foreign policy.

On another topic, Rockefeller said the timing of former President Nixon's trip to China is "unusual," but he refused to openly criticize Nixon's trip.

"I don't think it will have any effect on President Ford's showing in New Hampshire," Rockefeller said.

Rockefeller said he is not sure Nixon intended to hurt Ford's chances in New Hampshire.

"Whether that was the intent or not is another question," Rockefeller said.

The New Hampshire primary is next Tuesday. Nixon's trip has been viewed by some as a possible embarrassment to Ford at a crucial time in his campaign.

Rockefeller predicted that Reagan, Ford's biggest threat for the GOP nomination, started his campaign "too early," and may have to consider dropping out after Ford wins the nation's first three primaries, as Rockefeller said he expects Ford to do.

"I'm afraid to say Reagan peaked too soon," Rockefeller said to a group of reporters when he arrived at an airport near Lansing.

Rockefeller said Ford will win in New Hampshire, Florida and Massachusetts.

After those losses, said Rockefeller, it will be "very difficult for Mr. Reagan to maintain any momentum at all."

Rather Be The Appointer: Reagan

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Special Correspondent
MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) —

Ronald Reagan wants to appoint a cabinet, not join one, so he is wrapping up a New Hampshire primary campaign against President Ford — who twice tried to hire him.

Reagan played what clearly was one of his campaign hole cards Friday in rebuttal to President Ford's statement that Reagan is too far to the right to win a presidential election.

Ford and Reagan meet Tuesday in New Hampshire's season opening presidential primary.

"Well, I am a little surprised by his statement about my so-called extremism," Reagan said. "It does come a little strange since he tried on two different occasions to persuade me to accept any of several cabinet positions in his administration ..."

White House press secretary Ron Nessen confirmed that Ford had offered Reagan positions in the administration.

Reagan campaigned in Manchester today, staging a campaign rally here tonight, and putting in a final round of appearances Sunday to conclude his personal hunt for New Hampshire votes.

Ford concluded his New Hampshire campaign Friday with a forecast of victory. "We're going to win not only in New Hampshire but elsewhere," he said in Dover.

Reagan was more guarded in his forecast. "I don't think that when you run against an incumbent you come to New Hampshire in the first primary with the expectation of winning at all," he said. "The people here who have been campaigning for me have expressed their belief that a percentage somewhere in the 40s would be an extremely fine showing on my part ..."

Reagan said the President telephoned him during his final weeks as governor of California, which would put the date late in 1974, to offer him appointment as secretary of transportation or another post. Then, he said, in the spring of 1975, Donald Rumsfeld, then a presidential aide, relayed an offer to make him secretary of commerce.

Reagan said that time was rated a likely Republican challenger for the White House.

Reagan said "actually, I was offered a choice of several" cabinet positions. He said Ford told him some were for vacant positions "that then existed and some that were going to come up in the near future."

In Washington, Nessen said, "The President has sought to unify the Republican party and bring to the administration a wide range of views. On two occasions, the President did explore the possibility of former

Accused Landlord Demands Hearing

A Watervliet landlord charged with assault with a deadly weapon against two of his tenants demanded preliminary examination Friday in Berrien Fifth District court at St. Joseph.

Jailed under $1,000 bond was James W. Turner, 54, of 337 East Red Arrow highway, Watervliet. A warrant charges he assaulted tenants Roscoe and Louise Whitmore with a wine bottle last Tuesday in Watervliet.

Bound over to Circuit court was Willie J. Campbell, 30, of 524 Pavone, Benton Harbor, on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property valued over $100 Feb. 4 in Benton Harbor. He waived preliminary examination and was released on $2,500 bond.

Sentenced for the following violations were:

Disorderly person, possession of a weapon — Larry C. Heumiller, 28, of Beloit, Wis., fine and costs of $200 involving a pistol; Larry A. Johnson, 17, of 1250 Highland, Benton Harbor, 20 days in jail, $105 and six months probation involving a straight razor.

Assault and battery — Robert C. Hill, 20, of 1235 Ogden avenue, Benton Harbor, $55 or 10 days in jail; John R. Brown, 60, of 220 South Crystal, Benton township, 30 days in jail (jail time suspended) and $152; Kelly B. O'Brien, 20, of 404 LaSalle, St. Joseph, 20 days in jail, $105 and one year probation.

Use of marijuana — Bobby J. Williams, 25, of 1946 East Britain, Benton township, $50 or 10 days in jail; Johnnie Rivera, 21, of Michigan City, Ind., $72 or 30 days in jail.

Petty larceny — Antonetta K. Patterson, 22, of Lawrence, $125; Henry R. Grier, 25, of 766 Pipestone, Benton Harbor, $125 or 30 days in jail; Roland Price, 44, of 1376 Agard avenue, Benton township, 30 days in jail and six months probation.

Impaired driving — Joel E. Staffel, 25, of Michigan City, Ind., $102; Ryan D. Lausch, 24, of Buchanan, 90 days in jail and one year probation; Sidney A.

Brazilian Pact

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — Secretary of State Henry Kissinger was to sign an accord in this Brazilian capital today before flying on to Rio de Janeiro to continue his Latin American tour. The U.S.-Brazilian agreement promises U.S. consultation with Brazil on any major global decision and accelerates the movement of advanced American technology to Brazil.

State Studies A-Plan

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan may get partially into the business of regulating nuclear power plants if the Natural Resources Commission adopts a proposed policy statement.

The plan is scheduled for debate at the commission's meeting March 11-12. The commission sets policy for the Department of Natural Resources.

But DNR director Howard Tanner, in sending the proposal to the commission, predicted "wide divergence of opinion" on the subject.

Intervention of the DNR staff in power plant licensing hearings at the state and federal levels is one of 11 proposals. Such intervention would cover both nuclear and fossil fuel plants.

Continual monitoring of nuclear plant discharges by either state or federal agencies also is suggested. The DNR wants such surveillance to continue even though the plant is no longer used.

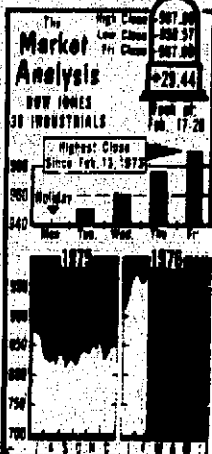

Also involved is opposition to fueling nuclear plants with plutonium until there is greater knowledge of that radioactive material's use, transportation and disposal.

The statement also insists both state and federal laws are needed to safeguard transportation of radioactive fuel and dispose of it safely once it is used.

If the proposal is adopted, the DNR said it would be the first nuclear plant regulation attempted by Michigan.

Tanner called for continued public debate and "full public disclosure" about any decision involving radioactivity and energy needs.

The Public Interest Group in Michigan (PIRIGM) has started a petition drive that would place similar proposals before state voters.

WEEKLY STOCKS: The market closed at its highest level in three years Friday, with the Dow Jones at 987.00, up 28.44 from the week prior. Analysts attributed the rise to improving business conditions. (AP Wirephoto Chart)

UAW Names New Aide To Fraser

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers has appointed Thomas Gibson administrative assistant to Vice President Douglas A. Fraser, the union announced today.

The 56-year-old Gibson, assistant director of the UAW's skilled trades department since 1968, succeeds Anthony W. Cynlone, who is retiring after 29 years on the international UAW staff.

Fraser, director of both the UAW skilled trades and Chrysler departments, praised Cynlone for his "many invaluable contributions" to the union. "At all times, his primary concern has been people and helping them advance," Fraser said. "He gave substance continually to UAW's programs."

Gibson, a former tool and die maker and a member of UAW Chevrolet Local 424 in Buffalo, N.Y., was appointed to the international staff in 1963. He previously has worked in the union's aerospace and General Motors departments.

Gibson will remain as assistant director of skilled trades until a successor is named, Fraser said.

Crosses Wall

BERLIN (AP) — Gen. Alexander Haig, commander of U.S. forces in Europe, has become the highest placed allied military officer known to have crossed the wall dividing Berlin since the Communists built the barrier in 1961. Haig's crossing from West Berlin into East Berlin, was seen as an endorsement of the Western view that all of Berlin remains a four-power city under postwar agreements.

Bloomington Telephone Officials Are Re-Elected

BLOOMINGTON — Roy Latchaw has been re-elected president of the board of directors of the Bloomington Telephone company for 1976, according to A. James Crandall, company manager.

The board also re-elected William Godfrey as vice president and Mrs. Georgia Jacobsen as secretary.

Prior to the election of officers last week, stockholders re-elected Vern Ferguson and Dale Robbins to three-year terms on the five-member board of directors, according to Crandall.

Crandall said he reported at the stockholders meeting that there had been 87 telephones added to the Bloomington system in 1975, bringing the total number of phones to 1,314.

Planners Arriving March 18

A final public meeting with members of the planning firm of Barton-Aschman Associates, Inc., of Evanston, Ill., will be held Thursday, March 18, according to St. Joseph City Assessor Dick Kiesel.

The meeting will be at 7 p.m. at the Maud Preston Palenske library, 500 Market Street. At the meeting Barton-Aschman will make their final recommendations based on completion of a study of the St. Joseph central business district.

Barton-Aschman was contracted by the city to make the detailed study. A similar public meeting was held Nov. 20 with Barton-Aschman.

Berrien Court Upheld

The Michigan Court of Appeals has upheld the Berrien Circuit court convictions and sentences of three men convicted of armed robbery and a youth originally charged with armed robbery but who pleaded guilty to larceny from a person.

Upheld were the armed robbery convictions against Carlos Williams, and Raymond McKenzie, and William Baker, and the larceny plea of Kenneth Duane Spear.

McKenzie, 22, and Williams, 20, both formerly of South Haven, received 10 to 40 year prison terms in 1974 for a robbery July 31, 1973, at the former Clark service station at 710 West Main Street, Benton Harbor. The pair used a gun to rob the station attendant of $200.

Baker, 26, formerly of Hartford, was sentenced to 8 to 40 years in prison in 1974 for robbing a clerk at Ray's motel in Lincoln township of between $40 and $100 May 6, 1974. A gun was allegedly used in the hold-up.

Spear, 18, formerly of Benton Heights, pleaded guilty in circuit court after being waived from juvenile court in connection with the theft of a car Feb. 27, 1975, from a Benton Heights woman. Spear got 4 to 10 years imprisonment in 1975.

The appeals court in each instance said it could find no error in either the trials or the guilty plea.

RESOLUTION DECLARING CANDIDATES FOR CITY OFFICE NOMINATED

WHEREAS at 5:00 o'clock P.M. Wednesday, January 28, 1978 the expiration of time for filing petitions for candidates for various City offices to be nominated at the February 16, 1978, Annual City Primary Election, not more than twice as many candidates have qualified as nominees for the offices of the City Commissioner as there are offices to be filled.

THEREFORE RESOLVED that the Commission hereby declared the following persons nominated as candidates for election to the following designated City offices at the April 5, 1978 Annual City Election:

CITY COMMISSIONER: William G. Gillespie - Term to expire April 5, 1978.

Franklin H. Smith - Term to expire April 5, 1978.

RESOLVED FURTHER that no Primary Election be held February 16, 1978, for nominations of candidates for City offices.

Commissioner Gast, seconded by Commissioner Hanley moved approval of the foregoing resolution. Roll call resulted as follows: Yeas: Commissioners Gast, Gillespie, Hanley, Selent and Smith. Nays: None. Motion declared carried.

RESOLUTION APPROVING AMENDMENTS TO RULES OF THE INTEREST SUBSIDY OR DIRECT GRANT HOME REPAIR PROGRAM FOR THE CITY OF ST. JOSEPH, MICHIGAN

WHEREAS by resolution adopted October 27, 1973, the City Commission approved and adopted certain rules of the Interest Subsidy and Direct Grant Home Repair program for the City of St. Joseph, Michigan proposed by Richard Kiesel, coordinator, and

WHEREAS Attorney Michael K. Cook, representing the Citizens' Participation Group has recommended certain changes and amendments in rules 2, 3 and 4 entitled respectively DE-TERMINATION OF ELIGIBILITY OF AN APPLICANT (2), LIMITATION OF ASSETS OF APPLICANTS (3), and LIMITATION ON IN-COME OF APPLICANTS (4), and

WHEREAS a copy of the proposed changes and amendments is on file in the City Assessor's office, and

WHEREAS the City Commission has considered the proposed changes and amendments.

THEREFORE RESOLVED that the proposed amendments to rules 2, 3 and 4 are hereby approved with the exception that the proposed limitation in gross income of eighteen thousand dollars ($18,000.00) set forth in Section 4 be and hereby is reduced to twelve thousand dollars ($12,000.00).

Commissioner Smith, seconded by Commissioner Gillespie moved the foregoing resolution be adopted. Roll call resulted as follows: Yeas: Commissioners Gast, Gillespie, Hanley, Selent and Smith. Nays: None. Motion declared carried.

None. Motion declared carried and resolution adopted.

The City Manager presented a letter to the City Commission from Dick Kiesel, Community Development Coordinator, dated January 30, 1978, requesting approval of a One Thousand Seven Hundred Forty Five Dollar ($1,745.00) Direct Grant for MR. ARCHIE TEBEL, who lives at 817 Michigan Avenue, St. Joseph, Michigan. The Grant would be for installation of roofing and eavestroughs on house and garage, and painting exterior of house and garage.

After discussion Commissioner Selent, seconded by Commissioner Gillespie, moved that the City Commission approve the application of Archie Tebel for a Direct Grant of One Thousand Seven Hundred Forty Five Dollars ($1,745.00) for the improvement and repair of his home at 817 Michigan Avenue, St. Joseph, Michigan, provided that the improvements shall be completed within six months from date of this approval.

Roll call resulted as follows: Yeas: Commissioners Gast, Gillespie, Hanley, Selent and Smith. Nays: None. Absent: None. Motion declared carried.

The City Manager presented a letter to the City Commission from Dick Kiesel, Community Development Coordinator, dated January 30, 1978, requesting approval of a One Thousand Nine Hundred Ninety One Dollar ($1,991.00) Direct Grant for MRS. LUCILLE RILEY, who lives at 904 Market Street, St. Joseph, Michigan. The Grant would be for repairs to interior of house and painting exterior of house and installing storm windows.

After discussion Commissioner Selent, seconded by Commissioner Hanley, moved that the City Commission approve the application of Mrs. Lucille Riley for a Direct Grant of One Thousand Nine Hundred Ninety One Dollars ($1,991.00) for the improvement and repair of her home at 904 Market Street, St. Joseph, Michigan, provided that the improvements shall be completed within six months from date of this approval.

Roll call resulted as follows: Yeas: Commissioners Gast, Gillespie, Hanley, Selent and Smith. Nays: None. Absent: None. Motion declared carried.

The City Manager presented a request by BERRIEN TEACHERS CREDIT UNION for a special use permit to use the Boy Scouts building at 2920 LAKEVIEW AVENUE in the City of St. Joseph as a new location for its office presently located at 709 Midway Avenue.

Commissioner Selent, seconded by Commissioner Hanley, moved that the request be submitted to the Planning Commission for its recommendation. Roll call resulted as follows: Yeas: Commissioners Gast, Gillespie, Hanley, Selent and Smith. Nays: None. Absent: None. Motion declared carried.

The City Manager reported that bids have been received for two dump trucks to be purchased by the City and summarized the bids to the Commission as follows:

Truck No. 8 - Gersonde Equipment Co., $12,400.00; Ashley Ford Sales, Inc., $12,917.90; Zerbe GMC, No bid.

Truck No. 24 - Gersonde Equipment Co., $14,900.00 and $14,500.00; Ashley Ford Sales, Inc., $14,908.73; Zerbe GMC, No bid.

After discussion Commissioner Selent, seconded by Commissioner Hanley, moved that the low bid of Gersonde Equipment Co. in the amounts of $12,400.00 and $14,500.00 be accepted. Roll call resulted as follows: Yeas: Commissioners Gast, Gillespie, Hanley, Selent and Smith. Nays: None. Absent: None. Motion declared carried.

Mayor Smith presented a resolution commending the Financial Study Committee.

STUDY COMMITTEE
WHEREAS Mayor Smith appointed Ray Carlson, Robert Carson, Clifford Emmons, John Gessert, John Kovton, Joseph Mackin, William Smith, Al VanHuis, Lester Tiscornia and Joseph Hanley to serve as a Financial Study Committee to review the financial situation of the City of St. Joseph and make recommendations concerning future fiscal programs, and

WHEREAS Mayor Pro-Tem Joseph Hanley was designated as chairman of the committee, and

WHEREAS the committee served diligently for a period of two months, reported its findings in a comprehensive report, and made recommendations which included an increase in the general tax limit of 12.5 mills as set forth in Section 13, Chapter IX of the charter of the City of St. Joseph, and

WHEREAS the City Commission appreciates the diligent and thorough efforts of the committee.

THEREFORE RESOLVED that the City Commission of the City of St. Joseph hereby commends the Financial Study Committee and each of its members for the excellent report submitted to the City Commission January 5, 1978.

RESOLVED FURTHER that copies of this citation be furnished to all members of the committee in appreciation of the effort of each individual.

After discussion Commissioner Smith, seconded by Commissioner Gast, moved that the resolution be adopted.

Roll call resulted as follows: Yeas: Commissioners Gast, Gillespie, Hanley, Selent and Smith. Nays: None. Motion declared carried and resolution adopted.

The Mayor read a letter from GREGG JAEGER, CHAIRMAN of the ST. JOSEPH AREA JAYCEES to the City thanking the City for the opportunity to sell its Christmas coloring book in downtown St. Joseph.

The Mayor then read a letter from Clerk CHARLES J. RHODES announcing his retirement effective March 9, 1978.

Commissioner Gast commented on HB5438 which pertains to revisions in the distribution of the highway fund. This bill would cut the State share of highway fund to 49% from 44.5% and increase the county share to 37.2% from 35.7%. Commissioner Gast feels that this will result in a reduction of funds to cities and villages.

Commissioner Selent, seconded by Commissioner Hanley, moved that the City Manager formally object the adoption of this bill and the proposed revision to our local state representatives.

Commissioner Hanley suggested that parking should be restricted on certain city streets whose width has been reduced by recent snow storms. The Manager reported the snow removal program has kept most of the streets open and that the remainder would be cleared in a short time.

There being no further business to come before this commission, Commissioner Selent moved to adjourn until Monday, February 9, 1978 at 7:30 P.M.

Smoke Cracked.

Researchers isolate key flavor ingredients of tobacco in cigarette smoke—pack 'Enriched Flavor' into new MERIT.

By "cracking" cigarette smoke down into its various 2000-plus ingredients, researchers at Philip Morris have discovered certain "key" ingredients that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar.

By selecting those ingredients of proven high flavor yet low tar delivery and adding them to tobacco, we're now able to pack flavor—extraordinary flavor—into a cigarette without the usual increase in tar.

The discovery is called 'Enriched Flavor.'

It's extra flavor. Natural flavor. Flavor that can't burn out, can't fade out, can't do anything but come through for you.

The cigarette is 9 mg. tar MERIT.

If you smoke, you'll be interested.

Taste-Tested By People Like You

9 mg. tar MERIT was taste-tested against five current leading low tar cigarette brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of smokers were involved. Smokers of filter cigarettes like yourself—all tested at home.*

Even if the cigarette tested had up to 60% more tar, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivered more taste.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly too, delivering as much—or more—taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now you've got the cigarette.

Ask Them Yourself

Want to ask a famous person a question? Send the question on a postcard, to "Ask," Family Weekly, 641 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. We'll pay $5 for published questions. Sorry, we can't answer others.

FOR RONALD REAGAN

Is it true that you once said the public does not have the right to know what the Government is doing?—John Martin, Hackensack, N.J.

● I have never said that. The record will show that my Administration made every effort to keep the people informed. As Governor of California, I held press conferences weekly and for some time met regularly with groups of students in question-and-answer sessions. The people do have a right to know what their Government is doing. Indeed, they should insist on exercising that right.

FOR BOWIE KUHN, commissioner of baseball

Why don't you use "instant replays" to settle close calls in baseball games?—Charles W. Hawley, Bethesda, Md.

● The feeling at this point is that the only way we could do that would be to have a number of cameras at strategic locations. This would be very, very costly. But what the future holds cannot be foreseen.

FOR ARTHUR HERZOG, author of "The Swarm"

I've been reading about the African bees that are moving up from Latin America. How much of a menace are they?—Alan J. Gasior, Trenton, N.J.

● Nobody really knows. Some think the bees will be a serious problem for agriculture and people. Others say that either the colder U.S. weather or cross-breeding with other bees will remove the irritability that has made the African honey bees a danger in the Southern hemisphere. Still others believe the bees won't arrive at all.

FOR MAUREEN DEAN, author of "Mo" and wife of John Dean

Have you received any offers to go into show business?—Janet Moore, Austin, Texas

● Much to my surprise, I have had an inquiry about doing TV work. I'm interested, but I've not really explored the matter. I'd like to have children, as would John. Meanwhile John's working on more books—both nonfiction and fiction.

FOR LESLIE UGGAMS

Since yours is an integrated marriage, I'd like to know what problems you've had to face?—T.S., Fayetteville, N.C.

● As we've now been married (happily) for 10 years, and nothing has happened to bother us, I hope it's safe to assume nothing ever will. We never gave the "mixed-marriage" bit a second thought. What did worry us was how Graham, who came from Australia, would adjust to settling down in another country. By the way, he adjusted very easily.

FOR JOHN WAYNE

Do you think today's stars are more pampered than they were when you started out?—R.J., San Mateo, Calif.

● Not only are the stars more fussed over today, but so is the entire cast. That's because the heavy cost of pictures makes it "financially essential" that nothing happens to the performers because of accident or sickness. This means there are stunt men and stand-bys who do everything but walk across the street for the rest of us.

FOR ISAAC ASIMOV, author

As a leading science-fiction writer, did you envy Neil Armstrong and all those after him who walked on the moon?—G.B., Easton, Pa.

● No way! Would you believe I don't even like the thought of flying? I'm a coward. I'm scared to be all the way up there. I'd rather be all the way down here. The only time I was airborne was during the war when I was under orders.

FOR RONA BARRETT

Did you get where you are through luck or talent?—B.B., Boise, Idaho

● Neither. I call it "stick-to-itiveness." Becoming a columnist and a journalist was the most important thing in the world to me. I knew I could not rely on my beauty to get me there. I did it through hard work and perseverance, giving myself pep talks. I figured if I acted as though I believed in Rona Barrett, others would, too.

FOR EDITH HEAD, Hollywood designer

Over the years, which style has been the most sensible and enduring?—A.R., Colorado Springs, Colo.

● The one that never goes out of style is what I call "basic sportswear"—Shirtmaker dresses, sweaters and skirts, sweaters and pants. I think the sportswear that we wore in the 30's launched this look. I've just finished doing a film called "Gable and Lombard" (vintage 1936 styles), and the clothes in it could easily be worn today.

FOR THE "ASK THEM YOURSELF" EDITOR

Settle an argument, please. Was Marilyn Monroe's death accidental, or did she commit suicide?—B.G., Pittsburgh, Pa.

● Norman Mailer was one of the first to suspect murder. Writer Tony Scaduto now contends that reports of independent medical examiners indicate she was fatally injected. ("There were no residuals of pills in her intestines. And Marilyn couldn't swallow an aspirin without water. So she couldn't have slugged down the alleged 47 pills, because there wasn't a glass in her room.") This theory assumes that whoever injected her left, taking the syringe. Hence murder. In her book, "Radie's World," columnist Radie Harris (Marilyn's friend) believes the actress didn't commit suicide (but doesn't mention foul play): "When she was discovered, her hair, make-up and nails were a mess. Marilyn would never have made her exit looking like that. She would have wanted to greet St. Peter as the most beautiful angel since Helen of Troy."

Richard Ney On the Stock Market:

One Financial Expert's Best Advice On How to Beat a Market He Views as Rigged—And Why He Sees It That Way

By Richard Ney

The ambition of all those who invest in the stock market is to buy low and sell high. This would seem to be a comparatively simple thing to do—and it is. Yet more than 99 percent of those who invest in the market end up doing the exact reverse. They buy high and sell low.

There is a deep-seated but simple reason for this. Most investors are amateurs who are totally unaware that they are in competition with a small number of Stock Exchange insiders who have the same objective—to buy low and sell high. Billions of dollars are at stake. It is not surprising, therefore, that these insiders exercise a certain kind of control over writers respected by the public, and so cause the public to accept the role of victim. In effect, ordinary citizens accept widespread theories that cause them to buy when they should sell—and sell when they should buy.

"One myth is that selling causes stock prices to go down and buying causes stock prices to advance. Hold on to your hats: the truth, I say, is just the reverse."

One important myth originating in just this way is that selling by investors causes stock prices to go down and, correspondingly, that buying by investors causes stock prices to advance. Hold on to your hats: the truth, I say, is just the reverse. Stocks do not advance and decline according to the laws of supply and demand. Instead, they are controlled by Stock Exchange insiders almost as quickly, easily and efficiently as you control an automatic elevator. When these insiders want to sell their shares, they advance stock prices sharply. This attracts public buying the way honey attracts flies. And this is what creates rising stock prices—not public demand, but rising stock prices that create public demand. When insiders want to accumulate large inventories of stock, they simply drop prices sharply. This causes investors to panic. When they panic, they sell. It's as simple as that, but has anyone ever mentioned this supersimple but also superimportant fact to you before?

Investors have been conditioned to assume that the movement of stock prices is caused by "mysterious" economic forces. The Exchange's experts, for obvious reasons, have never let them in on the secret that fluctuations in stock prices are the product of forces which are part of the Stock Exchange itself.

So here are two crucial things to remember: 1) When stock prices advance and investors buy stock, the major portion of that stock comes not from other investors but from Stock Exchange insiders, called specialists. 2) When stock prices fall and investors sell their stock, they are not sold to other investors but to these same specialists.

There is, however, a solution for the average investor, a solution to what may seem a desperately complex situation. If you are willing to devote some time to the problem, you can learn to invest successfully. First, you must re-focus your attention on the realities of the specialists' practices in order to learn how and to what extent you are bound or influenced by them. Since the ultimate fact about the market is that specialists have reduced their profit-making to a simple system, your best bet is to time your purchases and sales to conform to theirs. My new book, "Making It in the Market" (McGraw-Hill, $8.95), gives a detailed, step-by-step analysis of just how this can be done. Here are ten guidelines that will give you an idea of how the system operates.

RICHARD NEY: HE'S CONTROVERSIAL . . .

Richard Ney is a one-time movie actor who is today recognized as one of the nation's foremost investment advisors. He gained national prominence when Time magazine cited him in a June 1962 cover story as having called that year's stock market slide. From that time on, he has called one market turn after another.

Mr. Ney is no stranger to controversy. His new book, "Making It in the Market"—which expands on the views expressed here—has come out in relative quiet, but his earlier books, "The Wall Street Jungle" and "The Wall Street Gang" kicked up a storm on Wall Street.

FAMILY WEEKLY went to several members of the New York and American Exchanges for their side of the controversy. The bulk of the response was silence, as is not unusual among Exchange members. But some people did talk:

Michael Zahorchak of the American Exchange has written a book whose purpose is to refute one of Ney's earlier books. Zahorchak told FAMILY WEEKLY that Ney makes many generalizations that are not true. Zahorchak emphasized that specialists are restricted by many factors, including Exchange and Government regulations; and he added that institutions now own large blocks of stock and are gaining greater control of the market.

A Securities and Exchange Commission spokesman said: "As for Ney's statements about Exchange specialists manipulating prices, I won't say they're false. But specialists are under close surveillance by the Exchange and by the SEC, and they are aware they are being closely watched. The market would be devastated if the public lost faith in it."

A Senate subcommittee led by Sen. Lee Metcalf (D-Mont.) began hearings on abuses of the stock exchange last year. These hearings reflect consumer and public concern over inadequacies of the regulatory agencies and the fact that they seem so closely related to the businesses they are regulating.

1. The first step in moving money from the Stock Exchange's pocket to yours is picking your portfolio. When you buy stock, buy only the best stock used to compute the Dow Industrial Average—stocks like General Motors, Eastman Kodak, General Electric, Proctor and Gamble, Sears, and Exxon. If you buy these stocks and they go down, your chances of seeing them go back up along with the market are very great indeed. The reason: these are the stocks in the Dow average that provide the underpinning for every advance in the market.

2. Instead of watching the movement of the Dow itself, watch the movements of individual stocks within the Dow. For example, the Dow can rise 100 or more points mainly on the strength of only two Dow stocks such as Eastman Kodak or Du Pont. But that kind of situation reveals a high-risk rally which will terminate shortly and precipitously.

3. The fatal tactical error of most investors is a simple one: they time their purchases and sales according to stock price movements. When stock prices shoot up, they buy; when prices drop dramatically they sell. But if they are to earn money in the market, investors must learn to resist that impulse to buy on the basis of price movements which are, in effect, rigged.

4. Newspapers provide the daily volume figures of each stock traded on the floor of the Stock Exchange. Only by examining these volume figures can you determine whether specialists are buying or selling, and thus know what "the smart money" is doing. Here's how to know: A sharp run-up in stock prices on low volume, followed by a sharp increase in volume, tells you that specialists are selling (in response to public demand). A sharp decline on low volume, followed by a sharp increase in volume, tells you the specialists are buying (in response to public selling). By relating volume and price in this way, you can escape the traps the specialist lays for you when he causes you to buy or sell by manipulating prices.

5. Charts have limited value as technical tools. They should be used only to confirm the information provided by the daily volume statistics.

6. Two columns, and only two, are of value to you. The price and volume columns in your daily newspaper are much, much more valuable to you than all those brokerage-house research reports describing company sales and earnings. And the state of the economy is of no use whatever in helping to formulate investment decisions.

7. Ney's Rule of Tens: As stocks approach what I call the critical numbers (multiples of 10—meaning 10, 20, 30, 40, 50, 60, etc.), volume tends to increase dramatically whether the stock is advancing or declining in price. It is important, therefore, that investors anticipate specialist selling (in the course of an advance) and specialist buying and accumulation (in the course of a decline) in and around critical price levels.

8. Stock is just that—stock—to that merchant of securities, the specialist. So once he has distributed (sold) shares, he is anxious to push their price down from retail to wholesale so he can rebuild an inventory. To maximize his profits, he will take as small an inventory as possible downward from "retail" to "wholesale" prices.

9. The short-sell: It's the specialist's most important tactical weapon. Short-selling is a device that allows the specialist to sell stock he does not own (but which he borrows) at the high point of a rally. He can then subsequently buy back the stock at lower price levels, his profit being the difference between the price at which he sold and the price at which he bought it back. This device actually allows him to raise and lower stock prices almost at will.

10. The specialist's objective is quite simple. He wants to raise and

WHAT IS A "SPECIALIST"?

The specialist, as a member of an Exchange operating on the Exchange floor, conducts transactions in stocks of a limited number of companies. He works at a specified post on the floor, where he matches up bids to buy and offers to sell shares of stock.

In those cases in which there are no matching orders (bids to buy but no offers to sell, or vice versa), the specialist must use his own funds or shares from his own inventory to "finalize" the transaction. He maintains a "specialist's book" at his post, in which he records all bids and offers received. This book sometimes gives him an advantage in bargaining since he is required to quote only the highest bid and lowest offer made.

When the price of a stock declines over a period of time, resulting in heavy selling but no buying, the specialist runs the risk of losing a great deal of money. On the other hand, the specialist is at the same time building up an inventory that he can try to sell at a profit when prices are up again.

lower his stock prices on light volume until a given stock reaches the price objective at which he wishes to sell or accumulate stock. For this reason, the appearance of big blocks of stock in the volume column mean such an objective has been realized. This means that high volume consistently defines long, intermediate and short-term reversal points in stock prices. High volume, then, usually means a turnaround in the direction of the stock's value.

The Stock Exchange has been suitably mindful that the success of its enterprises depends on its continuing ability to organize ignorance. So the Exchange has placed its faith in the conditioned reflex. The investor, it believes, can be made to behave like a machine that self-destructs.

My new book—and this article, too—points the way for investors to become more than robots conditioned to destroy themselves. In fact, like the specialist, you can make money in the market year after year, if only you will learn how to time your purchases and sales to conform to those of the specialist. For the specialist is, verily, the bone and tissue of "smart money" on Wall Street. Small investors can learn to follow the ways of "smart money."

My final advice is this: move slowly. There is no need to rush the learning process. The market is always there for those who have money to bring into it.

Doctor's Amazing Reducing Plan Helps

DISSOLVE THE FAT RIGHT OUT OF YOUR BODY!

Yes, here it is—a Doctor's safe, effective substitute for high-powered Reducing Drugs!

Yes, lose as much as 10, 20, 30 even 50 pounds or more
 ■ without gruelling exercise ■ without starvation diets
 ■ without a single moment of ravenous hunger thanks to the most powerful reducing aid ever released for public use without a prescription!

How? By attacking the basic cause of overweight — overeating — and actually helping your body convert the food you eat into ENERGY instead of into fat!

From the office of the doctor who has taken even the most stubborn overweight cases and shown them a thrilling way to slash away pounds and inches in what seems like NO TIME AT ALL . . . comes proof of a medically proven approach that gives you the great ecstasy of slimmness without the agony of gnawing hunger — yes, spectacular weight-loss results even if at this very moment you are 10 . . . 20 . . . 30 . . . 50 pounds overweight . . . or more!

NOW! TURN FOOD INTO ENERGY INSTEAD OF INTO FAT!

The secret behind this doctor's "no-hunger" eating program to a slimmer, trimmer figure . . . is a wondrous way to convert all the food you eat into ENERGY instead of into FAT! Yes, step up your body's rate of fat burn-off just like you'd step up a furnace. Actually help eliminate unsightly FLAB all over your body — by using it as a source of energy that your body burns up and flushes away. That's right . . . excess pounds and inches literally consumed by your own body chemistry . . . once you trigger the FAT REDUCING PROCESS with this proven formula for success. So effective is this doctor's medically proven program, that during the very first 3 days alone you'll see weight disappear from sight at the incredible rate of up to SIX POUNDS OF FAT AND FLUID GONE BY THE VERY FIRST 72 HOURS! In fact — and the doctor says note this carefully — depending upon how overweight you are, the more you weigh, the more you should initially lose.

Before starting this program, consult with your physician to be sure you are in normal health and your only problem is obesity. Individuals with high blood pressure, heart disease, diabetes, or thyroid disease should use only as directed by a physician. As a matter of fact, we urge you to show this entire program to your own family physician and see if he doesn't agree that this is a medically sound approach to the problem of obesity.

PROVEN ON SCORES OF PATIENTS — STARTLING WEIGHT LOSSES EVEN ON PEOPLE WHO HAD RUNAWAY APPETITES!

For years one of the most effective aids doctors used to attack the basic cause of fat build-up, overeating, was amphetamines. Only trouble: the side effects from amphetamines were so shattering it was often easier to live with the fat than to be plagued with insomnia, nervous jitters and worst of all, in some cases, even addiction. But now, suppose a doctor who has successfully treated obese patients for years told you that there now exists an EFFECTIVE SUBSTITUTE FOR HIGH-POWERED DRUGS. A fantastic program that includes THE MOST POWERFUL REDUCING AID EVER APPROVED BY THE GOVT. FOR SALE TO THE PUBLIC WITHOUT A PRESCRIPTION. Yet so effective, that when you launch yourself on this doctor's proven capsule-program 4 things happen in your body:

■ Those gnawing hunger pangs disappear, it takes less food to satisfy you therefore you have less caloric intake.

■ The foods you do eat, instead of being stored up as fat are now converted into a source of energy that your body burns away.

■ The layers of fat that up to now seemed impossible to budge, are suddenly consumed, broken down and used by your own body chemistry . . . to provide the energy needs of your body.

■ And even though you may carve away as much as a staggering 20, 30, 50 pounds OR MORE . . . you do it without the risk of speed drugs like amphetamines, dexedrine, benzedrine. Why, do you realize what this means to you?

NOW SHRINK THE FAT CELLS IN YOUR BODY THIS DOCTOR'S PROVEN WAY

It means that now when you combine this powerful pill with this doctor's sensible, satisfying eating program, you not only lose weight starting right now, but you do not have to ever again suffer those gnawing pangs of hunger . . . ever again saddle yourself with an exhausting rigid system of exercise . . . ever again torture and starve yourself to death on some ridiculous fad diet . . . only to have your willpower snap and the pounds come rebounding back. Matter of fact, and though this may startle you . . . you are ordered by this doctor to eat 3 meals a day with such luscious foods as steak, chops, etc. You are never once asked to pit your hunger against a cast-iron willpower. For, just as he shows his own patients how to eat their way to slimmness . . . this doctor lays down his own law to you: "Never starve yourself . . . there's no need to. You can eat mouthwatering steaks, roasts, chops, etc. as I tell you . . . and take one of these tiny golden capsules one to two hours before each meal." It's as simple as that. Naturally, we don't want to kid you. You can't gorge yourself on unlimited quantities of food and still lose weight. Instead, here's the doctor's way to replace all those zany, half-baked fad-diets of the past with a high-powered pill and a doctor's sure, sensible satisfying eating program that SHRINKS AWAY FAT LIKE NEVER BEFORE!

WHO EVER DREAMED OF SUCH A THRILLING WAY TO LOSE WEIGHT?

Picture this thrilling scene: Just 3 days have passed since you have started on this doctor's sensational program and you've taken your first few capsules. to buy on the basis of price movements which are, in effect, rigged.

4. Newspapers provide the daily volume figures of each stock traded on the floor of the Stock Exchange. Only by examining these volume figures can you determine whether specialists are buying or selling and thus know what "the smart money" is doing. Here's how to know: A sharp run-up in stock prices on low volume, followed by a sharp increase in volume, tells you that specialists are selling (in response to public demand). A sharp decline on low volume, followed by a sharp increase in volume, tells you the specialists are buying (in response to public selling). By relating volume and price in this way, you can escape the traps the specialist lays for you when he causes you to buy or sell by manipulating prices.

5. Charts have limited value as technical tools. They should be used only to confirm the information provided by the daily volume statistics.

6. Two columns, and only two, are of value to you. The price and volume columns in your daily newspaper are much, much more valuable to you than all those brokerage-house research reports describing company sales and earnings. And the state of the economy is of no use whatever in helping to formulate investment decisions.

7. Ney's Rule of Tens: As stocks approach what I call the critical numbers (multiples of 10—meaning 10, 20, 30, 40, 50, 60, etc.), volume tends to increase dramatically whether the stock is advancing or declining in price. It is important, therefore, that investors anticipate specialist selling (in the course of an advance) and specialist buying and accumulation (in the course of a decline) in and around critical price levels.

8. Stock is just that—stock—to that merchant of securities, the specialist. So once he has distributed (sold) shares, he is anxious to push their price down from retail to wholesale so he can rebuild an inventory. To maximize his profits, he will take as small an inventory as possible downward from "retail" to "wholesale" prices.

9. The short-sell: It's the specialist's most important tactical weapon. Short-selling is a device that allows the specialist to sell stock he does not own (but which he borrows) at the high point of a rally. He can then subsequently buy back the stock at lower price levels, his profit being the difference between the price at which he sold and the price at which he bought it back. This device actually allows him to raise and lower stock prices almost at will.

10. The specialist's objective is quite simple. He wants to raise and

WHAT IS A "SPECIALIST"?

The specialist, as a member of an Exchange operating on the Exchange floor, conducts transactions in stocks of a limited number of companies. He works at a specified post on the floor, where he matches up bids to buy and offers to sell shares of stock.

In those cases in which there are no matching orders (bids to buy but no offers to sell, or vice versa), the specialist must use his own funds or shares from his own inventory to finalize the transaction. He maintains a "specialist's book" at his post, in which he records all bids and offers received. This book sometimes gives him an advantage in bargaining since he is required to quote only the highest bid and lowest offer made.

When the price of a stock declines over a period of time, resulting in heavy selling but no buying, the specialist runs the risk of losing a great deal of money. On the other hand, the specialist is at the same time building up an inventory that he can try to sell at a profit when prices are up again.

lower his stock prices on light volume until a given stock reaches the price objective at which he wishes to sell or accumulate stock. For this reason, the appearance of big blocks of stock in the volume column mean such an objective has been realized. This means that high volume consistently defines long, intermediate and short-term reversal points in stock prices. High volume, then, usually means a turnaround in the direction of the stock's value.

The Stock Exchange has been suitably mindful that the success of its enterprises depends on its continuing ability to organize ignorance. So the Exchange has placed its faith in the conditioned reflex. The investor, it believes, can be made to behave like a machine that self-destructs.

My new book—and this article, too—points the way for investors to become more than robots conditioned to destroy themselves. In fact, like the specialist, you can make money in the market year after year, if only you will learn how to time your purchases and sales to conform to those of the specialist. For the specialist is, verily, the bone and tissue of "smart money" on Wall Street. Small investors can learn to follow the ways of "smart money."

My final advice is this: move slowly. There is no need to rush the learning process. The market is always there for those who have money to bring into it.

AMERICA'S "5" MOST POPULAR SHADE TREES

LESS THAN $2⁰⁰_{each}

.⁵⁰_C BONUS OFFER!

ALL SHADE TREES SHIPPED AT 5 TO 7 FEET

Sugar Maple (acer saccharum) The largest of all maples, and its beautiful array of yellow and orange hues make it a sight to remember due to the foliage thickness — A very hardy northern and southern tree and will grow up to 60 feet. (shipped at 5 to 7 feet).

White Birch (Betula verrucosa) This beautiful tree has very delicate foliage with snowy white bark, and a compact form — It can be seen growing in all different climates and the multi-trunk (clump) effect can be obtained by planting two or more trees next to one another. It is also a rapid grower. (shipped at 5 to 7 feet).

Tulip Tree (Liriodendron tulipifera) This tree is a very large growing tree reaching heights of eighty feet or more. Its yellow-green leaves turn bright yellow in the fall and in the late Spring it has vivid orange and yellow tulip shaped flowers. Very hardy and fast growing and is a cousin to the magnolia. (shipped at 5 to 7 feet).

Weeping Willow (salix babylonica) This tree is the hardiest of all willows, and has clear golden yellow and green leaves, the leaves appear early in Spring and one of the fast trees to lose its leaves. A "super fast" growing tree at the rate of 5 to 6 feet per year. An excellent buy. (shipped at 5 to 7 feet).

"3 WAY GUARANTEE"

1. All shade trees regardless of the number ordered will be 5 to 7 feet tall, and all bonus trees will be 4 to 6 feet. All Shipping Paid.
2. Trees advertised in your area will live in your area.
3. All trees are guaranteed to live and if by mere chance any fail to live they will be replaced free of charge for three years.

ALL BONUS TREES SHIPPED AT 4 TO 6 FEET

Mtn. Ash (fraxinus pennsylvanica) This tree like the maple has no equal when it comes to its ability to survive hot and cold temperatures. A real rapid grower and matures into a fine, compact tree, with beautiful dense green foliage. Grows to 40 feet. (shipped at 4 to 6 feet).

Red Bud (cercis canadensis) This beautiful flowering tree is native to both the north and south and thereby extremely hardy. It blooms at the same time as the dogwoods and its gorgeous pink flowers form a lovely combination with the dogwoods. Grows to 25 feet. (shipped at 4 to 6 feet).

White Dogwood (cornus florida) This beautiful flowering tree has large white blossoms, and can be seen in all parts of the country. Its foliage is attractive all summer and has beautiful fall colors, as the red berries hang on most of the winter. Grows to 25 feet. (shipped at 4 to 6 feet).

People Quiz
By John E. Gibson

You and the Invisible Power of Music

True or False? You can tell how feminine a woman is by the way she responds to music.
(See number 3.)

TRUE OR FALSE?

1. Music can be used almost like a magic wand to change a person's mood from sad to cheerful.
2. Music can give your mental powers a shot in the arm, improving your performance of mental tasks.
3. You can tell how feminine a woman is by the way she responds to music.
4. The behavior of unruly or hyperactive children is markedly improved by playing background music.
5. Music sounds different to an introvert than it does to an extrovert.
6. Music has a different effect on women than it does on men.

ANSWERS

1. True—if you know the secret. University studies have demonstrated the effectiveness of what psychologists call the iso principle, which is described as follows: Music is selected to match the actual mood of the person, the negative feeling that it's desired to alter. For example, if the mood of the person is depressive, downbeat music is matched to the depressive mood. Then, by stages, the music is changed to a happy mood, thereby altering the mood of the subject. As one investigator points out, matching the mood of the music to the mood of the person is necessary because "otherwise the subject will reject the music. But by degrees we can shift the music and carry the subject's mood into a more tranquil state."
2. True—for people of nervous temperament, not so for others, according to university studies. More than 100 men and women students were given personality tests and then tested on their ability to perform mental tasks under two conditions: with symphony music being softly played; and in silence. Results: nervous people performed better under the musical conditions. But for the people with low anxiety, there was no discernible difference between their performance under either of the two conditions.

3. True—according to studies sponsored by the U.S. Public Health Service. Ninety women students were subjected to a battery of standard personality tests, including a Femininity Scale Inventory. They were then exposed to music and asked to fill out questionnaires concerning their feelings toward the music. Findings: femininity went hand in hand with the rating of certain forms of music as pleasant, warm or connoting safety.

4. True—as evidenced by a psychological study of a selected group of children, ranging in age from seven to 11, "who had a well deserved reputation as a disruptive influence in school." Findings: the introduction of background music (popular children's records) resulted in marked improvement in the children's behavior. It was further noted that the productivity of hyperactive children in a schoolroom setting may be enhanced by this means.

5. True. University of Ottawa studies show that the introvert is sensitive to musical tones in the lower register, which are practically out of the ball park for the extrovert. Introverts tend to show a decrease in sensitivity for higher tones, which come through louder and clearer for the extrovert.

6. True. Studies conducted at two leading universities show that women are more emotionally responsive to music and find it more romantically stimulating than men do. To put it a different way, music hits women "where they live" to a far greater extent than it does men.

WHICH ARE YOUR PROBLEM AREAS?

Large Size Velvене Lotion sent to every reader upon request for 30 Day Home Trial without obligation

From the Sunshine State comes exciting news — the true story of a remarkable formula — VELVENE and of how it makes older women look as much as 10 to 20 years younger. VELVENE is so powerful that just a few drops are enough to make age lines, crows feet, and wrinkles temporarily disappear, right before your eyes! The results are so thrilling . . . so sensational and so incredible, that ordinary words can't describe them. That's why we make this unusual offer to each and every reader: Accept without obligation, a large size bottle of VELVENE — on 30 day free trial! It must give you truly wonderful results, or it costs you nothing! Read all the facts of this marvelous product below.

ALMOST LIKE A FACELIFT WITHOUT COSTLY SURGERY!

Haven't you ever dreamed you could capture that youthful, alluring look of years gone by? Well, now you can make your dream come true — without unpleasant skin peel or costly surgery! VELVENE is a dainty, extra rich lotion. Not a mudpack, bleach or mask. Works differently from all cleansing, "firming" or night creams. Just dab on once or twice a day. Let dry. Then — if you like — apply your favorite makeup right over it. That's all! It's that simple to use. But the change it makes in you is heavenly!

HELP YOURSELF TO MORE HAPPINESS!

Let's face it — nowadays, 'most everybody venerates youth. See for yourself! Make this experiment for a month. Use VELVENE whenever you want to look your youthful best. Notice how it wins admiration and awakens new interest from men . . . how close friends and relatives marvel at the "new you." Yes! See how this wonder formula works a special kind of magic at dinners, parties, church! See for yourself how VELVENE gives your skin that fresh, dewy feel during intimate moments! Capture again that smooth, young-again look! Grab some extra popularity and happiness!

30 DAYS THAT COULD CHANGE YOUR LIFE!

Treat your face to VELVENE for an entire month — without risking one cent. Rush coupon below and we'll send you our regular $7 Double Size Bottle for only $3. But remember — you're trying only — not buying! When your package arrives, apply VELVENE to all problem spots . . . under and around the eyes . . . neck . . . forehead . . . around mouth and chin line. Live it up! Enjoy it all month through. Let your mirror reveal the amazing change, day after day. You must look younger and more sex appealing. VELVENE must wipe 10 to 20 years off your appearance . . . you must be thrilled and satisfied in every way. Otherwise keep the remaining lotion, returning only the bottle cap and get your money back instantly! Why dillydally when you can get so much for so little? After all, our 30 day test is such fun. 30 wonderful days that could actually change your life, giving you a new lease on that fresh, youthful appearance of years ago! Send that coupon. You'll be so glad you did!

People Quiz
By John E. Gibson

You and the Invisible Power of Music

True or False? You can tell how feminine a woman is by the way she responds to music.
(See number 3.)

TRUE OR FALSE?

1. Music can be used almost like a magic wand to change a person's mood from sad to cheerful.
2. Music can give your mental powers a shot in the arm, improving your performance of mental tasks.
3. You can tell how feminine a woman is by the way she responds to music.
4. The behavior of unruly or hyperactive children is markedly improved by playing background music.
5. Music sounds different to an introvert than it does to an extrovert.
6. Music has a different effect on women than it does on men.

ANSWERS

1. True—if you know the secret. University studies have demonstrated the effectiveness of what psychologists call the Iso principle, which is described as follows: Music is selected to match the actual mood of the person, the negative feeling that it's desired to alter. For example, if the mood of the person is depressive, downbeat music is matched to the depressive mood. Then, by stages, the music is changed to a happy mood, thereby altering the mood of the subject. As one investigator points out, matching the mood of the music to the mood of the person is necessary because "otherwise the subject will reject the music. But by degrees we can shift the music and carry the subject's mood into a more tranquil state."
2. True—for people of nervous temperament, not so for others, according to university studies. More than 100 men and women students were given personality tests and then tested on their ability to perform mental tasks under two conditions: with symphony music being softly played; and in silence. Results: nervous people performed better under the musical conditions. But for the people with low anxiety, there was no discernible difference between their performance under either of the two conditions.

3. True—according to studies sponsored by the U.S. Public Health Service. Ninety women students were subjected to a battery of standard personality tests, including a Femininity Scale Inventory. They were then exposed to music and asked to fill out questionnaires concerning their feelings toward the music. Findings: femininity went hand in hand with the rating of certain forms of music as pleasant, warm or connoting safety.

4. True—as evidenced by a psychological study of a selected group of children, ranging in age from seven to 11, "who had a well deserved reputation as a disruptive influence in school." Findings: the introduction of background music (popular children's records) resulted in marked improvement in the children's behavior. It was further noted that the productivity of hyperactive children in a schoolroom setting may be enhanced by this means.

5. True. University of Ottawa studies show that the introvert is sensitive to musical tones in the lower register, which are practically out of the ball park for the extrovert. Introverts tend to show a decrease in sensitivity for higher tones, which come through louder and clearer for the extrovert.

6. True. Studies conducted at two leading universities show that women are more emotionally responsive to music and find it more romantically stimulating than men do. To put it a different way, music hits women "where they live" to a far greater extent than it does men.

What Are Those
"Heartbreak of Psoriasis"
Ads Talking About?

You've probably seen those ads talking about the "heartbreak of psoriasis." Perhaps you've wondered, What is psoriasis? Well, it is a heartbreak. Characterized by unsightly red patches of silvery scales with itching, psoriasis is a skin disease which does not affect the sufferer's physical health but does cause psychological suffering. For years, products containing sulfur, coal tar or salicylic acid have been used to help remove scales, control itching and soften the skin. You can get these products in either cream- or lotion-form from your druggist, and they are perfectly good. (Lotions penetrate better, but creams stay on the skin longer.) But now there are more advanced products. For example, there is a new tablet-form drug called Triazure which fights the accelerated skin-cell growth that characterizes psoriasis. The tablets are converted in the body to a substance called 6-azouridine which slows up metabolism. There is also a new cream called Diprosone which contains small amounts of a cortisone-like drug. Still another group of drugs, called psoralens, can be taken by psoriasis sufferers in conjunction with ultraviolet light. (Sunlight, by the way, is recommended for psoriasis.) All the answers aren't in yet, but progress is being made against this most annoying disease.

How Your Boss's Pay
Affects Yours

Few people worry about the size of their boss's paycheck—but maybe they should. If you're a good worker, your chances for fair pay may be tied to how fairly the boss thinks he or she is being paid. At Carnegie-Mellon University, managers took part in an experiment. They were divided into four groups. Group 1 was told, "Pretend you're a good boss being well paid." The three other groups were told to pretend: "Group 2—You're a good boss, but you're not being paid what you're worth. Group 3—You're a poor boss, but you're being well paid. Group 4—You're a poor boss and you're being poorly paid." Then the four groups were given an imaginary $2,400 to divide up among subordinates, some of whom were described as good workers and some as poor workers. All the results pointed to bosses adjusting workers' pay to match the way the boss was treated. Good bosses receiving good pay tended to reward good workers and penalize poor workers. Superiors who were performing badly but being highly paid were the most generous—even with incompetent workers. People who fared the worst were under the high-performing, low-paid bosses. "If the company is going to be tight with me, I'm going to be tight with subordinates," wrote one of the bosses.

The Diet Watch

How Worry Can Wreck Your Diet

Apprehension about breaking your diet can leave you more vulnerable to breaking it, so watch out. If, for example, you're an office worker and you worry during the morning about what you're going to order at lunchtime, your anxiety can become so extreme that you'll find relief by abandoning the whole problem and ordering recklessly. If you're inclined to be afflicted with what-to-order apprehensions, a good solution is to prepare a lunch in advance at home and take it to the office, thereby eliminating the problem: You now know what you're having for lunch and your mind is free to concentrate on your work. Even people who stay home during the day can "package"

a lunch early in the day to be eaten at the appointed time. One diet specialist, whose patients are largely office workers, provides them with a list of "acceptable" lunch-counter foods. He instructs them to order only from their list and never, but never, look at the menu or at what other people are eating.

People and You

Girls and Hitchhiking: Is It Really Dangerous?

Many girls shrug off warnings against hitchhiking because they believe if they behave themselves in cars, nobody's going to bother them. But is this true? A 23-day transportation strike in Toronto in 1974 shed light on the subject. For thousands of women, hitching a ride was the only way to reach their jobs, and it occurred to psychologist Sheldon Geller that police statistics might be revealing. Geller compared sexual offenses reported during the strike with those reported 23 days before the strike and 23 days after it. Findings: During the strike the percentage of rapes against hitchhikers skyrocketed from the usual tiny 1.56 percent of sexual crimes to 12.86 percent. According to Dr. Geller, non-seductive behavior is no protection. It would seem that there are men who are out looking for a victim. By thumbing a ride, a woman is only saving these men the trouble of stalking. —By Shirley Sloan Fader

Petula Clark: My 10 Favorite Records

Known as Britain's answer to Shirley Temple, Petula Clark was an established star at seven, via her appearance on BBC and the hundreds of shows she did for World War II troops in army camps. She became known to American audiences eight years ago with her recording of "Downtown." Since then, she has won two Grammys and the Academy Award Song of the Year.

The Diet Watch

How Worry Can Wreck Your Diet

Apprehension about breaking your diet can leave you more vulnerable to breaking it, so watch out. If, for example, you're an office worker and you worry during the morning about what you're going to order at lunchtime, your anxiety can become so extreme that you'll find relief by abandoning the whole problem and ordering recklessly. If you're inclined to be afflicted with what-to-order apprehensions, a good solution is to prepare a lunch in advance at home and take it to the office, thereby eliminating the problem. You now know what you're having for lunch and your mind is free to concentrate on your work. Even people who stay home during the day can "package"

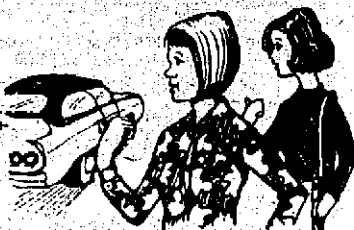

a lunch early in the day to be eaten at the appointed time. One diet specialist, whose patients are largely office workers, provides them with a list of "acceptable" lunch-counter foods. He instructs them to order only from their list and never, but never, look at the menu or at what other people are eating.

People and You

Girls and Hitchhiking: Is It Really Dangerous?

Many girls shrug off warnings against hitchhiking because they believe if they behave themselves in cars, nobody's going to bother them. But is this true? A 23-day transportation strike in Toronto in 1974 shed light on the subject. For thousands of women, hitching a ride was the only way to reach their jobs, and it occurred to psychologist Sheldon Geller that police statistics might be revealing. Geller compared sexual offenses reported during the strike with those reported 23 days before the strike and 23 days after it. Findings: During the strike the percentage of rapes against hitchhikers skyrocketed from the usual tiny 1.55 percent of sexual crimes to 12.86 percent. According to Dr. Geller, non-assertive behavior is no protection. It would seem that there are men who are out looking for a victim. By thumbing a ride, a woman is only saving these men the trouble of stalking. —By Shirley Sloan Fader

Cloris Leachman

"I Think Women Always Want To Be the Good Guys"

Cloris Leachman with husband George England... living "together and apart."

"George and I adore each other but can't play each other's games..."

When I met Cloris Leachman at La Serre, a posh French restaurant in the San Fernando Valley, I came prepared with a list of 50 questions. I should have known better. As soon as Cloris sat down, she grabbed my list, saying, "You don't mind!"... and proceeded to go through it until she came to a subject she wanted to talk about: Are you a crusader for any cause?

CLORIS: Most certainly! Many. Most of all, nursing babies. I believe that a nursing baby will have a good start in life. It's not just a medical thing. Nursing shapes an infant's whole life. It's an answer to crime and violence!

FAMILY WEEKLY: You think nursing will stop violence?

CLORIS: Of course! A baby plunked down with a bottle is just a thing. It doesn't have any connection with another human being for information or love or anything.

FW: You nursed your children, I presume?

CLORIS: Of course! And I have stayed very close to them.

FW: How many children do you have?

CLORIS: I have four sons: Adam, who's 21; Bryan, who's 20, George Jr., 18, and Morgan, 12. My daughter, Dinah, is 9. Three live at home, two have their own apartments.

FW: Back to your crusades: what else are you for or against?

CLORIS: I'm against smoking. It's abhorrent to me. I'll go to any lengths to make my point. I'll harp. Beg. Yell. Make deals. Bully. Anything. And I have a very high success rate. Two people stopped smoking just last night because of me.

FW: You seem to have a rather unusual relationship with George [producer George England, to whom Cloris has been married for 23 years]. Are you together or are you apart?

CLORIS: He keeps an apartment on the beach about ten miles from us. Sometimes he stays there and sometimes he stays at the house.

FW: How do you keep a marriage like this going?

CLORIS: I think it depends upon how you were set up as a child. We are what our parents made us, and they, in turn, were molded by their parents. Whatever our setup was as children, we keep fulfilling it in some way or other as adults. George and I have had to struggle with this, and we are two very different individuals.

FW: I'd still like to clear up one point: are you and George living apart or together?

GUARANTEED-TO-GROW ZOYSIA PLUGS SAVE TIME, WORK, MONEY! (Our Plugs Are the Lowest-Priced... the Finest Quality Famous Meyer Z-52 Zoysia Grass!)
by Horace Guthrie
Lakeland Nurseries

YOU INVEST IN A SURE THING with Zoysia Plugs! You're not spending money and time on a lawn only to see the seeds washed away by rain... or have the newly-established grass burned by the sun just when you're ready to enjoy it!

NEEDS LITTLE OR NO CARE! Best of all, you're not a "lawn slave." Zoysia stays a lush, rich green through droughts... chokes out crabgrass, needs less watering, about 2/3 less mowing! In other words, you're liberated—free to go on vacation, play golf... Summertime becomes funtime, not lawntime!

A TRUE PERENNIAL—PRACTICALLY INDESTRUCTIBLE! Now you can own a thick green hardy lawn, as luxurious as a deep-pile carpet. Merely place the living precut Zoysia Grass Plugs in the ground, and they'll flourish thicker and wider until they spread over your entire lawn. Yes, there's no need to rip out your existing grass! And once established, the Zoysia "lawn carpet" becomes so tough, so resilient that it withstands bookouts, lawn parties, children's play! Zoysia thrives even on sandy or clay soil. Only following sharp frost will its colors burn out, but it renews itself as ever in the spring! A true carefree perennial for every climate! Plant the 3-square-inch plugs 1-ft. apart. All instructions included.

NO-BEND STEP-ON PLUGGER FOR FAST, EASY DIGGING... Light but rugged 2-way Plugger operates from standing position, saves bending. Cuts away present growth as it digs hole for each plug. Fast, easy, efficient... anyone can use it.

LAKELAND'S DOUBLE GUARANTEE

1) All plants must arrive in perfect condition and 2) thrive after planting or you may return for replacement or refund of purchase price any time within 3 months.

HERE'S LITTLE OR NO SHINE! Best of all, you're not a "lawn show." Zoysia stays a lush, rich green throughout the winter... chokes out crabgrass, needs less watering, about 1/2 inch mowing! In other words, you're summertime - free to go on vacation, play golf! Summer time becomes anytime, not just anytime!

A TRUE PERENNIAL - PRACTICALLY INDestructible! Now you can own a thick green hardy lawn, as beautiful as a deep-pile carpet. Merely plug the living Zoysia Grass Plugs in the ground, and they'll flourish below and under until they spread over your entire lawn. Yes, there's no need to rip out your existing grass! And once established, the Zoysia "lawn carpet" becomes so tough, so resilient that it withstands footprints, lawn parties, children's play! Zoysia thrives even on sandy or clay soil. Only following heavy frost will its covers burn out, but it returns to itself as ever in the spring! A true carefree perennial for every climate! Plant the 3-square-inch plugs 1-ft. apart. All instructions included.

NO-STEP STEP-ON PLUGGER FOR FAST, EASY PLUGGING! Light but rugged 2-way Plugger operates from standing position, saves bending. Cuts every present growth as it digs hole for each plug. Fast, easy, efficient - anyone can use it.

LAKELAND'S DOUBLE GUARANTEE

- 1) All plants must arrive in perfect condition and 2) thrive after planting or you may return for replacement or refund of purchase price any time within 3 months.

AT LAST — the ingenious easy new physical fitness system, to help you: lose inches and pounds, improve the shape of your body, increase your sex appeal and feel and look years younger — and at the lowest price offered in the United States.

An Easy, Proven System That Takes Just Minutes A Day

It's easy — because you exercise while you lie on your back and do just 3 basic routines. And yet you exercise and tone every muscle in your arms, legs, abdomen, waist, back, neck and tummy — all the important, problem spots that you want to help keep trim, firm and beautiful.

We recommend you start at a moderate 2 to 3 minutes a day. You'll soon find that you want to increase this to 4, 5 and up to 15 minutes at a time. But, and this is important,

Important Note:

Dear Reader,
Don't be confused: The competitive exerciser models you've seen on T.V. and in magazines for $7.95 and $9.95 work on exactly the same principle and in the same way as ours. By a special purchase from a manufacturer, we've been able to break the price wide open and offer "The Figure Trimmer" at this amazing low price!

you do it at your own pace and you find it easier and easier to exercise for longer periods. The rhythmic movements you use are so simple that any child of 5 can master them in one minute, because all you do is lift and bend your arms and legs and the "Figure Trimmer" won't let you make a mistake. A simple, fully illustrated instruction booklet for the basic exercises is included.

Use "The Figure Trimmer" Anywhere

Yes, use it in your bedroom, living room, office, even while you're away from home (it's so compact, it folds to fit right in a handbag or attache case and weighs only a mere 10 ounces). You never have to miss your regular exercise... use it anywhere you can lie down. Simply attach to bedpost, doorknob, etc., and it's ready to use.

To Help Weight Loss...

We recommend a moderate and sensible temporary 15 to 20% reduction in your normal food intake (while still eating exactly the same kinds of delicious foods your normally eat and like). We don't send you any fad or crash diet, because your own doctor will tell you that these are harmful. We suggest you continue this moderation until you reach desired weight loss. After that, just eat normally and continue exercises to feel and look better and younger.

Ironclad Guarantee

Our guarantee is simple. You must within 14 days see and feel your body toned up and feeling great — and look and feel years younger, or simply return unit for a prompt and complete refund. Mail order coupon today; you'll be glad you did.

Cloris Leachman

Continued

CLORIS: Anyone who watches us knows! The answer is yes.

FW: Yes, what?

CLORIS: Together and apart.

FW: Do you think you are easy to live with?

CLORIS: I think I am extremely easy to live with, unless you have a definite opinion about the way things should be. I think a household should be easy and pleasant, everybody going in different directions, doing his thing and coming together to share.

FW: What was the most difficult time in your life?

CLORIS: Being separated from George for the first time with no knowledge of how to act, how to deal with it. There was such pain. You see, the problem is, we want people the way we want them, instead of the way they are.

FW: Is that the problem with you and George?

CLORIS: That's part of it. [Laughing] What I really want is to be firm and tell him what to do. If we'd all agree to it, it would be perfect.

FW: In the 23 years you've been married, how have you changed?

CLORIS: I've learned not to attach so much meaning to things.

FW: Such as?

CLORIS: Everything! Education, houses, social mores, haircuts. . .

FW: I heard you say once that you believe life is a game. What did you mean?

CLORIS: We define a game as something having rules. There are rules for singles, married couples, divorcees. My son says everything is a game, whether it's dressing in a suit to go off to the office, or putting on leotards to take a ballet lesson or whatever you play at. And if life itself is a game, the more serious we are at it, the more we leave others out because they can't take us that seriously.

FW: Does this attitude help you personally?

CLORIS: I feel very powerful in the sense that I am able to create something good out of anything, good or bad. Still, I don't always do exactly what I want to do because I play by others' rules, too. Like, a good girl and good wife don't play around. Maybe that's a lot of rot, but I still play by the rules.

FW: What about George?

CLORIS: He doesn't abide by any rules. We are highly individualistic people who adore each other but can't play each other's games because we were set up by early life and are committed. You see, there is no honor to a happy marriage or dishonor to an unhappy one. It all boils down to how everything was set up in the beginning and how two people match up.

FW: What kind of game do you play in relationship with your children?

CLORIS: I think women always want to be the good guys, and all too often that makes men the bad guys. The love affair between mother and children can lead to leaving the father out in the cold. That's what happened when I was a child, and I think that may be what's happening in my marriage.

FW: Were you close to your parents?

CLORIS: I could say a million words on my mother, all good. My father was a wonderful man, too. He did all that fathers did in those days—he paid the bills. Until I was 15, I went to the range every Saturday and became a sharpshooter, just to try to be a pal to him. I wanted his affection so much, but he never understood. . .

"They gave me money for acting, and I used to leave it in the refrigerator with the lettuce . . ."

FW: Is there any similarity between you and Phyllis [her TV personality]?

CLORIS: I'm full of energy and enthusiasm and I'm gregarious. Phyllis is, too. And I think Phyllis tries to make things cheery. That's one quality I see in myself, usually at dinner time. I've been trying for 23 years to have gracious dining, but there has never been a time when the dog didn't want out, the cat didn't want in, the kids would come in and want to talk, and they'd let in the animal I'd just let out. Turning off the phones hasn't helped either because someone invariably knocks on the door.

FW: You've won four Emmies and an Academy Award for Best Supporting Actress, but only now has your name become a household word. Do you think it's better to have success 30 years after you first got into show business, or would you have rather had it when you started at 17?

CLORIS: I think it's better to have it now, although I've always instinctively known I would be a success. But until I was 20, it was all fun, and I didn't realize money came with it. I went to New York and they gave me money for acting, and I used to leave it in the refrigerator with the lettuce, or in my coat pocket or lying on the seat in a cab. You see, I have this feeling about myself: all the work is inside of me. It's alive. Getting money for it and putting it in the bank—that's dead. The only thing I like to use money for is fixing up my house, and since it's an extension of myself, I'm really adding to me.

Does Your Antacid Upset Your Low-Salt Diet?

The leading antacid roll tablet may be giving you more than half your daily sodium allowance. Here's what to do!

If you're worried about salt in your diet—a case of heartburn or acid indigestion can present a real problem.

You should know that just five tablets of the leading roll antacid taken during the day would exceed more than half the allowance of sodium many doctors recommend for strict low-salt diets.

That's playing it pretty close. And that's why you ought to know about a tablet that absorbs more excess acid than the leading roll brand—yet contains far less sodium. Its name is Bisodol® Tablets. (Bisodol Powder does contain sodium bicarbonate for people not concerned with low-salt diets.)

Bisodol Tablets quickly relieve that miserable heartburn and acid indigestion, and it's good to know you can take them whenever you need them—without worrying about sodium.

Remember, Bisodol Tablets... are low in sodium—high in antacid power.

"stop scratching your head, dear - it looks horrible"

DANDRUFF! IT'S TIME SHE BEGAN USING A REAL SCALP MEDICATION IN DELIGHTFUL SHAMPOO FORM.

If your husband can't stand watching you scratching your scalp because the itching drives you up a wall - you may need a helpful scalp medication in shampoo form called Psorex.

Psorex is a medicated shampoo that helps remove the scales of simple dandruff with an effective medicated ingredient made for this problem. And Psorex also helps relieve the itching that can be caused by psoriasis and mild seborrhea. Start using medicated Psorex Shampoo today and keep using it regularly at least once or twice a week. You'll see how Psorex helps relieve the itching. For a free sample of Psorex send 50¢ to cover postage and handling to Dept. FWFS, Box 553, Union, New Jersey 07083.

Woman Can't Sleep Feels Irritable All Day

Then she found a tiny blue pill that helped her fall asleep more naturally, and wake up refreshed and alert.

She can't sleep... it's one of those occasional nights when simple nervous tension keeps her awake tossing and turning. Lack of sleep oftentimes causes irritability and the downright worn-out feeling. Fortunately, a little blue pill called Compoz - the special anti-tension sleep tablet - works to help you unwind the minor and temporary up-tight feelings, to help you get to sleep. This modern relaxant tablet helps you sleep more naturally. So don't suffer the weariness of another sleepless night needlessly. Get Compoz today.

Follow the directions carefully and see if Compoz doesn't help you. Compoz is not intended for serious or chronic conditions that need a doctor's attention. But for occasional use when that sleepless night occurs - tonight, tomorrow night, or whenever - it's a comfort to know that Compoz the special anti-tension sleep tablet, is there to help you. For a free trial package of Compoz send 50¢ to cover postage and handling to Department FWFC, Box 553, Union, New Jersey 07083.

"I Was Ashamed to Wear a Sleeveless Dress.

Lakeland's

"Hotel Giant" BLUEBERRIES

(Vaccinium corymbosum)

Who ever dreamed of home-grown blueberries that fruit almost the size of a quarter... and they taste even better than they look! Blueberries from select strains like these are often whisked to America's swank hotels and cuisines by air express... so they'll arrive fresh and at the peak of perfection. Now you can pick them even fresher... heap bowls with their delectable, juicy goodness... from handsome bushes right in your own garden. For combined size, firmness, flavor... these improved strains have no peer. Plump mouth-watering berries... so big indeed, that 15 to 18 berries heap a fruit dish! Make lip-smacking blueberry pies, jams... perfect for freezing, too.

Attractive As Ornaments Or Hedges

Pink buds appear early... followed by showers of dainty white bell-flowers in May. Almost evergreen... the dense glossy foliage turns scarlet in fall. Many gardeners mix them with other shrubbery; and what a thrill for youngsters to go berrying on their own grounds! We ship heavy, superior plants (well-branched) that often start bearing the very first season. You get a big bumper crop starting the 2nd year after planting... and they keep producing year in and year out.

Fresh Blueberries All Season Through
Plant blueberries in groups of 3 or more to insure cross-pollination and heavy fruiting. For a continuous crop all season long, we ship in groups of 3 plants... one early, one mid-season and one late-bearing. Hardy anywhere. Prefer neutral or acid soil or simply mix plenty of peat moss or humus into soil of planting hole. Or occasional feeding with Comar's Special Acid Plant Food and Soil Conditioner does the trick.

L127068E —Lakeland's All Season Blueberry Collection: 3 (one each Early, Mid-season and Late-bearing) only $7.99; 6 (2 each) for $13.99; 12 (4 each) for $25.00.

Once Planted — A LIFETIME JOY!

Plant Lakeland's SuperHardy Lavender along paths, borders... as colorful "dividers". Belongs in every rock garden... so graceful as dense low-spreading hedges too!

- Blooms Lavishly Starting This Summer
- Produces Regal, Blue-Violet Flowering Spires
- Captivating "Old English" Fragrance
- A True Perennial... Lovely Blossoms From June to Fall!
- Handsome Silver-Green Foliage
- Improved — Northern, Sub-Zero
- Also Use for Sweet-Scented Linens, Sachets

ENJOY THE SIGHT AND SWEET SMELL OF LAVENDER INDOORS TOO!

Try adding a few stately spires of Lavender to your flower arrangements... it looks every bit as good as it smells! Or, capture Lavender's legendary fragrance all winter long with this centuries-old custom. Dry out leaves and blossoms and fashion into sachets. Tuck them into linen closets or clothing for a fresh, summer scent all year 'round!

You'll love the hundreds and hundreds of dainty, fragrant Lavender blossoms that pop up on every plant! The royally-colored spires (about 12 inches long) are laden with heavenly beauty from June right on through the long blooming season and crown the bushy, silver-green foliage (about 1½ ft. high) with magnificent sweet-smelling violet-blue grandeur!

THRIVES IN SUN OR PART-SHADE

Wherever planted, the enticing "Old English" fragrance will waft to the far corners of your yard... drift through your windows, absolutely enchanting you for months on end! And our SuperHardy Lavender resists winter's ravages amazingly... thrives in sun or part shade too! We ship extra-heavy stock for stunning bloom the first season. For dense hedges, plant about 1½ ft. apart. Extremely easy-to-grow... once planted, it will become one of the treasures of your garden!

Good Old-Fashioned Brown Beef Stew

Homey Old-Fashioned Brown Beef Stew is an American classic.

One of a kind.

He is at home in a world few men ever see.

A world where wisdom earns more respect than physical strength.

He smokes for pleasure. He gets it from the blend of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos in Camel Filters.

Do you?

Turkish and Domestic Blend

OLD-FASHIONED BROWN BEEF STEW

- 3 lbs. boneless beef chuck, cut in 1½-inch cubes
- ½ cup all-purpose flour
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 3 tablespoons pure vegetable oil
- 1 qt. boiling water
- 1 onion, studded with 4 cloves
- 1 small bunch celery leaves
- 4 sprigs parsley
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 teaspoon thyme leaves
- 2½ tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- 1 lb. small white onions, peeled and quartered
- 1 lb. carrots, peeled and quartered
- 2 lbs. medium potatoes, peeled and quartered
- 2 medium white turnips, peeled and quartered
- 4 celery ribs, cut in 2-inch chunks
- ¼ cup cold water
- 1 lb. fresh mushrooms or 2 cans (6 to 8 oz. each) whole mushrooms
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine

1. Pat meat dry with paper towels. Toss beef cubes in flour mixed with salt. Reserve leftover flour mixture.
2. In a large, heavy 6- to 8-qt. Dutch oven heat oil until hot. Brown beef cubes, several at a time, over medium-high heat until well-browned on all sides. Remove pieces as they are done.
3. Add boiling water. Cook and stir to scrape drippings from bottom of pan.
4. Return beef to pan along with clove-studded onion, celery leaves, parsley, garlic, bay leaf, thyme and Worcestershire sauce. Stir to mix. Heat to boiling point. Reduce heat and simmer, covered, for 1½ hours.
5. Add onions and carrots; simmer, covered, for 20 minutes. Add potatoes, turnips and celery; simmer, covered, for 20 minutes or until tender.
6. Combine reserved flour with cold water. Slowly stir into stew. Cook and stir for 2 minutes.
7. Rinse, pat dry and halve mushrooms. In large skillet, melt butter. Add mushrooms and sauté for 2 minutes, stirring. Stir into stew. Serve stew steaming hot. Makes 8 servings

What's Smart: According to the American Meat Institute, there will be a record-high in beef production in 1976, which could mean lower beef prices. As we went to press, the average national price for bone-in chuck was $1.07 per lb., the average national price for boneless chuck, $1.50 per lb. Fresh celery, mushrooms and apples are plentiful now.

What in the World!

JACK NICHOLSON
Alias P. T. Barnum

What's Jack Nicholson, the star of "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," really like? Fellow actor and close friend Bruce Dern talking: "Jack loves style and grace. He's got to be in there with the big ones. He may tell you that he loves to live privately and is very reserved, but he's a totally public person. He's a great showman. He's a P. T. Barnum in his own element, and that's why he's a natural actor. Everything is out front and open. Of course, the real Jack Nicholson isn't out front because he'd never let you see that unless you got to know him really well. Jack comes from rough times. He lived on the bad side of the tracks until he was about 13, and then he somehow shook it off; and he's always tried to impress people with how intelligent he is, how quick he is and how he knows this and that person. Actually, he is as sharp a guy as I've ever known." From "Jack Nicholson: Face to Face," by Robert David Crane and Christopher Fryer (M. Evans, $5.95).

ROCKY MOUNTAIN'S BIG HIGH
Have ambulance, will travel

A real-life helicopter rescue program? Yes, and it operates out of St. Anthony Hospital in Denver. George Seaton, an ex-policeman who lost a leg in the line of duty, thought of it—and it works. Said Seaton: "Time is the biggest killer in accident cases. Police, firemen and ambulances often arrive too late to save a victim's life, particularly in this mountainous, isolated part of the country. We use mostly Vietnam vets to pilot the helicopters, and flight nurses are in charge of the patients. These women have had to make rescues by mountain climbing, diving into sub-zero lakes, and going into burning buildings." It's called "Flight for Life" and it might make a great TV drama.

LITTLE EMILY

"And I would be very generous in case we divorced..."

Moving is hazardous to your child's emotional health, according to leading child psychologists. With one out of every five families moving every year, more and more children are affected. And one of the unfortunate myths about relocation is that children should not be moved until school is out. As a result, 60 percent of the families who move do so between Memorial Day and Labor Day. But youngsters profit most from relocation during the school year because it allows the child to go directly from one social setting to another, said one expert. Since children feel the impact of moving most, try to include them in planning the move. Help your children to learn about the new area. Encourage them to exchange addresses with their friends. Let them decide how their new rooms are to be decorated and arranged. For more helpful facts and guidelines, send a stamped, self-addressed legal-size envelope to: "Moving and Children," Suite 806, 1117 North 19th Street, Arlington, Va. 22209.

ARMOUR'S ARMOURY
By Richard Armour

FRANKLY, I'M EMBARRASSED

My wife would like me to make some show
Of affection where others can see,
To hold her hand or to kiss her cheek
Or even to pat her knee.

It isn't enough that I show my love,
Or at least a little affection,
When we are at home and alone. Oh no,
She's eager for public inspection.

Some proof to her skeptical friends that I
Am hers, all hers, and I try to comply.

I have a digital alarm clock. Every morning my wife pokes me in the ribs with her finger.
—Robert Orben

During the cold war, a West Berlin newspaper published a letter from a disenchanted East Berlin resident: "Will trade all the luxuries of my lakeside villa for a hole in the wall."

What in the World?

JACK NICHOLSON
Alias P. T. Barnum

What's Jack Nicholson, the star of "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," really like? Fellow actor and close friend Bruce Dern talking: "Jack loves style and grace. He's got to be in there with the big ones. He may tell you that he loves to live privately and is very reserved, but he's a totally public person. He's a great showman. He's a P. T. Barnum in his own element, and that's why he's a natural actor. Everything is out front and open. Of course, the real Jack Nicholson isn't out front because he'd never let you see that unless you got to know him really well. Jack comes from rough times. He lived on the bad side of the tracks until he was about 13, and then he somehow shook it off; and he's always tried to impress people with how intelligent he is, how quick he is and how he knows this and that person. Actually, he is as sharp a guy as I've ever known." From "Jack Nicholson: Face to Face," by Robert David Crane and Christopher Fryer (M. Evans, $5.95).

ROCKY MOUNTAIN'S BIG HIGH
Have ambulance, will travel

A real-life helicopter rescue program? Yes, and it operates out of St. Anthony Hospital in Denver. George Seaton, an ex-policeman who lost a leg in the line of duty, thought of it—and it works. Said Seaton: "Time is the biggest killer in accident cases. Police, firemen and ambulances often arrive too late to save a victim's life, particularly in this mountainous, isolated part of the country. We use mostly Vietnam vets to pilot the helicopters, and flight nurses are in charge of the patients. These women have had to make rescues by mountain climbing, diving into sub-zero lakes, and going into burning buildings." It's called "Flight for Life" and it might make a great TV drama.

LITTLE EMILY

"And I would be very generous in case we divorced..."

Moving is hazardous to your child's emotional health, according to leading child psychologists. With one out of every five families moving every year, more and more children are affected. And one of the unfortunate myths about relocation is that children should not be moved until school is out. As a result, 60 percent of the families who move do so between Memorial Day and Labor Day. But youngsters profit most from relocation during the school year because it allows the child to go directly from one social setting to another, said one expert. Since children feel the impact of moving most, try to include them in planning the move. Help your children to learn about the new area. Encourage them to exchange addresses with their friends. Let them decide how their new rooms are to be decorated and arranged. For more helpful facts and guidelines, send a stamped, self-addressed, legal-size envelope to: "Moving and Children," Suite 300, 1117 North 19th Street, Arlington, Va. 22209.

ARMOUR'S ARMOURY
By Richard Armour

FRANKLY, I'M EMBARRASSED

My wife would like me to make some show
Of affection where others can see,
To hold her hand or to kiss her cheek
Or even to pat her knee.

It isn't enough that I show my love,
Or at least a little affection,
When we are at home and alone. Oh no,
She's eager for public inspection.

Some proof to her skeptical friends that I
Am hers, all hers, and I try to comply.

I have a digital alarm clock. Every morning my wife pokes me in the ribs with her finger.

—Robert Orben

During the cold war, a West Berlin newspaper published a letter from a disenchanted East Berlin resident: "Will trade all the luxuries of my lakeside villa for a hole in the wall."

—Samuel J. Stannard

On his examination paper, a boy wrote: A natural death is when you die by yourself without a doctor's help.
